

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT
OF THE
Board of Capitol Managers
OF THE
State of Colorado

Denver, Colorado, December 1, 1906.

To the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

In compliance with section 7 of an act of the General Assembly of the State of Colorado, entitled, "An Act to Provide for the Erection and Completion of a State Capitol Building at the City of Denver, and Creating a Board of Management and Supervision," approved April 1, 1889, the Board herewith respectfully presents the following report of its acts and doings for the years 1905 and 1906:

At the regular meeting of the Board of Capitol Managers, February 7, 1906, Mr. Mears moved, seconded by Mr. Orahoo, that

Whereas, The Secretary of the Board, Herman Lueders, has for some time been unable physically to perform the duties of the office, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Board, That Herman Lueders, being unable to perform the duties of the office of Secretary of this Board, that the said office be, and is hereby, declared vacant; and be it further

Resolved, That the Board do now proceed to the election of a Secretary to succeed said Herman Lueders.

And the motion was carried.

Mr. Mears then moved, seconded by Mr. Orahoo, that William K. Burchinell be appointed to fill the office of Secretary of the Board of Capitol Managers, declared vacant by the Board on account of Mr. Lueders' inability to fill it, and the motion was carried unanimously.

Also, on motion, Mr. Hughes was requested to prepare a complimentary resolution, recounting the long and faithful services rendered by Mr. Lueders to the State, and Mr. Hughes kindly consented to do so, as soon as practicable, and present the same to the Board for approval and entry on the record.

The resolutions, above referred to, were prepared by the Hon. C. J. Hughes, Jr., and presented to the Board of Capitol Managers at the meeting held December 19, 1906, and were read and adopted by a unanimous vote of the Board.

Whereas, Illness has terminated the relations of Herman Lueders with this Board as its Secretary, and it is deemed but a proper and deserved recognition of the long, faithful and efficient services of Mr. Lueders as its Secretary, that some record and expression of the Board's appreciation of his labors and services should be made; and

Whereas, Since the organization of the present Board and during the construction of the Capitol Building; from the foundation to its virtual completion, he was the Secretary of the Board, giving constant and unremitting attention to the discharge of his duties, and ever seeking honestly, skillfully and efficiently to secure economy in expenditures, the faithful discharge of contract obligations by those who were employed in the construction of the building, and from employes who were connected with the conduct, preservation and maintenance of the building and grounds, and being so situated that he was in a position where the failure to exercise good judgment and constant care might have been the source of loss to the State; and

Whereas, By his efforts, economy in expenditures and in purchases was secured; and efficient, honest, economical, and in every way commendable, administration insured;

Be it Resolved, That after this long period of faithful service this Board expresses its profound regret that ill health should render necessary the termination of his connection with the Board, and that it holds in high regard the character and work of Mr. Lueders, and that these resolutions be spread upon its records, as a permanent memorial thereof, and as a tribute to his character and his worth as a public servant. In the opinion of this Board he exhibited the best qualities of those who are called to public service, in devoting himself unselfishly to the discharge of important duties, with a desire solely to efficiently and honestly serve the State.

And be it further Resolved, That the Secretary of this Board transmit a properly attested copy of these resolutions to the family of Mr. Lueders.

At the Board meeting March 7th, 1906, Governor McDonald, Chairman, announced to the Board that he had accepted the resignation of Hon. Joseph A. Thatcher as a member of the Board of Capitol Managers, and that he had appointed Mr. Frederick J. Chamberlin a member of the Board, to fill the vacancy caused by said resignation.

At the next meeting of the Board, April 4th, 1906, the following resolution, offered by Mr. Orahood, was adopted and ordered to be placed on the record of the Board:

STATE OF COLORADO. }
BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS. }

Resolved, That the thanks of the Board be tendered to Hon. Joseph A. Thatcher for his long and faithful service as a member of the Board.

He was appointed and assumed the duties of the office October 7th, 1899, and continued until he tendered his resignation March 7th, 1906.

He was always present at the meetings, unless absent from the city, or business of great importance prevented. He attended to the business of the State in the same careful and painstaking manner he gave to his own affairs, honestly and uprightly.

As a token of our personal friendship and esteem, we place this resolution on our record.

THE DEPARTMENTS DEMAND MORE ROOM.

The Board desires to call attention to the crowded condition of the rooms and suggests the following relief. That, as the Capitol Building was designed and intended for offices and for the halls of the Legislature, and not for exhibits and storage; yet the State Historical Society with its attractive and valuable museum and its storage for newspapers and other publications of the State is occupying a valuable amount of space. At the present time, owing to the natural increase of the business of the departments in the Capitol Building, the offices are crowded to the limit; and many of the departments have been obliged to give up their rooms and office with other departments. These officials naturally feel that the rooms originally intended for their use should revert to them at the earliest date possible.

To do this all the exhibits of the Horticultural, Mineral, War Relics and State Historical Society must, and ought to, be removed from the building. The files of papers stored in the basement and the sub-basement belonging to the last named are a menace to the whole building in the case of fire, and the rooms occupied by that Society are dark and illy suited for properly displaying the magnificent collection in its possession.

The Board believes these exhibits are a great attraction to visitors and do great good in advertising the resources of the State and should be given a well lighted building in which to be displayed, and room to grow in size, and increase their usefulness.

For the foregoing reasons the Board asks your honorable body to provide a suitable home for them, and believes that provision should be made for these exhibits, and for the papers of the State Historical Society, in a fire-proof building in the vicinity of the State Capitol, but not on the Capitol grounds, which undoubtedly constitute, with the Capitol itself, the most magnificent property in the State of Colorado, and should ever be protected from the encroachment of other buildings.

The Board, therefore, respectfully asks your honorable body to consider the foregoing suggestions and expresses the hope that some action may be taken during the coming session of the Legislature authorizing the purchase of a suitable site and the erection thereon of an appropriate building.

Among the changes made to accommodate the officers in the Building may be mentioned the following:

The Dairy Commissioner, Mrs. Wright, found Room 14, Basement, too small to accommodate the increasing demands of her Department, and was allowed, temporarily, to occupy Rooms 17 and 18, Third floor.

Mr. Collett, Secretary for Home for the Friendless, could not longer be accommodated in Room 12, Basement, and was given temporary quarters in Room 19, Third floor.

Justice Steele moved from Rooms 5 and 8, Second floor, to Rooms 39 and 40, Third floor.

Boiler Inspector changed from Room 4, Basement, to Room 10, Basement.

Labor Commissioner changed from Room 10, Basement, to Room 14, Basement.

But the real difficulty is reached when the Legislature convenes, and demands the rooms for the use of Committees.

During the biennial period just closed (1905-1906)—and deserving special mention—is the placing of a life size portrait, on glass, of the "Pathfinder of the San Juan," the Hon. Otto Mears, in the window, in north side of Senate Chamber.

Also, portrait of Hon. Edward O. Wolcott, U. S. Senator, life size, on stained glass, and placed in the window opening in the Senate Chamber, in wall over the platform, and back of the desk of the President of the Senate.

Also, during the period mentioned, metallic vault fixtures have been placed in nearly all of the vaults of the building; a much needed improvement for both convenience and safety.

An electric flag was purchased for the dome of the Capitol and used first for decorating for the G. A. R. convention in 1905.

White oak storm doors were placed at the four main entrances to the building, and have saved enough in coal to warrant the expense incurred.

The corridors, rotundas, halls, vestibules and lavatories in Basement have been painted and decorated, and the doors re-finished throughout the entire Building.

The Fuller faucets that were in use throughout the building have been replaced by the Dougherty self-closing faucets, and resulted in a large decrease in the amount of water used in the Building.

ON THE CAPITOL GROUNDS.

The asphalt pavement at Grant and Fourteenth avenue corner has been relaid, and 1,000 feet of hose and two (2) up to date hose reels provided for use on grounds.

January 6th, 1906, Mr. Thatcher presented a communication to the Board, from the Society of Colonial Dames, Mrs. Mary E. Kountze, Chairman, asking privilege of presenting to the State (through this Board) a marble sun dial. On motion the request was granted and the sun dial ordered placed on grounds near Broadway. The sun dial is now in place, at the point indicated.

The G. A. R. Memorial Monument Board of Construction selected space in front of west entrance to the Capitol, and the selection was concurred in by the Board of Capitol Managers. The foundation for the monument has been completed.

The contract was let for changes in steps to Colfax entrance to Capitol and for new steps, November 9, 1905, in accordance with suggestions made to the Board by State Senator E. T. Taylor, at the Board meeting held February 1st, 1905, and the work completed in August, 1906.

The boilers and engines in the Building have been thoroughly examined, and reported, by the head engineer, to be in good condition, and insured in Hartford Steam Boiler Insurance Co.

All the suggestions of the head engineer for new cables, etc., for the elevators, to make them absolutely safe, have been carried out, and the elevators are insured in the Ocean Accident and Guarantee Company.

During the last two years offices have been carpeted and furniture supplied as follows:

The Supreme Court—Velvet carpet was laid in Rooms 39 and 40 and annex. Two robe cases; two large flags for decorating wall in rear of judges' desk and chairs; three oak tables and seven chairs were provided for supreme judges. The librarian's room was tinted and additional shelving furnished therein. Two double glass book cases and etched glass for door to stenographers' rooms were provided.

For Justice Bailey's chambers—One flat double desk, two chairs, one desk, one leather chair, rocker, one oak office table, one standing desk, one revolving book case.

For Justice Goddard's chambers—Three chairs, one rocker, one couch, one standing desk.

For Justice Campbell's chambers—Room decorated, carpets cleaned and re-laid.

For Justice Gabbert's chambers—Body Brussels carpet, decorating rooms, one oak revolving book case, one oak revolving chair.

Board of Equalization—Supplied with two (2) c. 11 units.

Bureau of Mines—Rooms decorated, carpets cleaned, linoleum laid, table and bases furnished.

Labor Commissioner—Room tinted, carpets cleaned.

Horticultural Department—One carpet, and Room 31 tinted.

Lastly, the placing of new window shades complete in Senate and House chambers and new carpets on the floors; also the revarnishing of the desks in both chambers and the upholstering and revarnishing of chairs in both chambers and committee rooms complete.

Total	$96,940.37

The Board of Capitol Managers, after mature consideration, ask and urge upon your Honorable body to make the appropriations asked for, being a total of $96,940.37.

All the amounts are necessary to improve the building and grounds as they should be improved in the growing State of Colorado.

For the years 1907-8 the Board of Capitol Managers ask a total appropriation, for maintenance, of $85,000.00, divided as follows:

An emergency appropriation of $15,000, and the balance later in the session.

The amount asked for will be needed to meet the naturally increasing demands on that fund.

REPORT
OF THE
Board of Capitol Managers
OF THE
STATE OF COLORADO

Denver, Colorado, December 1, 1904.

To the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

In compliance with Section 7 of an act of the General Assembly of the State of Colorado, entitled, "An Act to Provide for the Erection and Completion of a State Capitol Building at the City of Denver, and Creating a Board of Management and Supervision," approved April 1, 1889, the Board herewith respectfully presents the following report of its acts and doings for the years 1903 and 1904.

The Honorable Westbrook S. Decker, who became a member of the Board August 15, 1901, departed this life early in 1903, and in his place the Honorable Harper M. Orahood was appointed by the Chairman, January 28, 1904.

The last General Assembly having failed to appropriate funds for the completion of the Capitol, the Board regrets to report that, owing to this fact, no new work toward the completion of the building could be taken up and in respect to that work, it remains in the same condition as two years ago.

The contract for Fresco painting and decorating of all first story vestibules, the first, second and third story halls and corridors, the interior of the dome from the first floor to the top and the assembly chambers of the House and Senate was completed during August, 1903. The contracts on the iron stairway from the State Historical and Natural History Society Department in the basement to the rooms occupied by said department in the sub-basement, likewise; changing the former gravity heating system to a Webster vacuum system, all the foregoing work having been contracted for in 1902 and partly under construction as shown by the last biennial report.

INCREASING OFFICE SPACE AND CHANGING OFFICES OF DIFFERENT DEPARTMENTS.

Owing to the increased office work, and the various demands made upon the department of Public Instruction since 1894, as presented by Mrs. Helen L. Grenfell, Superintendent of Public Instruction, the two rooms used by this department since the Capitol was first occupied had become entirely inadequate for present use. After investigating the conditions, the Board, on December 30, 1902, resolved to add the space on the first floor, occupied at that time by the Adjutant General's Department, consisting of one large room, vault and two wardrobes, to the overcrowded department mentioned.

The Attorney General also requested additional office space, claiming that the manner in which his predecessors had conducted the business "was all confusion" and impracticable, because the attorneys attached to his department should have different rooms in which to work. To remedy this matter, the two rooms adjoining the Attorney General's Offices, which the Board of Charities and Corrections and the Board of Pardons then occupied, were assigned to the former department. These changes compelled the Board to provide new quarters for the Adjutant General's Department and the Board of Charities and Corrections, and as the only available space was in the basement, several other departments located there for years had to surrender part of their much needed space to make these changes possible.

The Adjutant General now occupies two rooms and vault, one taken from the Horticultural Department and the other from the Secretary of State.

The Board of Charities and Corrections received one large room formerly attached to the State Historical and Natural History Department, in order to give the Board two rooms, which was necessary. A hollow tile partition had to be built and an oak frame and door furnished.

The Board of Equalization, formerly with the Secretary of State Department, was also located permanently on the basement floor, likewise the Labor Bureau and the Dairy Commissioner. For the above changes, consisting of labor and material, the Board was compelled to incur an expense of about $1300.00 not contemplated by any previous appropriation. New carpets and furniture had also to be purchased; some of the former, being completely worn, necessitated new ones.

Public service in nearly every department having largely increased since the building was first occupied in 1894, it is now impossible to locate more than one office in rooms of which quite a number are already too small for those who were, what might be termed, the original tenants. In connection herewith the Board calls your attention to the fact, that since the time mentioned, different assemblies have created new Boards and commissions, all of which, under the authority and the instructions of the several legislatures, had to be provided with accommodations in the building which necessarily includes furniture, janitors, towel, ice, heat, light and frequently telephone service.

During the last session of the legislature there were two new departments created: One the Public Printing Department and the other The Colorado State Traveling Library Association.

The floor area of the different exhibits in the basement, consisting of the Mineral, Horticultural, Natural History, State Historical and War Relic department is about 10,000 square feet. The time is certainly not remote when all of the above departments together with the State Library on the third floor, will have to be removed from the building, and the space used for office purposes.

FURNISHING.

As no appropriation had been made by the 14th General Assembly for replacing old carpets and furniture, and supplying new furniture to departments when required, absolute necessities could only be considered in parts.

When the first appropriation of $100,000 for furnishing and fixtures for the new building in 1893 had been exhausted, the Board received and expended $10,000 additional during the last six years. This was expended in replacing carpets which had become worn and useless, and in purchasing new furniture in place of, and in addition to, some of that which had been acquired in Territorial days, but, owing to the increase in public business and the creation of new boards and commissions, had become inadequate. Part of the furniture obtained before the admission of the state is still doing service.

As to the replacing of old carpets, the necessity may be recognized in the fact of many having been in constant use since 1894, proving the evidence of preservation and destruction, largely in favor of the latter.

Of the above mentioned we refer to those in the following offices:

- Senate Chamber.
- House of Representatives.
- Legislative Committee rooms.
- Governor's Reception room.
- Secretary of State.
- Auditor.
- Treasurer.
- Health Department.
- Supreme Court.
- Court of Appeals.

Most of the carpets of these offices were laid in 1894, some a year or two later, and the time has now arrived when they must be recarpeted.

Through increase of business during the last two years, the Board has frequently been called upon to provide additional furnishings and fixtures, not contemplated in previous years; among the important are two sawed oak counters with drawers, shelvings, etc., one each for the Land and Engineer's Department. Another is at present nearly completed for the Secretary of State, to serve as cashier's counter in the flat tax collection room. Owing to the continual accumulation of books the capacity of book cases for the libraries must increase, also show cases for the different exhibits.

A great amount of casing and shelving for filing and storing public documents and other articles, too numerous to mention, have been constantly demanded within the last two years, and mostly made by the regularly employed carpenter and cabinet maker of the Board in the building. All material, hardware, etc., required for such purposes had to be purchased and was paid from Furnishing appropriation.

During the last two years the following officers have been supplied with new carpets, namely:

House and Senate Chambers, 100 yards for repairs.
Executive Department, business and private office.
Charities and Corrections.
Attorney General.
Adjutant General.
Board of Capitol Managers, room 18 (not carpeted before).
Superintendent of Public Instruction.
State Engineer's Department.
State Land Department.

New furniture furnished:

Legislative department: 100 chairs, 3 oak tables, 1 oak desk and chair for lieutenant governor's use, 1 oak desk and chair for speaker's use.

Attorney General: 10 arm chairs, 1 office chair, 1 rocker, 10 unit cases, 2 typewriter chairs.

Board of Equalization: 13 unit cases.

Court of Appeals: 28 unit cases.

Law Library: 21 book cases.

FIRE INSURANCE.

No insurance has ever been carried on building nor furniture since its occupancy, for the reason that it has been considered entirely fire-proof. The fact is that the material used, in its construction—granite and iron—dispels danger of any fire which may occur through carelessness. What must be considered combustible is the woodwork consisting of flooring, windows and doors, also furniture and carpets.

It is, however, unlikely, that in case of fire occurring in any one room that it would extend to others, considering the solid partition walls of nearly three feet masonry. Carpets and wood floors would most likely be ruined, but the consequences could reach no farther, because the floors rest on concrete, and beneath this is a terra-cotta fireproof tiling. Consequently, no accident on a great scale or one extending to many objects could be reasonably looked for. It must be admitted that there are inflammable substances in the building, such as the contents of the Law and State Libraries, on separate floors, also that part of the collections of the State Historical and Natural History Society, consisting of books, newspapers, pamphlets, maps, etc., also a large quantity of documents in charge of the Secretary of State, all stored in the sub-basement. The former is now specially protected, being connected with the main pipes from the engine room.

The Board, early last winter, met frequently in regard to the advisability of taking out insurance on the building and furniture, and proposals for rates from different companies were called for. February 11, a notice was submitted saying that the Board of Underwriters had a rate with $500,000 guaranteed insurance, of 40 per cent on the building, and the same rate on 75 per cent co-insurance on the contents.

The Board being without funds for payment of premium, reduced the above amount of $500,000 to $100,000, and asked for rates on the latter, which average as follows:

- 1 year, building and furniture, 60c per year.
- 3 years, building and furniture, $1.20 per year.
- 5 years, building and furniture, $1.80 per year.

These rates were not considered satisfactory, and March 7, the Board declined to take further action.

The architect had been previously instructed to examine and test all fire extinguishers on hand, also all hose, the latter having been furnished in May, 1894; also to investigate the condition of the electric wiring system, and report as early as possible, with such suggestions for increased safety as he might deem necessary. The condition of the material of a certain extinguisher, consisting of a dry material, was found useless, but the I. X. L. chemicals were satisfactory. All rubber linen hose received ten years ago proved to be entirely worthless and unserviceable.

The new hose now provided is in 100 feet lengths, 400 feet at different points on each floor, and is the best high grade double heat, 2-inch I. X. L. linen hose, supplied with new brass nozzles 20 inches long, and cocks in the large end of each; also Nuhning's latest underwriters reels, with capacity for 100 feet of hose each. Water is at all times running in the main fire line throughout the building.

The wiring system was found to be in excellent condition, and such parts as were considered doubtful were encased in flexible duck. The covering of the attic, consisting of wood roof joists and sheeting, received several coats of asbestos paint in order to render it fireproof.

The object of the foregoing statement is to call your attention to the ways and means provided in case of accident, which might occur, and by which it is expected to diminish the chances or consequences.

The question of placing any insurance on the building and its contents is respectfully referred to your honorable body. Should it be considered to place insurance on the building and furniture, your attention is directed to the necessity of funds.

COAL.

At the time when the coal mine trouble commenced the Board had contracted with Mr. William E. Russell to furnish Northern Lignite Coal for use of the building for the term of six months, with the privilege of one year, at the option of the Board, at the rate of $2.65 per ton, delivered.

When the price of coal was raised by the mine owners, the contractor increased the contract rate, and four months before its expiration, was compelled to discontinue furnishing entirely, the mine being closed.

The Board in this extremity was compelled to purchase coal in open market, and since the regular contract was surrendered, has been using Northern Lignite Coal at $2.90 per ton.

IMPROVEMENTS.

OF

STREETS SURROUNDING CAPITOL GROUNDS.

A statement of the special assessments for improvements of streets surrounding the Capitol grounds performed by the City of Denver since 1894, was submitted to this Board by the Board of Public Works, April 4, 1903, two days before the adjournment of the last General Assembly.

Honorable Oscar Reuter, representing said Board, appeared before the Finance Committee of the Senate, on the above day.

asking for an appropriation for the amount due the city, but owing to the short time before the close of the session, the matter could not be considered.

In view of the fact that the different improvements had become absolute necessities and that the work was executed, the Board desires to state that it has never had sufficient funds to pay the entire cost of the same. Also being without power to incur an indebtedness of this kind, nor to pledge the credit of the state, this Board, however, did agree on August 13, 1898, with the Board of Public Works, that that portion of Colfax Avenue along the frontage of the Capitol grounds, between Broadway and Grant Avenue, should be paved and curbed, and that this Board would recommend the passage of an appropriation to cover the indebtedness, conditioned that the work should be done under the several contracts of the city for grading, curbing and paving the streets mentioned.

The entire improvements as shown by the detailed statement received at this office April 4, 1903, consisted of the following:

GRADING AND CURBING 14TH AVENUE.

Capitol Hill grading and curbing District No. 1; paving
Grant Avenue from 14th Avenue to Colfax Avenue..$	589.54
Grant Avenue Improvement District No. 1.....	2,104.46
Paving Broadway in Paving District No. 2.....	5,465.77
Paving Colfax Avenue in Paving District No. 1.....	6,104.98
Storm Sewer, Broadway Storm Sewer District No. 1....	2,974.24
	17,238.99
Less amount appropriated and paid	8,170.75
	<hr/>
Balance	9,068.24
In addition the State is charged with interest to July 1,
1903	3,664.30
Total balance claimed	$12,732.54

At a meeting of this Board held August 5, 1903, authorizing the payment of $8,170.75, the appropriation then available for part of paving on Colfax Avenue and Broadway including grading and curbing 14th Avenue, it was resolved that the amount should apply on the principal and that no interest should be allowed on the balance due the city.

The Board respectfully recommends the passage of an appropriation for the settlement of indebtedness as shown by the above statement, leaving the question of interest to the decision of your honorable body.

TELEPHONES.

Changes in the location of several departments, the requirements of new Boards created and the increased public business, in general, made it necessary to provide additional telephone service during the last two years.

After a thorough examination, the Board realized that something had to be done to relieve the condition, which compelled many officials without instruments to receive and answer calls in offices provided with such, thereby causing delays, loss of time, confusion, dissatisfaction and many annoyances. In order to temporarily remedy the matter, the Board added two regular instruments, at $120 per annum$240.00
Also ten extensions at $24.00 per annum.....240.00

to those in use, making the total amount for annual rentals at present$2,088.00

The Board has, during the last two years, considered the advisability of changing the present system to a private branch exchange, which would bring the service to a point of efficiency which it has never known. With this object in view, the Colorado Telephone Company, at the request of the Board, has submitted several propositions for the establishment of a branch exchange in the Capitol, by which the State would get a switchboard located convenient to the present wiring, and hire operators. The last proposal, dated November 23, 1904, shows the following items of cost of the new system:

Switchboard, per annum.....$	36.00
Switchboard telephone, per annum.....	12.00
Ringin circuit, per annum.....	36.00
Trunks from private branch exchange, switchboard to central office, free 244.1 calls per day, 300 business days in a year, 73,230, at 2 cents each	1,464.60

29 stations, at $12.00 per annum.....	384.00
2 operators, 1 at $40.00, and 1 at $35.00 per month	900.00
	2,796.60
Less amount paid	2,088.00

The above proposition makes a rate of only $12.00 per annum (which, of course, does not include calls) for a station, at which rate the Board could afford to have more telephones, if required, without increasing the rental very materially. Such additional telephones at $1.00 per month each would give the employes who have them unlimited service in the building, and incoming calls free from the public.

The company will undertake to furnish all the trunks free of charge (receiving its revenue on outgoing calls at two cents each), and it is, therefore, up to the company to give the State sufficient facilities in the way of trunks to prevent busy calls. The company will purchase and install a switchboard and install the wires.

The calls estimated above were based on a traffic record kept by the operating department of the company for six days, from June 13 to June 18, inclusive.

In assuming that two operators would be sufficient to take care of the operating of the building, whose services would be wanted from 8 a. m. to 10:30 p. m., making 14½ hours per day.

The company agrees to be generous in the number of trunks which it furnishes private branch exchanges, and also guarantees that it will practically do away with all complaints of the public that the State telephones are always busy.

UNFINISHED WORK.

As stated before, owing to the fact that no appropriation was made by the last General Assembly to complete the building, no contract could be let for that purpose during the period covered by this report.

The following unfinished work consists of:—

1. Statuary on dome.
2. Gilding of dome.
3. Painting metal, roof line to dome.

OF THE
BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS
OF THE
STATE OF COLORADO.

Denver, Colorado, December 1, 1902.

To the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

In accordance with Section 7 of an act of the General Assembly of the State of Colorado, entitled "An act to provide for the erection and completion of a State Capitol building at the city of Denver, and creating a board of management and supervision," approved April 1st, 1889, the Board of Capitol Managers respectfully presents the following report of its transactions for the fiscal years of 1901 and 1902.

George W. Baxter having resigned as one of the managers, the chairman notified the Board, August 15, 1901, that he had appointed the Honorable Westbrook S. Decker to fill the vacancy.

Outside of the routine business of the Board, the following is a condensed statement of the important transactions.

BIDS.

All labor and material exceeding in amount the sum of five hundred dollars has been advertised and let by contract, copies of which are on file in the office of the Board of Capitol Managers.

Installing a direct connected 100-kilowatt lighting unit:

The Hendrie & Bolthoff Mfg. & Sup. Co...	$6,323.00
Gilbert, Wilkes & Co.....	5,144.00
The Mountain Electric Co.....	5,890.00
Skinner & Sethman.....	5,782.00
The Modern Machinery & Electrical Co....	4,993.00

The bid of the latter firm was accepted.

The plant comprises one 16x16 McEwen automatic engine, direct connected to one 100-kilowatt Thompson-Ryan generator, with a double pole, single throw, 1,200-ampere switch, including all other appurtenances. This plant, in addition to that installed in 1896, is now ample to furnish all the light ever required for use of the building and grounds.

Readjusting the grounds to conform to the present grade changed by the Board of Public Works in 1898.

After advertising for ten days in the Rocky Mountain News and Denver Republican for bids for the above work, during May, 1901, to which no response was received, the Colorado Paving Company, late contractor for paving the grounds, on May 23, submitted the following proposition:

"As to repairs on pavement under our bonds expiring June 18, and taking up and relaying all the pavement necessary in the walks and drives to conform to the present grade at Lincoln avenue and Sherman avenue entrances to the grounds; also to reset the curb, where necessary, also to grade the walk and lawn to conform to new grade, we agree to perform and complete all of said work by July 1, 1901, free of charge to the State.

"It is mutually agreed that the above work, when completed, shall be in full performance and satisfaction of the company's bond and guaranty therefor, as originally contracted for."

Considering that the original estimate for adjusting grounds was $4,000, and the uncertain manner in which the contractors might carry out their guaranty, the Board accepted the offer, and the contractors performed the work in compliance with the above proposition.

Cleaning the entire exterior granite walls and the caulking and painting of all joints:

James T. Anson & Son.....	$2,800.00
F. B. Becker & Co.....	2,750.00
J. A. Anderson.....	2,774.00
Varnum & Millard.....	3,500.00

Of these the last three bids were prepared after the date called for in the advertisement had expired, and therefore not considered. The contract was awarded to James T. Anson & Son.

Painting the exterior of the dome from the slate roof to the copper covering of the bell of the dome:

George J. Murphy.....	$1,400.00
The Nielson Wall Paper Co.....	1,000.00
The Reitze Wall Paper & Paint Co.....	1,250.00
J. B. Griffith.....	990.00
The C. A. Treat Wall Paper Co.....	1,500.00
A. F. Nye.....	1,150.00
E. J. Manuel & Co.....	1,500.00

Cleaning, burnishing, lacquering and varnishing the copper covering of the bell and lantern of dome:

The Nielson Wall Paper Co.....	$ 700.00
Jno. O. Lee & Co.....	939.00
The Reitze Wall Paper & Paint Co.....	1,650.00
The C. A. Treat Wall Paper Co.....	850.00
A. F. Nye.....	1,150.00
E. J. Manuel & Co.....	1,500.00

The Board having no assurance that the different preparations recommended for the lacquering and varnishing of the copper covering of the bell of the dome would prove practicable and durable, it was decided to prepare a number of metal sheets with different kinds of bronze paint and lacquer and expose them to the atmosphere on the outside of the dome, to test their efficiency. These sheets were left for six months in their position, and upon examination at the expiration of that time Architect Edbrooke reported that the different appliances were not durable, and recommended that no other material than gold leaf should be used, which, although more expensive at first, is the only substance which will last for years, give a much better appearance, being more in harmony with the general color of the building, and lastly be a saving to the State. The Board has received many communications on the same subject, all recommending the gilding of the dome.

Professor Charles M. Carter of Denver, who expresses his hearty and enthusiastic approval of the proposition, says: "That for many years he observed the dome of the Boston capitol thus treated, and is sure that it was always a source of satisfaction to the inhabitants, for, instead of becoming an eyesore, it presented

OF THE
BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS
OF THE
STATE OF COLORADO.

Denver, Colorado, December 1, 1900.

To the General Assembly of the State of Colorado :

In accordance with section 7 of an act of the general assembly of the state of Colorado, entitled "An act to provide for the erection and completion of a state capitol building at the city of Denver, and creating a board of management and supervision," the Board of Capitol Managers respectfully presents the following report of its transactions since December 1, 1898, the date of its last report.

Since then the board has mourned the loss of two of its members by death—ex-Governor Job A. Cooper and the Hon. George Tritch. It was during the former's term as chief executive that the act of 1889 was passed changing the material for the construction of the building from sandstone to granite. Governor Cooper became a member of the board during his administration as ex officio chairman, and subsequently served, with the exception of two years, up to the time of his death. On the 4th of July, 1890, during the ceremony of the laying of the corner stone, he delivered the address of the board, and always took a deep interest in the erection and management of the building.

The Hon. George Tritch became a member, succeeding former Governor John L. Routt, June 1, 1897. Although only two years a member of the board, his counsel and advice, as well as close attention to details, made his services of great value to the board and state.

To fill these vacancies in the board, the chairman appointed George W. Baxter and Joseph A. Thatcher, respectively.

Outside of the routine business of the board, the following is a synopsis of the important transactions, grouped under appropriate headings:

Finishing interior of dome, first and second floors.

Changing stairways from wood to iron and marble.

Vitreous tile floors, room 12, law library, and the entire floor space of the state library.

16 circular windows above third story of dome.

10 bronze metal doors to entrances, first floor.

3 marble and metal bulletin boards.

Plans and specifications for the above work, submitted by Architect Edbrooke, having been adopted May 30, 1899, and bids called for after advertising in the four Denver dailies, the Engineering News, New York, and American Contractor, Chicago, the board on July 15 proceeded to open the following proposals:

The shelf or nosing at the top of the panel work, the cove under it, and the treads for the four stairways from the second to the third floor, of McMullins' gray Tennessee.

For treads and risers for stairway from basement to second story, of Italian marble.

There are ten pairs of bronze doors for the main entrances of the first floor, the material used being what is known as statuary bronze, oxydized finish, composed of 90 per cent. copper, 7 per cent. tin and 3 per cent. zinc.

The other metal work in dome rotunda is solid aluminum bronze, the same as used for balusters and rails.

The sixteen circular windows for the openings above the third story of the dome are four feet four inches in diameter, and filled with the best stained ornamental leaded glass and painted. Each window has a life-sized portrait of a prominent Colorado pioneer or citizen. The border is six inches wide, with columbine flower wreath upon each side running from the name of each subject at the bottom.

The following portraits appear on the windows: William Gilpin, John Evans, N. P. Hill, Benjamin H. Eaton, Casimero Barela, Bela M. Hughes, William N. Byers, William J. Palmer, James W. Denver, R. G. Buckingham, Alexander Majors, John L. Dyer, Frances Jacobs, Kit Carson, Jim Baker, Ouray.

The bid of the latter firm was accepted November 30, 1900.

ARTESIAN WELL.

The board regrets to state that Contractor John C. Swan did not succeed in completing his contract in sinking the well to furnish artesian water for the building, work upon which was commenced in September, 1898, and abandoned in November.

In January, 1899, Messrs. W. R. Adams and Harry W. Lee, of Greeley, the sureties of Mr. Swan, notified the board that they had purchased all the machinery and material from Mr. Swan, and requested that the present location of the well be abandoned and work recommenced in a new place, which was granted. After working for several months it was again discontinued, owing to the fact that a part of a drill becoming lodged in a rocky formation prevented further progress.

The board, believing that further attempts to accomplish the result desired under this contract would result in failure, annulled the contract and perfected a settlement with the sureties, by which all material on hand, consisting of pipe and casing, was turned over to the board, amounting in value at schedule rate to $490.90, and further reimbursing the board in the sum of $329.90, the amount advanced on the contract being $820.80, thereby relieving the state of any pecuniary loss in connection with this contract.

In the opinion of the board it is deemed advisable to again proceed with this work, for which the material on hand could all be utilized.

SMOKELESS FURNACES.

November 17, 1899, the board accepted a proposition from the Doyle Furnace Company to place two of its furnaces on trial for sixty days, with the agreement that if, at the conclusion of the test, they failed to be acceptable, they would be removed and the plant restored to its former condition free of expense. Should the board accept the furnaces, two more were to be provided at a total cost of $4,000 and a percentage of any saving in fuel for a stipulated time.

After testing, the furnaces proved a success as smoke consumers, but owing to some difficulties presented by the position and construction of the plant, did not show satisfactory results as to economy, and they were removed as agreed.

In order to comply with ordinance No. 28 of the city of Denver, entitled "A bill regulating the emission of smoke from chimneys," the board on June 17, 1900, resolved to advertise for bids on four furnaces, and received the following:

The Hawley Down Draft Furnace Company,
Chicago, Ill.....	$3,400.00
Fred Wild, Denver.....	1,500.00
C. J. Reilly, Denver.....	1,320.00
The Wilkinson Mfg. Company, Bridgeport, Pa..	2,600.00

None of the bidders having any of the furnaces represented in this city, except Mr. Wild, the board agreed with the latter to place two of his furnaces on trial for sixty days, and to remove them at the expiration of the term if results were not as guaranteed, no expense to be incurred by the state.

These furnaces have now been accepted, and two more have been placed in the building, the tests proving them to be successful smoke preventers. As to the amount of economy in fuel the board is at present unable to render an opinion.

ASPHALT PAVING.

With reference to the defective condition of the asphalt walks and drives of the grounds, with the exception of Lincoln avenue from Colfax to Fourteenth avenue, the board, during the last two years, has endeavored to prevail upon the contractor, the Colorado Paving Company, to comply with the terms of its bonds of June 18, 1896, guaranteeing for a period of five years to maintain said work and make all necessary repairs during that time, without additional charge to the state, it being understood and agreed that the guarantee should cover all repairs growing out of certain specified causes and extending to the whole body of the pavement, base as well as wearing surface, even to the total reconstruction of the whole body of the pavement.

After some slight experimenting by the contractor during 1897 and 1898 on certain parts of the grounds, all of which proved ineffective, the board, June, 1899, nothing further having been done by the company, requested it to carry out the terms of the agreement of 1896.

Receiving no reply, the board, July 14, notified the sureties that, unless the contractor complied with the terms of the guaranty bonds, the board would proceed with the necessary work, charging the cost to the company.

July 26, Mr. F. P. Caughlin, secretary of the company, appeared before the board, stating that the contractor would comply with the demands and make the necessary repairs.

The board contended that the terms of the contract should be complied with without further delay, and that the work should be completed by September 15, which was accepted by the contractor.

At the expiration of that time, however, nothing had been done, and the fall and winter passed.

Early in the spring of 1900 the chairman called the board's attention to the fact that the guaranty bonds of the company for reconstructing or repairing the drives and walks would expire June 18, 1901, and in order to compel said company, as contractor, to carry out the obligation of its bonds, it would become necessary to readjust the grounds, pavement and lawn, in conformity to the present grade, changed by the board of public works in 1898, before paving Colfax avenue, from the grade established in 1895, as per certificate of survey No. 6014, issued by the city of Denver; that this work should not be delayed until too late in the season, for the reason that a number of trees would have to be taken up; that this board has plan and specifications with a proposition from the Denver Paving Company to perform said work at a cost of $3,929.40, not including the expense of removing the grass and trees from the line of work before excavating and filling could commence, and replacing of the same, which work could be performed by the lawn force without additional expense; that the Twelfth General Assembly had deducted from the amount assessed against the state capitol grounds for the paving of Broadway and Colfax avenue the above amount of $3,929.40, but had failed to reappropriate said amount, as requested, to provide the board with funds to carry out said work; that according to the secretary's statement, after discharging all obligations due contractors for work let and under construction in the building, there remained an unexpended balance sufficient to pay for said work, and the chairman suggests that immediate action be taken by the board in this matter.

Mr. Caughlin, secretary of the company, being present, stated that the work of readjusting certain parts of the walks and drives could be done at once and completed within thirty days, should the board accept the proposition.

Replying to the question, if the company would, after completing said work, immediately proceed to carry out its obligations of the guaranty bonds, or if it maintained that certain parts of the repairs should not be done again, Mr. Caughlin replied that the original work had not been performed as the contractor had suggested, referring to the thickness of the wearing surface.

Upon examining the specifications it was found that the contract was based on a net thickness of two-inch wearing surface for drives and one inch for walks, after the concrete had received its ultimate compression, which agreement had been accepted by the contractor.

In a letter dated May 11, the contractor stated that the company was ready to proceed with the adjustment of the drives and walks in accordance with its proposition of October 28, 1898.

As to the contractor's proposition in regard to repairing the asphalt surface laid under contract of June 1, 1896, the company claimed that the work was performed exactly in accordance with the specifications, and that the contract had been carried out fully. Referring to the maintenance of said work, the contractor considered the pavements as serviceable and as complete for use as when accepted, and that, as to cracks and defects caused by settling of newly made ground, or other causes beyond the control of the contractor, the latter considered that the company is under no obligations to move and reconstruct said work, as under the specifications and natural conditions of the grounds, any repairs or attempted restoration were considered impracticable.

In the opinion of the company the specifications should be amended and changed to prevent cracks in the wearing surface, in accordance with its protest when signing the contract.

May 18 the board resolved to give the contractor five days' further notice, under the hand of the chairman, to carry out the provisions of contract and bonds. This notice was entirely ignored by the company, and the work of readjusting the drives and walks has not been performed; neither have any repairs been made.

In order to enforce the terms of the guaranty bonds, which, as stated, expire June 18, 1901, the board sees no other alternative than to proceed against the contractor by legal process; and summary action should be taken by the legislature to make an appropriation to enable the board to carry out the alterations required by the change in the grades on Lincoln and Sherman avenues.

GRADING AND CURBING ALONG THE FRONTAGE OF CAPITOL GROUNDS.

Relative to certain work on Fourteenth avenue and Grant avenue, along the capitol grounds, required under the contract for the Capitol Hill grading and curbing district No. 1, during 1899, the board, November 24, on the application of the board of public works, adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That that portion of Fourteenth avenue from Broadway to Grant avenue, and Grant avenue from Fourteenth to Colfax avenue, along the frontage of the capitol grounds, embraced in the Capitol Hill grading and curbing district No. 1, should be graded, and the curbing on the west side of Grant avenue, from Fourteenth avenue to Colfax avenue, reset to conform to the roadway width fixed by ordinance, and that the total cost of curbing and one-half of the grading included in said work should be borne by the state of Colorado; but whereas the Board of Capitol Managers have no funds at their disposal at the present time to pay the cost for this work, and they have not the power to incur an indebtedness for the same or to pledge the credit of the state, but, however, if the board of public works will have this work done in connection with the other work now being done under the plans, prices and contract for the other work on the avenues, this board will present to the next general assembly, in what shall be the best manner so to do, a statement that this work was done with the approval of the Board of Capitol Managers, and will recommend and use its best influence to secure the passage of an appropriation by the legislature to cover the cost of the work as aforesaid, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the board of public works.

In accordance with the foregoing resolution, the board of public works performed the work as stated, and the amount therefor, $589.54, is justly due the city of Denver, and we urge and recommend that the Thirteenth General Assembly make the required appropriation to pay this indebtedness.

MONUMENT FOR CAPITOL GROUNDS TO BE ERECTED BY THE SONS OF THE REVOLUTION.

July 25, 1899, the Society of the Sons of the Revolution in this state informed the board that they desired to commemorate the valor and patriotism of the Colorado volunteer in the Spanish-American war by the erection of a permanent and enduring monument in granite and bronze, and requested the use of the circle of ground at the west front of the capitol, now occupied by the flag pole erected by the society, as the site for such monument.

At a meeting of the board held July 26 the request was granted and the following resolution adopted:

Be it resolved by the Board of Capitol Managers of Denver, Colorado, That permission is hereby given to the Society of the Sons of the Revolution of the state of Colorado to erect a monument, under the supervision of this board, in the circle of ground in front of the state house now occupied by a flag pole erected by said society; this permission being given upon the condition that said society shall submit to this board for its consideration and approval, a design of such monument as may be accepted by said society, and said board shall have supervision of the work in connection with its erection, and that on the completion of the work the said society shall deliver over to said board, or to such other representatives of the state as shall then have in charge said ground, said monument, so that said ground shall be at all times under the control and in the possession of the state.

CARTER COLLECTION.

At the request of the Colorado Museum and Historical Association, the board, June 11, 1900, permitted the storing of the Carter collection in the south corridor of the basement, the same to remain at the pleasure of the board, provided no damage is done to the building, the passages not obstructed, and all expenses paid by the association. This was granted for the reason that the association was unable to secure any other fire-proof building.

REPAIRS, ETC.

Aside from the ordinary repairs on the steam and electric plants, caused mostly by wear, the former having been in use for nearly seven years, as well as repairs on elevators, etc., the board was obliged to expend a considerable amount for other contingencies, which had to be promptly met, to prevent greater damage.

Owing to the settling of the arches and walls of the coal tunnel and receiving vault, between Fourteenth avenue and the boiler room, caused by rain and snow, it became necessary to remove and relay the concrete and asphalt surface, in order to enable the workmen to repair the damage. The entire stone walk around the building, having also settled from like causes, had to be taken up, the ground filled in and the flagging relaid. All outside stairs to building and on grounds had to be pointed.

The partition walls between boilers had to be removed and rebuilt with new material, they being weakened by springing of the steel frame work.

MISCELLANEOUS, ETC.

In addition to the work let by contracts, the following improvements were made.

A large space in the sub-basement has been provided with cement floors, partitioned, wired, and shelving erected, for use of the State Historical and Natural History Society for storing and filing books, pamphlets, newspapers and other collections for which there is no space in the museum on basement floor. Room 12 on said floor was set apart for a herbarium collected in Colorado by Professor E. Bethel, director of the botanical section of the Natural History Society, to be donated to the state, but which has not yet been utilized for this purpose. In the meantime, the curator is exhibiting casts of prehistoric stone implements, presented by the Smithsonian Institute, and other collections, for which there is no space in the other rooms, set apart for the historical society.

The board also supplied this department with 200 bird stands.

A metal canopy was placed above the third floor at the bottom of the lantern above the dome, to close the opening.

An oak partition was placed in the attorney general's office, and counter furnished for land office.

The state library received six book cases and a newspaper cabinet. Board of Charities and Correction, one oak file case. Executive offices, a Globe record case and one oak office table. State board of health, one typewriter table, one unit D. F. file case, one oak file case and shelving for vault. Secretary of state's office, two record and one stamp case; also additional shelving cases and drawers for vault. Horticultural department, a showcase and table. Adjutant general's office, one oak flag case.

Walls and ceilings in law and state libraries, and those of the supreme court room, have been tinted, and in the latter they were also decorated. Auditor's private office has been finished in oil.

New carpets were laid in the following offices: Secretary of state, general office; Judge Bissell, chambers; adjutant general, five office rooms; auditor, private office.

Nearly all the other departments, including the legislative, will require new carpets within the next biennial term.

For use of the grounds thirty-six additional iron settees were purchased.

During the past year no hose for sprinkling has been bought, but for the next season 2,400 feet will be required.

The elm trees along Colfax avenue and Fourteenth avenue are all in a thrifty condition, but borers have made their appearance in the ash trees along Grant avenue and Broad.

BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS, COLORADO.

way. The board has taken precautions to prevent struction of the ash trees, but would not be surpris belonging to that specie would decay, in which eve; other kind of shade trees should be planted.

By an explosion in the vault of the horticultural depart- ment, caused by gas not being turned off, a number of large windows and door lights were destroyed and the woodwork damaged to the extent of $137.67. Since this occurrence no gas is permitted to be used in the vaults of any department.

As a precaution against the destruction of records, etc., by fire in vaults, the board purchased and distributed ten fire extinguishers in different offices.

Under the act which requires the board to maintain and support the buildings and grounds, there is a constant demand for fixtures, repairs of furniture, machinery, etc., that the board is compelled to meet.

Owing to the growth of the several exhibits there is an increased demand for showcases and fixtures each year, which should be considered by the general assembly. With the limited appropriation the board has not been able to grant the furniture requisitions for any considerable amount during the last two years.

MARBLE WORK.

In previous reports the board was compelled to call your attention to the unsatisfactory progress of this work, commenced in 1894, but is now able to state that all contracts have been completed and accepted.

The original contract for wainscoting the basement called for the use of Beulah marble. For this was substituted Vermont, for dadoes, with Beulah base and cap, the height reduced from five to four feet, and $3,500 deducted from contract price. The change in material was made to produce more light, Beulah marble being considered too dark for the location.

Work in niches and sills was also simplified and $1,970 deducted therefor.

The entire amount expended for marble work is as follows:

The Denver Onyx and Marble Mfg. Co.....	$149,028.37
Charles McCabe & Co.....	550.00
Frederick P. Bagley & Co.....	8,725.00

UNFINISHED WORK, ETC.

Referring to the unfinished work upon the building, as set forth in our last biennial report, we are pleased to state that, with the exception of the dome statuary and metal floor for top story of the dome, all work has been completed.

The placing of the dome statuary has not been undertaken for the reason the board considered the completion of the other parts of greater importance. The practical was given the preference over what is considered the mere final finishings.

The necessity of having models and designs for the statuary, harmonizing in appointment and artistic finish, is a matter of such importance as to demand due care and consideration before beginning active work, as required by the original plans and specifications.

The floor of the sub-basement, with the exception of that portion assigned for the use of the State Historical and Natural History Society and the dynamo room, remains in an unfinished condition. This part should have a cemented floor, to be utilized for exhibit or storage purposes by such departments that may require more space.

The interior walls of halls, corridors and dome rotunda were completed about six years ago with a rough sand finish, as required by the original specifications, preliminary to receiving a fresco finish.

They are now in such a soiled and blackened condition, and it being impossible to clean this kind of surface, they should receive a smooth fresco finish. The plaster work on pilasters, by reason of the readjustment of same to conform to the marble wainscoting, has become stained and also requires a fresco finish.

The interior decorations on the walls have been completed on the lower floors of the senate and house. The remaining portions of the walls and ceilings above the gallery floors should be likewise ornamented. With the exception of the governor's business office, the auditor's private office, and the ladies' reception room, no other offices have received any decorations.

The exterior of the dome from roof line to lantern having become blackened by smoke and the action of the elements, should be repainted. The Wild smokeless furnaces now in place will prevent any discoloration by smoke in the future.

The granite work requires cleaning and a caulking of the joints of all projecting courses.

The cemented floors now occupied by the State Historical and Natural History Society should be changed to a vitreous tiling.

Referring to metallic fixtures, the board has in former reports called attention to the importance of the matter. Although the vaults, as well as the entire building, are fireproof, yet it is dangerous to risk the storage and filing of valuable state documents, such as books, records, accounts, plats, maps, etc., in wooden shelvings, with which all vaults are now temporarily provided. Hence the board again considers it its duty to recommend a safer system for the preservation of state papers, whose destruction would cause irretrievable loss. At the present time almost every public building, be it ever so unpretentious, is supplied with such fixtures, and it appears to the board unwise not to have our state capitol provided with like safeguards.

The electric lighting plant operated since June, 1896, consists of two dynamos of 50 kilowatts, each of a capacity in lights of about 1,000, although this is rarely obtained in actual practice. Now there are about 3,000 lights connected with the plant. These do not all run at the same time, but at certain periods, as during a legislative session, considerable of an overload is brought on the dynamos. Although the machines are built especially strong, it is not advisable to put them to this strain.

The board therefore recommends that another unit of 100 kilowatts, consisting of a multi polar engine type generator, speed 265 revolutions per minute, 125 volts D. C., direct connected to a 16x14 Ball engine, and one switch board with generator and feeder panel, and necessary instruments, be provided, which will relieve all the strain and give ample capacity as long as needed. Such a unit would have a capacity of about 2,000 incandescent lights.

The board is advised that such a unit could be furnished complete, set on foundations, including foundations, ready to connect, for about $5,000.

To carry out the work as enumerated, namely, cementing floor of sub-basement; providing a vitreous tile floor in natural history department; frescoing walls of halls, corridors and dome rotunda, decorating upper walls of senate chamber and house of representatives; painting exterior of dome from roof line to lantern, placing of a dome statuary; laying of a metal floor, top story of dome; cleaning all granite work and caulking of joints; and additional unit to electric plant, there will be required, according to the architect's estimate, $48,000.

FUNDING OF OUTSTANDING WARRANTS.

The outstanding warrants at the close of the fiscal year 1900, according to the secretary's report, amount to $585,740.07, to which should be added an approximate amount of $29,287.00 for accumulated interest up to that date, making a total of $615,027.07.

As is known, the issuance of these warrants or certificates of indebtedness was authorized by the acts of 1893, 1895, 1897 and 1899, in order to provide the board, when necessary, with means to complete the building, and furnish and maintain the same, when there were no funds at the time of the issuance thereof to meet the accounts, said warrants or certificates to be payable out of the capitol building fund, and to bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

The board now respectfully suggests the funding of these outstanding warrants or certificates, by constitutional amendment, for the following reasons:

1. That the interest so far expended for the redemption of warrants or certificates and the semi-annual interest on maintenance warrants amounts to $85,689.08, and is accumulating to such an extent that the final payment of the warrants or certificates will be delayed a number of years.

2. That in addition to the interest on warrants or certificates, there should be considered the interest on bonds, which is annually $22,500.

3. That since 1897 the levy for interest on bonds has been discontinued, and since that time the levy stands one-half mill for capitol building fund and interest on bonds.

4. That a large amount in interest on warrants or certificates would be annually saved in the difference of the present rate of 6 per cent. and that of 4 per cent., at which the indebtedness should be funded.

5. That the longer the outstanding warrants or certificates remain unpaid, interest will more rapidly accumulate, thereby delaying ultimate payment to the holders of the same, as the interest will absorb a large part of the revenue derived from the one-half mill levy.

6. That by funding the indebtedness at $3\frac{1}{2}$ to 4 per cent. the state would be enabled to pay interest on bonds, interest on funded indebtedness, maintenance and support of buildings and grounds, and the amount that may be required for any needed improvements from the revenues of the one-half mill.

7. That after paying all of the above, a reasonable amount would be left for creating an annual sinking fund for the redemption of the indebtedness.

The financial transactions of the board are shown in the following report of the secretary:

REPORT
OF THE
BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS
OF THE
STATE OF COLORADO.

Denver, Colorado, December 1, 1898.

To the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

In accordance with section 7 of an act of the general assembly of the state of Colorado, entitled "An act to provide for the erection and completion of a state capitol building at the city of Denver and creating a board of management and supervision," the board of capitol managers respectfully presents the following report of its transactions since December 1, 1896, the date of its last report:

The eleventh general assembly, by an act approved April 12, 1897, repealed section 1 of the above act and enacted other provisions pertaining thereto and otherwise altered and amended said act.

Among other provisions it created a new board of capitol managers for the purpose of supervising and directing the construction, completion and furnishing of the state capitol building, laying out, improving and ornamenting the grounds thereof, and assigning to its care and control the building and grounds, the members of said board to serve without any salary or compensation until the entire completion and furnishing of said building.

April 30, 1897, the new board, consisting of five members appointed by the aforesaid act, to wit, the governor of the state,

John L. Routt, Otto Mears, Chas. J. Hughes, Jr., and Job A. Cooper, proceeded to organize, Chief Justice Hayt administering the oath of office. Herman Lueders was elected secretary, and James Murdoch, superintendent.

June 1, the chairman gave notice that ex-Governor John L. Routt had tendered his resignation as a member of the board and that he had appointed George Tritch to fill the vacancy.

June 30, 1898, Superintendent Murdoch tendered his resignation, which was accepted.

F. E. Edbrooke was appointed architectural adviser, October 3, 1898.

MARBLE.

Under the provisions of the act, approved March 31, 1897, appropriating $89,500 to be used for the purpose of finishing the interior marble decorations by the contractor, according to the plans and designs of the superintendent of the building, which action of the general assembly was probably caused through some misconception, said plans not having been approved by the board, the latter, on June 30, and July 31, 1897, awarded the following work to The Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company, under its bid, No. 14, being the lowest received for Colorado marble, opened February 1, 1894:

Sec. 5. All marble wainscoting, basement floor.....	$14,756 57
Sec. 8. All marble wainscoting, third floor.....	13,084 52
Sec. 14. All marble steps and thresholds.....	2,790 30
Sec. 1. All marble tiling, basement floor.....	18,720 00

The last contract is now $1,729.72 less than the original bid, the reduction being based upon the change of twelve-inch square white tiles with three-inch square black dots to eight by sixteen-inch plain ashlar tiles.

The foregoing, in addition to the contracts let in 1894 and 1895, comprises all the marble work contemplated, with the exception of the stairwork from basement to second floor; the lining of the dome walls, first to second floor, as shown by the plans adopted by the eleventh general assembly; the changing of iron pedestals on twenty columns in corridors, first floor, to marble pedestals, and for four bulletin boards.

Owing to the slow progress of the wainscoting, most of which was contracted for three years ago, and the uncertainty as to the further time required to complete this work, the board considered it inexpedient to undertake the necessary stone cutting, masonry and brick work, as well as the removal of the plaster work from pilasters, to prepare the walls of the dome for the marble lining, although bids for this part of the work had been considered, September 30, 1897, and the lowest, being from Greenlee & Sons, at $648, accepted.

The question also presented itself, considering the time consumed in the completion of the wainscoting, whether the contractors would be able to furnish sufficient and suitable material for the lining of the dome, and whether they had the facilities for curving the slabs as required in this contract.

As to the stair work, the same being a part of the design to complete the interior of the dome, it was questionable, when the contractors would be in a position to furnish treads and risers of Colorado marble, of the dimensions required, as it had taken them four years since the letting of the first contract for tiling of the floors, to complete this work, for which material only eight by sixteen-inch in size was used.

While there may be an abundance of native marble, the board has learned from actual experience that, in order to furnish sufficient material of the character desired, the contractors had to labor under many difficulties, owing to the undeveloped condition of the quarries, and although five years have elapsed since the question of finishing the interior of the building with Colorado marble was first considered, it appears that nobody is prepared to contract for the delivery of marble in quantities. Notwithstanding, the board has endeavored to make as good progress as possible. It became necessary, considering the difficulties encountered by the contractors, to grant them all the latitude to secure such material as was required by extending the time limits of their contracts.

November 13, 1898, they applied for an extension until December 31, 1899, on that part of their work which calls for the use of Beulah marble in the wainscoting, but owing to the short time intervening before the session of the general assembly, the board concluded to defer the matter, so as to permit the legislature to take such action as it may deem for the best interest of the state.

Several months ago, while the contractors, in view of the urgent entreaties of the board, were endeavoring to complete the tile work, various allegations and charges were published in several newspapers, none of which have as yet been substantiated, that foreign, instead of Colorado, marble was being used in this work. The attention of the superintendent, Mr. Murdoch, was called to these rumors, with instructions to investigate them, and not to grant any estimates unless convinced that the contract was being carried out to the letter. He assured the members, individually, that he had convinced himself that the charges were unfounded.

After the appointment of Mr. F. E. Edbrooke, as architectural adviser, he was likewise instructed to make strict investigations, and although he courted the fullest information from those making charges, nothing has been presented to the board to prove the allegations.

As to the contractors, they have denied all charges and accusations by affidavits, etc., claiming that no other marble but Colorado ever has or will be used in the execution of the work.

November 15, the contractors, requesting a settlement for the tile work previously performed, the board passed the following resolution:

Whereas, It has been charged that the marble used for tiling by The Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company, on the first, second and third floors of the capitol building, is not Colorado marble or in accordance with the contract for the same; it is hereby

Resolved, That the supervising architect be instructed to give estimates thereon, based upon the bid of The Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company for Vermont or eastern marble, the matter of determining whether or not the marble used is Colorado marble, and in accordance with the contract, being reserved for further investigation and determination by the board; and all estimates and payments made prior to such determination are made and must be accepted subject to the condition of this resolution; and it is further

NEW WORK, CHANGES AND REFURNISHING.

Resolved, That all showings upon this question must be presented by said company, and those making said charge, to the board within sixty days from this date.

The following new work on the building, including changes and refurnishing, has been completed:

Bronze finish of staircases in dome from basement to second floor, and second and third floor galleries and corridor balustrades.

Bronze bases for columns in corridors, first, second and third floors.

Bronze grille work, frame and glass, house of representatives and corridors.

Iron grilles, to protect windows of mining bureau.

The floor lights in corridors of first floor have been removed and two elliptic balustrades of aluminum bronze placed around the openings, thereby furnishing additional ventilation and light to basement floor.

The floor opening over law library, third floor, which was to be surrounded by rail and balusters, has been closed. Steel beams had to be framed and fire-proof terra cotta arches and a concrete floor constructed. This change added to the floor space.

The judges' chambers of both the supreme court and court of appeals, clerks' offices, judges' consultation rooms, and the ladies' reception room, have been painted and decorated in oil and the woodwork refinished. Likewise the rooms of the mining bureau, war relics and historical society.

All of the outside woodwork of the building has been painted.

After a thorough investigation as to the benefits and reduction of expense by an artesian well, to supply the boilers with pure water, thereby prolonging their life, avoiding scaling, pitting and corrosion, as well as the cost of compounds and repairs, the board, July 30, 1898, resolved to contract for the boring of a well. Work was begun in September, and after several unexpected mishaps the contractor has reached a depth of four hundred feet, but expects to sink to seven hundred feet before a good supply will be found. Should a sufficient flow be obtained to furnish the building, in addition to the boilers, there will be an annual saving of about one thousand dollars.

In order to obtain a better draught for the boilers, a brick extension to the smoke stack has been built.

All steam pipes for heating have been thoroughly overhauled and placed in condition for the coming season.

Furniture has been purchased for the rooms of the judges of the supreme court and court of appeals, and most of these offices newly carpeted. Senate and house received covering for furniture and chandeliers.

Tables and chairs were provided for committee rooms and book cases, show cases and other furniture, as needed, supplied to the different departments.

The law and state libraries have received additional book cases and will require more in the immediate future.

STATE EXHIBITS.

The bureau of mines has the most exhaustive collection of mineral and geological specimens in the West. This department is visited by all the scientists and those interested in the great mining industry of the state.

To this department was added room 32, previously occupied by the Historical and Natural History Society, and fifteen new show cases and tables purchased and the necessary shelving provided.

The Horticultural Society has a magnificent exhibit of fruits and cereals of our state, which is not only a surprise and revelation to visitors from abroad, but to many of our own citizens. This department has been furnished with oak cases and tables, book cases, glass jars and bottles, shelving and other articles.

The State Historical and Natural History Society was first assigned to rooms 30, 32 and 33, and opened to the public in a regular and permanent way, August 14, 1896. It has since been removed to rooms 14, 15, 16, 17, 19 and 20, and in order to give as much space as possible on account of the increase of the collection, an oak partition, with glass windows and doors, was erected across the corridor, which added another large room for the stuffed birds and animals.

The curator, Will C. Ferril, has kept a record of the visitors and reports that during the fiscal years of 1897 and 1898 the number was 123,582.

This department was furnished with one vault door and fourteen show cases and shelving.

War Relics.—This exhibit attracts great attention, and the board has endeavored to add to the collection by providing the necessary expenses, such as traveling, freight, drayage, etc. Traveling expenses were allowed the custodian to visit arsenals and navy yards in order to select such articles as would be of interest to the state, which were furnished by the general government free of cost.

Cecil H. Deane, who inaugurated the exhibit by donating his private collection of war relics, providing the state would assume charge and furnish space in the capitol building, was appointed custodian at $45 per month.

These departments are all located in the basement and provided with quarters by acts of the legislature, but have never been included in the estimates of appropriations for "Maintenance" and "Furnishing," although the board has allowed what was actually required.

As the collections are increasing, more furniture will be needed during the next two years, and a liberal allowance should be made for this purpose and for their maintenance.

CAPITOL GROUNDS.

One hundred and fifty-eight trees and shrubs, having decayed during the first year after planting, were removed and replaced by the contractor free of charge, in accordance with his guarantee given when the contract for furnishing trees was awarded at the opening of the season in 1897.

During the present year only sixteen had to be replaced, in addition to which the board added some ornamental trees of different variety.

Notwithstanding the use of a large quantity of fertilizer annually, the soil of the lawn is of such an unproductive character, that it requires the constant attention of seven men during six months of the year, and the use of a large quantity of water to keep the grass and trees in a good condition.

The amount paid for water for the lawn during the years 1897 and 1898 was $2,353.55.

It is, however, a matter of pride that the sight of the grounds during the summer, presenting such a pleasant appearance, received the favorable comment of every stranger visiting the capitol.

The bronze statuary, "The Closing Era," presented by prominent ladies of Denver for the adornment of the grounds, has been permanently located, by the consent of the donors, within a circle opposite the east entrance of the building. It is placed upon a pedestal of Colorado granite from the Cotopaxi quarry.

May 5, 1898, the board granted the petition of the Colorado Society of the Sons of the Revolution for the erection of a flag pole and the raising of a national flag, at their own expense, to be dedicated to the National Guard of Colorado, and permitted the use of the circle on the west side of the grounds, near Broadway, the property to be owned by the state, and to remain under its control after the public dedication, to be held June 14, Flag day, which ceremony took place on that date.

Previous to ornamenting and beautifying the grounds, in 1895, the board obtained from the city, through its engineer, a certificate, now on file in this office, establishing the corners and sidewalk grades, according to the official survey of H. C. Brown's second addition to the city of Denver, and the official map and profiles on file at the city engineer's office, for which the board paid $295.92.

In order to further legalize the grades so established, the city council, in July, 1895, passed an ordinance, adopting the same as fixed by city engineer, P. O'Brien.

On account of the recent paving of Colfax avenue and the changing of the grade on said street by the board of public works, without consent of this board, it will be necessary to re-adjust the drives, walks and lawns from Lincoln avenue to Sherman avenue to conform with the new grade.

The estimated cost of this work, in accordance with a plan adopted October 31, 1898, will be $3,929.40, not including the removal and replacing of the grass, trees and shrubbery.

August 13, 1898, the board adopted the following resolution:

Resolved, That that portion of Colfax avenue along the frontage of the capitol grounds, between Broadway and Grant avenue, should be paved and curbed in the manner of the other paving and curbing now in progress on Colfax avenue, but that the board of capitol managers have no funds at their disposal at the present time to pay the cost of this work, and they have not the power to incur an indebtedness for the same or to pledge the credit of the state, but, however, if the board of public works will have this work done in connection with the other work now being done under the plans, prices and contract for the other work on the avenue, this board will present to the next general assembly, in what shall seem the best manner so to do, a statement that this work was done with the approval of the board of capitol managers, and will recommend and use its best influence to secure the passage of an appropriation by the legislature to cover the cost of this work as aforesaid, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the board of public works.

Referring to the asphalt walks and drives of the grounds, laid in 1896 by The Colorado Paving Company, the wearing surface has become very defective, except that of the drive passing through Lincoln avenue.

September 30, 1897, the contractors proposed to cut out the cracks of a section of the walks between Grant avenue and Sherman avenue, fill them with new asphalt and coat the surface with a liquid of the same material. The board granted permission, conditioned that the work would be subject to its approval. The experiment was a failure, and the contractors next offered to lay an entire new surface in squares, which the board, upon investigation, however, considered impracticable.

The contractors later removed the wearing surface of parts of the walks near Broadway and laid new material, which has so far proved effective.

Should this work stand the cold weather during the coming winter, the entire surface will be reconstructed in the spring, free of cost to the state, in accordance with the terms of the contractors' guaranty bond.

FURNISHING.

By an act approved April 7, 1893, there was appropriated $100,000 for the purpose of furnishing the building, out of which amount there remains an unexpended balance of $307.43.

All offices are now properly furnished, except the vaults in the following departments: Executive, secretary of state, auditor, state engineer, land commissioners, supreme court and court of appeals, which should be equipped with metal fixtures for the safety of records and other valuable documents.

The board has fitted most of these vaults, temporarily, with wooden shelving, etc., as needed, but deems it important now to provide a safer system for the preservation of state papers and to guard against any emergency which may cause irretrievable loss.

During the next two years it will become necessary to re-furnish a number of offices with carpets and to replace such as are unfit for further service, nearly all having been in use for four years.

MAINTENANCE.

For the maintenance and support of the capitol building the eleventh general assembly appropriated, out of capitol building fund, $72,000 for the years 1897 (or that part of 1897 not already provided for) and 1898, and consigned the care and control of the building and grounds to the board.

The expenditure for every item of the appropriation is shown by the secretary's report.

The electric lighting plant furnished by The Mountain Electric Company, at a cost of $8,700, of which $6,600 remained due November 30, 1896, has been paid in full from this appropriation.

BIDS.

All labor and material exceeding in amount the sum of $500 has been advertised and let by contract, copies of which are on file in the office of the board of capitol managers.

SEWER TAX.

As stated on page 27 of the sixth biennial report, the board, in 1897, stipulated with the board of public works to permit the connection of the building with the city sewer upon the payment of $1,650, covering an area of thirty (30) lots, including all the ground upon which the capitol is situated the question as to whether the capitol grounds or any part was subject to a sewer tax or not to be referred to a court of competent jurisdiction for final determination.

June 27, 1898, the board was notified by the treasurer of Arapahoe county that, by a recent decree of the district court, the assessment in the twentieth street sewer district had been fixed at $55 per lot of 3,125 square feet, with interest at ten per cent. from March 1, 1892, making the

Interest at ten per cent. to August 31, 1898.....	4,521 66
Total due by August 31, 1898.....	$11,478 06

In an opinion, rendered by the attorney general on this matter, and on file in this office, he decided that, in his judgment, the board should under no circumstances admit a liability as against the state for the payment of any tax or assessment, although it may be under a moral obligation to pay a reasonable amount to the city for the benefits derived from its sewer system, it being a matter for the board to determine whether or not the amount already paid is a sufficient compensation for the services rendered. If, in its judgment, the amount paid for the benefits of said sewer system be not sufficient, then the board undoubtedly has the power to make further appropriation out of the capitol building fund, not as payment of a tax, but as a compensation for benefits received under a contract between the state and the city.

Up to date no further action has been agreed upon.

INTEREST ON BONDS.

Paid from Capitol Building Fund.

The amount drawn against the capitol building fund for the payment of coupons representing the first year's interest accruing on the capitol building bonds issued under the act of 1883, by Auditor Schwanbeck and Treasurer Carlisle, amounting to $13,875, and which was to be restored to the said fund by transfer from the interest fund, as soon as a sufficient amount had been received into the said interest fund from the collection of interest tax, as provided by section 6 of the above act, has not yet been returned to capitol building fund, but remains charged to general building account, thereby increasing the cost of the building in that sum.

During the fiscal years of 1897 and 1898, the board of equalization levied no special tax for the payment of interest on capitol building bonds, as provided by law (Laws of 1883, page 42, section 6; Mills' Annotated Statutes, page 534, section 324), but ordered the levy to be one-half mill for capitol building and interest on bonds.

To meet the full payment of interest due last year, the state treasurer has, during the fiscal year 1898, drawn from capitol building fund $8,000 without any authority from this board and for which payment no vouchers have consequently been issued. This amount has not been charged to general building, but simply depleted capitol building fund to that extent.

By this action about $40,000, including interest for the year 1900, will be used for the payment of interest on bonds diverted from the fund created for the completion of the building, thereby deferring the more immediate redemption of warrants.

UNFINISHED WORK.

The following is a list of items to complete the building, in addition to the marble work mentioned:

Steel floor, top floor of dome.

Finishing openings and windows of dome above third floor.

Changing wooden stairs, second to third floor.

Bronze rail, opening of dome, second floor.

Bronze door, main entrances, first floor.

Revising plaster work to conform to marble wainscoting, first floor.

Plaster ceiling to gallery and stairs to dome rotunda, including cornices, basement to first floor.

Galvanized iron to finish beams, basement.

Tiling state library, and room 12, law library.

Bronze statue on dome.

With reference to finishing the interior of the dome, first and second floors, which was to be executed in marble as directed by the last general assembly, but which, for reasons stated, was not commenced, the supervising architect, Mr. F. E. Edbrooke, has prepared a new design, on file in this office, which, upon investigation, the board considers better adapted and more suitable for its architectural effects as well as its artistic designs, and which the board respectfully submits for your consideration and solicits your examination.

The cost of the work is estimated at $16,396.

The financial transactions of the board are shown in the following report of the secretary:

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the Board of Capitol Managers:

Gentlemen—I have the honor to present herewith a report of the receipts and disbursements on account of the capitol building for the fiscal years 1897 and 1898, showing the financial transactions from December 1, 1896, to November 30, 1898, inclusive.

All accounts were allowed by the board and certified to the auditor, who drew his warrants on the state treasurer for the amounts stated on each voucher and in favor of the owner thereof.

The total number of vouchers issued on behalf of the building, grounds, furnishing and maintenance is as follows:

April 4, 1883, to November 30, 1896.....	3,910
December 1, 1896, to November 30, 1898.....	1,514
	<hr/> 5,424

The amount now appropriated is:

For construction of the building, including marble appropriation	$2,590,000 00
For relief of certain laborers, who worked for Contractor Richardson, and who had not been paid by him	5,000 00
	$2,595,000 00
Of this there has been expended	2,453,499 61
	<hr/>
Leaving a balance of	$ 141,500 39
Deduct amount due on contracts let, but not completed	73,999 63

Unexpended appropriation	$ 67,500 76
Available for—
Building	$27,232 63
	$ 67,500 76

This amount, according to the estimates of the supervising architect, will be sufficient to complete the unfinished work, providing the auditor will be authorized by the legislature to transfer the amount of $40,268.13, now to the credit of marble appropriation, to general building appropriation.

Respectfully,

HERMAN LUEDERS,

Secretary.

Denver, Colorado, December 1, 1898.

Superintendent Peter Gumry, who had been connected with the erection of the building since its inception, and Assistant Superintendent R. C. MARBLE.

The work contracted for with The Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company, up to November 30, 1894, consisted of base plinth and tiling in governor's reception room, wainscoting and stalls in toilet rooms and tiling first floor. The two first contracts have been completed; the last remains unfinished.

April 10, 1895, the Board met to discuss the letting of additional work.

Although the Board had formerly unanimously agreed to use only Colorado marble in the interior finish of the building, wherein marble would be required, the act of the tenth general assembly, approved March 30, 1895, now made its use imperative. The main question to be considered in letting the additional work was, where to obtain sufficient material with the least delay. Notwithstanding the Board had, during the year 1894, been assured by different owners of quarries, that they would be in a position to furnish marble, and although the Board would have preferred to see different varieties of marble represented, it was learned that not a single quarry had been sufficiently developed to warrant the letting of a contract for marble therefor. It was therefore apparent that in order to expedite the work, no other alternative remained than to consider proposals received in 1894 in response to extensive advertising, providing no legal points prevented the letting of contracts thereunder. At a meeting of the Board, April 16, 1895, all members being present, Chas. J. Hughes, Jr., to whom the question had been referred, stated that in his opinion the bids submitted by The Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company for Colorado marble, opened February 1, 1894, were in such a position, not having been theretofore acted upon, the Board was free to accept or reject them or any part thereof.

In view of this opinion, the Board agreed to take immediate action.

On motion of John L. Routt, seconded by Otto Mears, the following marble work was awarded to The Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company under its bid No. 14, being the lowest bid received for Colorado marble, opened February 1, 1894, the Board reserving the right to accept or reject any of the remaining part of said bid within reasonable time hereafter, and with the privilege of selecting marble, as far as quality and color was concerned, from any quarry within the state of Colorado.

Section	III. All marble tile floors, second story.....	$15,294.97
Section	IV. All marble tile floors, third story, including colonnade floor in dome....	13,887.00
Section	VI. All marble wainscoting, first floor.....	23,126.05
Section	VII. All marble wainscoting, second story, except in house of representatives, senate chamber and supreme court room	17,005.24
Section	IX. Marble wainscoting supreme court room	1,425.41
Section	XV. Marble work in niches and window sills	4,978.00
Section	XVII. Marble jambs and plinth blocks.....	1,768.36
Total		$77,485.03

The motion was unanimously carried.

At the same meeting, the Board further resolved that the contractor, previous to signing contract and bond, should furnish samples of the material to be used in the above work, subject to the approval of the Board, and that the penalty of the bond should be $30,000.

When this work was let, the contractor had not succeeded in finding suitable marble for floor tiling, but after several months delay arranged to use the material of the Colorado Producers quarries in Gunnison county, located at an altitude of about 9,500 feet above the level of the sea. August 16, samples were submitted and approved and contract and bond signed.

The original specifications of tiling first, second and third floors, called for twelve-inch square white tiles, with three-inch square black dots, which have been changed to eight-inch by sixteen-inch plain ashlar tiles, with black dots, to be used as a border, thus reducing the cost $3,944.15, in accordance with the power of the Board under the contract.

This change was made to secure improvement in appearance and adaptability for the required positions, and, likewise, to secure a surface which will wear uniformly, instead of having two kinds of marbles of different degrees of hardness, as the original design contemplated.

Another change adopted was in the design for wainscoting the first and second floors, from three feet nine inches high dado, with panels, to dado five feet high of plain marble, with base plinth and cap moulding, without additional cost, although more marble was required. Also changing iron dado on columns of corridors second and third floor, to marble dado, to be paid for at schedule rate for wainscoting second floor, it having been considered advisable to remove the iron bases and substitute marble for this purpose, as being more suitable in conjunction with the bronze work for architectural effect. All of which contributes much to the improvement in appearance.

February 11, 1896, the Board entered into contract with The Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company for wainscoting house and senate.

As to the delay in completing the tiling of floors, the Board knows from investigation that the contractor encountered many obstacles, preventing it from executing the work with greater expedition, since taking possession of the quarry July 20, 1895. For the purpose of investigating the progress made in procuring marble for tiling and the quality of that already secured, the Board instructed Mr. Mears, member of the Board, and Superintendent Murdoch, to visit the quarry and report the result of their investigations. They reported as follows:

"After examining and ascertaining what progress was being made in regard to procuring material, we find that three months have been spent in building four miles of wagon road to the quarry, with considerable amount of hard rock cutting, one bridge built and a number of others renewed or repaired and the usual difficulties encountered in doing such work in a new district, where all material taken for operating had to be brought thirty miles from a railroad. The quarry being situated at an altitude of about 9,500 feet, transportation was soon closed for this season, and nothing can be done until the following spring."

Superintendent Murdoch, after a second visit to the quarry of the company, during September last, found that in order to save handling waste material in blocks, after being quarried, and to establish a permanent industry in Gunnison county, where indications point to the fact that there is more white marble than in any other county in the United States, the contractors, as soon as the season permitted, commenced the erection of a mill near the quarry in order to saw the blocks and cut them to the required sizes for tiling. But other difficulties again interfered, principally a failure of water supply for the motive power of the mill, arising from the unusually dry season. It therefore became necessary to supplement the water power machinery with an engine and boiler, but after everything was ready for operation, snow storms obliged them to shut down. He also found that there had been quarried all the marble necessary to complete the tile work under the present contract. Since the closing of the season the tiling on hand has been shipped to Denver and is now being laid on the second floor of the building.

Up to the time the first shipment of tile was made this year, the contractor had expended in labor, machinery at quarry, marble mill on Yule creek and the construction of wagon roads and bridges, $31,500, as shown by the books of the company.

After carefully considering the question of hastening the completion of the tile work and the adoption of any other method, the Board has arrived at the conclusion that, in the present undeveloped condition of quarries containing white marble in Colorado, no better arrangement can be made than to leave the matter in the hands of the present contractors. The Board is satisfied that the work can and will be completed, as the quarry contains an unlimited supply of marble of good quality, and the tiling now being laid in the building is evidence that there can be little further delay in getting out the marble during the next season.

There is no doubt that the opening of these quarries for the purpose of supplying the material for the capitol has resulted in a great benefit to the state and will prove a lasting advertisement of its resources in that respect, and the Board desires to congratulate the people of Colorado upon the establishment and positive success of the marble industry in Colorado.

INTERIOR ORNAMENTAL CAST IRON, PLATED AND BRONZE WORK.

July 15, 1894, the Board entered into contract with The Lane Bridge and Iron Works, Chicago, Ill., for ornamental cast iron, plated and bronze work, consisting of cover plates, newel posts, top and bottom rails of balustrades, bronze balusters, etc., amounting to $18,200. Up to July, 1895, the contractors had only furnished cast iron work to the amount of $4,000. In the meantime, it became evident that the firm was unable to proceed with or complete the contract, and the Board, therefore, November 27, 1895, canceled the same, notifying the contractors that they would be held liable for any damages that might result from their failure to complete the contract.

Owing to numerous changes made since the contract was let, the Board instructed the superintendent to prepare new plans, details and specifications, and after advertising for proposals for thirty days in Denver, and Chicago, Ill., awarded the contract, April 9, 1896, to Snead & Co. Iron Works, Louisville, Ky., at $33,578, the lowest bid, as set forth on page 9 of this report.

This contract embraces the entire bronze finish of staircases in dome, from basement to second floor and second-floor gallery balustrades, also entire bronze work of balustrades, third-floor gallery of dome and balustrades of corridors, second and third floors.

The finish first agreed upon was natural bronze, consisting of 90 per cent. copper, 7 per cent. tin and 3 per cent. zinc. This was changed later to aluminum bronze, composed of 90 per cent. copper and 10 per cent. aluminum, for the reason that aluminum bronze is of a bright gold color and will not tarnish.

In consideration of the change in the metal, the contractors were allowed $3,800 additional, under the provisions of the contract.

PLASTERING AND STUCCO WORK.

April 3, 1895, Chas. M. McCabe, contractor, presented a bill of $9,174.90 for additional material and labor claimed to have been furnished to complete the plastering and stucco work, which the Board declined to allow, for the reason that, as the contract under which this work was done covered all labor and material, the Board had no power or authority to make any additional allowance beyond the contract prices.

The contract being finished June 5, 1895, a balance of $122 remained due Mr. McCabe. For this amount a voucher was ordered issued, which the contractor, however, refused to accept in final settlement of his account, and therefore no voucher has been drawn by the auditor.

ELECTRIC PLANT.

The cost of lighting the capitol from January 1, 1895, to July 1, 1896, was $4,432.45, averaging about $246 per month. To this must be added from August 1 about $75 per month for lighting grounds.

The great expense incurred in gas bills and those of The Consolidated Electric Light Company, led to the consideration of providing an electric light plant for the use of the capitol building and grounds.

After taking the preliminary steps of preparing sketches, plans and specifications, and investigating different machines and the legal right to secure a plant, to be paid from maintenance appropriation, at the rate of $300 per month, until such payments should reach the total cost, when the plant would become the property of the state for a consideration of $1, the Board, November 26, 1895, instructed its secretary to advertise for fifteen days through Denver papers for proposals for an electric plant. In response the Board received four bids (see page 14 of this report), which were opened December 18, and after investigating the merits and efficiency of the different plants offered, January 7, 1896, accepted, it being the lowest bid, the proposal of The Mountain Electric Company to furnish and set in place, complete, an electric lighting plant at a cost of $8,700.

The agreement entered into with said company specifies that payments shall be made at the rate of $300 per month, the first of which to be ordered at the first regular meeting of the Board succeeding the date of the beginning of the successful operation of said plant, such payments to continue for the term of twenty-nine (29) months next succeeding the month of the first payment, within which time the entire amount of $8,700 would be paid. Up to date seven payments have been made.

The plant consists of two direct connected units made up of 12x12 (80-h. p.) Arrington & Sims horizontal high-speed engines direct connected to 50-kilowatt (66-h. p.) Western Electric multipolar generators wound for 120 volts, compounded. The sub-base of engine is extended to receive the dynamo. The engine shaft is connected with dynamo shaft by link and pin coupling. The dynamo is connected with switch board by special cables, laid in iron-armored conduits under the floor. The switch board consists of three slabs of one-half-inch marble, the central slab holding thirty-six single throw, double pole, knife switches, which control the various circuits in the building; each of the side slabs holding instruments belonging to each of the machines, including controlling rheostat, ammeter, voltmeter and main dynamo switch. The piping connecting the two engines with boilers, together with steam separator, steam trap and foundations for the machines, were also installed under the agreement.

Thos. H. Smith, electrical engineer, who made a running test of five hours previous to final acceptance of the plant, reported the dynamos running smoothly and their electrical efficiency excellent, being above 93 per cent. with both one-half and full loads, the machines well designed and perfect in detail and construction, and that they conformed with and exceeded the specifications.

Since the plant has been in operation, the highest number of lights in circuit, without any strain on the machinery, was 1,960, during the Festival of Mountain and Plain.

GROUND.

The work of laying out, ornamenting and beautifying the grounds has been so far executed as the Board was enabled to do, with the amount appropriated for that purpose.

The grounds, including the building, embrace nearly thirteen acres and have been graded and laid out according to plans, with asphalt and concrete walks and drives and curb stone borders, sandstone steps for terraces and gravel walks for outside borders; also a walk of sandstone flagging four feet wide, carried around the entire building.

A thorough system of underground iron and lead piping for irrigation, with the necessary hydrants and sewer pipes and catch-basins for collecting and carrying off the water.

Twenty cast iron poles for Manhattan arc lamps, with underground iron conduits, to an extent of 3,200 linear feet have been erected and connected with the electric plant in the sub-basement of the building.

The lawn was graded down and made symmetrical throughout, leveled and cleaned of stones and rubbish, covered with soil so far as practicable, thoroughly well manured and ploughed, sown with grass and the borders planted with trees and ornamental shrubbery.

The walks have been supplied with iron settees, fifty in number, and the grass during the season has made an excellent lawn, the park apparently being much appreciated as a resort by the people of the city.

It was intended to place two fountains opposite the east and west entrances in circles, planned and laid out for that purpose. Also to erect a foundation for and place in position the statue of "The Closing Era," presented by ladies of Denver to adorn the grounds and for which they selected a site on the lawn to the northwest of the building.

Likewise to lay a sidewalk of sandstone or asphalt on the border of the four streets surrounding the grounds, all of which had to be abandoned owing to the fact that the appropriation has been exhausted.

The Colorado Paving Company, who laid the pavement of walks and drives, have guaranteed to maintain the work and make all necessary repairs without additional cost to the state, for the term of five years.

Mr. J. L. Russell, who furnished trees and shrubbery, is held to remove and replace with healthy trees and shrubs of the same size and variety, all such as may decay or not appear to thrive, within one year, free of cost to the state.

MAINTENANCE.

For the maintenance and support of the capitol building, the tenth general assembly appropriated out of capitol building fund, $50,000, for the fiscal year of 1895, or that part of 1895 not already provided for, and for the fiscal year 1896, and assigned the care and control of the building to the Board.

The expenditure for every item of the appropriation is shown by the secretary's report.

There are six janitors, four of which are employed by the Board to look after the building, except court rooms and library, which are in charge of the two janitors appointed by and at the pleasure of the courts (supreme and appellate) respectively. The wages of all are paid from maintenance appropriation.

All expenses for grounds have been charged to this appropriation during the last six months, after the contracts let had been completed. In order to perform the necessary labor on grounds it required the services of seven men during the summer months, which force has been reduced to two for the winter.

The expense of water for lawn averaged $185 per month from June 1 to October 1.

Coal for six months, commencing November 1, 1896, has been contracted for with The Atlas Coal Company (see page 14 of this report), at $2.22 per ton, delivered.

E. E. MYERS, LATE ARCHITECT OF THE CAPITOL.

Referring to C. W. Mills' claim of $1,737 against E. E. Myers, presented by Mr. Charles Mills, as administrator of the estate of W. B. Mills, deceased, in 1892 (see fifth report, page 8), this matter has been finally settled. After the refusal of the Board to pay the claim, unless Mr. Myers had shown a satisfactory adjustment of all assignments and attachments against him, thereby relieving the state from all further liability, the case was taken into court by Mr. Mills, represented by Messrs. Doud & Fowler, and Messrs. Chas. J. Hughes, Jr., and Tyson S. Dines, for the state, where it has been pending for several years. Final judgment was rendered by Hon. Calvin P. Butler, judge for the second district, Arapahoe county, in favor of plaintiff, under the assignment made to W. B. Mills by E. E. Myers, for $1,600, balance in full due said Myers for services.

In view of this judgment, Mr. Mills agreed to give the Board a bond in the amount of $2,000, with sureties satisfactory to the Board, indemnifying it against loss to the extent of $1,600, on account of a voucher to be issued for that amount in payment and satisfaction of the judgment. The Board accepted the proposition, increasing amount of bond to $2,500, and after approving same with John W. Graham, William B. Palmer, A. L. Doud and A. J. Fowler, as sureties, instructed the secretary, April 1, 1896, to issue a voucher.

Later Mr. Myers presented a claim for $2,370 for a third set of plans. He was informed that there was nothing due him on this or any other account.

ALTERATIONS AND NEW WORK DURING 1895 AND 1896.

The following work on the building and on account of furnishing the same has been completed, and changes effected in accordance with senate resolution, March 27, 1895, concurred in by house, March 28, 1895, with satisfactory results, viz.:

The removal of the grand stairways from north and south corridors in basement and first floor, and in place of them one grand staircase substituted in dome, from basement to second floor with gallery, the iron work of which has been erected.

In the space formerly occupied by the staircases in corridors of first floor, floor-lights have been put in to give light in basement.

A new staircase of iron has been completed from attic floor to colonnade floor of dome. The colonnade rail erected and floor completed. Also a spiral staircase from this point, connecting with the spiral staircase to lantern of dome. A railing has been erected around opening of dome under lantern.

Considerable alterations and modifications have been effected in senate and house, the floor area of the senate having been enlarged from 2,326 superficial feet to 3,326 superficial feet, and that of the house of representatives from 3,276 superficial feet to 4,463 superficial feet, an addition of over one-third in each case. The floor of senate was raised and a new entrance platform erected in corridor, with steps on each side. The ante rooms to house and senate were separated from the main portion of the room by arcades of three arches, and wall seats put around the sides, covered with leather, and a dado over them of Colorado marble, which adds much to the comfort and general appearance of the rooms, as well as the placing of electric lights around the frieze in the first and second stories.

The lower stories of house and senate have been painted and decorated in an artistic manner and new desks and chairs of a more suitable type substituted for those formerly in use, which have been disposed of principally in furnishing the offices and committee rooms.

The galleries of house and senate have been wainscoted four feet high from floors with paneled wainscot of polished oak, thus making these rooms entirely complete with the exception of the decoration of walls and ceilings above gallery floor.

Outside doors of oak have been fitted up at basement entrances.

The offices of secretary of state, treasurer, auditor and adjutant general have been sub-divided with screen partitions of polished oak with glass and bronze grilles and wainscoted around the outside lobbies, with bases of Colorado marble, and the necessary furniture, counters, file cases, desks, chairs, etc., of polished oak of artistic design have been supplied, the whole of these offices being now furnished and fitted up in the most complete manner.

The vaults of most of the offices have also been fitted up with temporary shelving of wood, the law library provided with book case, and the bureau of mines with show cases and tables. Also, shelvings and fittings in all the other departments to suit their requirements. A metal filing and record case has been placed in vault of the executive office.

On basement floor there have been put in place 120 superficial feet of twelve-inch square marble tiling, with black dots, in lavatories and 144 superficial feet of plain tiling in vaults.

On first floor there have been placed 1,561 superficial feet of plain tiling in vaults, and 1,329 superficial feet diagonal white tiling, with black dots, in corridors, toilet rooms, etc.

On second floor, 337 superficial feet of the new marble tiling, 8x16, have been put in place in house and senate platforms at entrances, and 344 superficial feet of twelve-inch square tiling with black dots, in toilet rooms, etc.

On third floor, 550 superficial feet of tiling, twelve inches square, with black dots, have been set in place in toilet rooms, etc.

On first, second and third floors, 12,368 superficial feet of marble have been put in place for wainscoting and for dados around bases of iron columns in corridors.

The contract for wainscoting in house and senate has been completed, and columns for electroliers at rostrums, with Beulah, Colorado, marble set in place.

For the use of the court of appeals a new room has been provided by flooring over the opening in gallery of law library in third story, finishing it in a suitable manner.

A spacious room has been finished and fitted up in the sub-basement for the electric plant, plastered and finished with concrete and cement floor. A concrete and cement floor has also been laid in dome in sub-basement and corridors leading thereto.

The conduits for electric lights have been extended in basement to connect with the new plant, the connections of the Consolidated Electric company with their plant having been removed.

The combination standard lamp posts at main entrances to building have had the gas lamps removed and electric arc lamps substituted.

Additional granite steps and platforms on the north, south and west entrances, with sandstone flag approaches to basement entrances have been placed in position.

UNFINISHED WORK.

In addition to existing contracts for marble work, the following contracts have been let, but are not completed.

Interior ornamental cast iron, plated and bronze work.

Bronze bases for columns in corridors, second and third floors.

Grille work, frames and glass, for house and corridors.

In addition to work in progress, the following will have to be contracted in order to complete the building:

Marble treads and risers, basement to second floor.

Marble wainscoting, basement.

Marble tile floor, basement.

Marble wainscoting, third floor.

Marble finish, dome rotunda, first and second floors.

Marble dados around columns, first floor.

Marble bulletin boards in vestibules.

Steel floor, top floor of dome.

Bronze railing, opening of dome, east side, second story.

Galvanized iron finish over beams under skylights, first floor.

Finishing windows in lantern of dome with plaster and wood-work.

Revising the finish of wood and plaster work to conform to new marble work on all floors.

Plastering ceilings of galleries in dome, first floor and cornices.

Cement floors in boiler and store rooms, sub-basement, where necessary.

Bronze doors to main entrances, first floor.

Bronze statue on dome.

Interior decorations in house, senate, halls and corridors.

Vault and library fixtures.

The financial transactions of the Board are shown in the following report of the secretary.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the Board of Capitol Managers:

Gentlemen—Herewith I present a statement of the receipts and disbursements on account of the capitol building for the fiscal years 1895 and 1896, showing the financial transactions from December 1, 1894, to November 30, 1896, inclusive. Payments for estimates and bills authorized December 5, 1894, were for the month of November of that year, making twenty-five months embraced in this report.

All accounts, estimates and bills were duly allowed by the Board and certified to the State Auditor, who drew his warrants on the State Treasurer for the amount stated on each voucher and in favor of the owner thereof.

The total number of vouchers issued since the organization of the first Board up to date is as follows:

April 4, 1883, to November 30, 1894.....	1,770
December 1, 1894, to November 30, 1896.....	2,140

The increase in number of vouchers during the last two years is due to the fact that most of the work in alterations and completion of the building has been performed by day labor. To this must be added the various items for maintenance and support of building and grounds, the care of which was transferred to the Board by the tenth general assembly.

Maintenance appropriation not being available until the approval of the act, March 30, 1895, the Board was compelled to pay all accounts for maintenance and support, such as engineers, firemen, watchmen, janitor service, coal, water, tools and supplies for engine and boiler rooms, repairing furniture, etc., from December 1, 1894, up to above date, amounting to $4,709.39, from general building account. This amount has since been returned to said account from which it was paid and charged to Maintenance appropriation, in conformity with the act providing for Maintenance for the fiscal year 1895, or that part of 1895 not already provided for and for the fiscal year 1896.

The balance of $3,161.22 remaining to the credit of Maintenance appropriation, November 30, 1896, has been charged back by the Auditor, as the act making this appropriation made it unavailable after this date.

W. D. Richardson, late contractor on the capitol building, having failed to pay a number of the laborers employed by him on this work, the sixth general assembly passed a bill for the relief of these laborers, appropriating five thousand dollars ($5,000) from the capitol building fund, the bill being approved April 11, 1891. The Auditors of state for the last three terms have refused, for reasons unknown, to acknowledge this appropriation, but have charged the vouchers as drawn for the payment of these wages, amounting to $4,417.02, to General Building appropriation.

As all of the payments made by this Board came out of the same fund, Capitol Building Fund, the above amount has been charged to Building and the appropriation returned.

For interest on Capitol Building Bonds, there has been drawn by the Auditor and paid by the Treasurer, without any consent of this Board, $13,875, which is to be returned to the fund from which drawn, whenever sufficient collections are made for interest on Capitol Bonds Fund.

The amounts were drawn as follows:

By Treasurer J. N. Carlisle, on Capitol Building Fund..	$11,250.00
By Auditor L. B. Schwanbeck, on Capitol Building Appropriation	2,625.00

As the last Legislature did not, as herebefore, pass an act transferring to Capitol Building Fund the collections of Public Building Income Fund and Public Building Permanent Fund for the fiscal years 1895 and 1896, there stands to the credit of

The former.....	$ 506.79
And the latter.....	995.89
	<hr/>

which should be transferred to the above fund.

During the fiscal years of 1895 and 1896 there has been paid for labor, not included in contracts and propositions, $69,152.53, drawn from:

BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS.

Building appropriation.....	$37,971.14

OF THE

TENTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

OF THE STATE OF COLORADO.

APPROPRIATION—Capitol Building.

(S. B. 242, by Senator Leddy.)

AN ACT

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

Section 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury, being funds created by levy or otherwise, for the construction of the State Capitol building, and from such other funds as make part of what is known and styled as the "Capitol Building Fund", and not otherwise appropriated, the sum of two hundred thousand (200,000) dollars, which said amount, added to moneys heretofore appropriated for the construction of said Capitol building, brings such appropriations, for the construction of said Capitol building to the total sum of two million four hundred and fifty thousand (2,450,000) dollars; said appropriation being rendered necessary in order to enable the Board of Capitol Managers to use the product of Colorado marble quarries in the construction and finishing of that portion of the building wherein marble is to be used. And it is hereby further provided, that the Board of Capitol Managers shall complete the said building by the first day of January, 1897, and as much sooner than such time as the character of work and their ability to realize appropriations made therefor, and to procure material necessary, produced in Colorado, for that purpose, renders it practicable.

Sec. 2. The Auditor of State is hereby authorized and directed to issue certificates of indebtedness for all claims duly audited and certified by the Board of Capitol Managers for material furnished and labor performed in and about the erection and construction of said building, where there are no funds in the treasury at the time of the issuance thereof, to meet the same; said certificates of indebtedness to be payable out of the Capitol Building Fund and out of the moneys appropriated for the erection and completion of said Capitol building.

The faith and credit of the State of Colorado is hereby pledged for the payment of interest and principal of this indebtedness; and it is further Provided, That the said certificates of indebtedness shall be presented to the State Treasurer, who shall thereupon countersign and endorse the same as bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum from the date of the presentation to the date of payment thereof; but in no event shall the certificates be in excess of the appropriations made for the construction and completion of said building.

Sec. 3. On the tenth day of each and every month, if there be funds in the treasury to pay any certificates of indebtedness provided for in the foregoing section, the Treasurer of State is hereby required and directed to give notice by advertisement in a newspaper published in the city of Denver, designating the certificate by number, in the order of their presentation to the State Treasurer and endorsed thereon, which the funds in the treasury will pay. At the expiration of thirty days from the date of the last insertion, interest on the certificates so named as being payable shall cease.

Sec. 4. That for the purpose of laying out, ornamenting and beautifying the grounds of the Capitol building of the State of Colorado, there is hereby appropriated out of the Capitol Building Fund the sum of forty thousand (40,000) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary.

Sec. 5. For the maintenance and support of the State Capitol building of the State of Colorado, for the furnishing of heat, light, water, janitor service, etc., for the fiscal year of 1895, or that part of 1895 not already provided for, and for the fiscal year of 1896, there is hereby appropriated out of the Capitol Building Fund the sum of fifty thousand (50,000) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary. The care and control of said building shall be with the Board of Capitol Managers for the two years aforesaid.

Sec. 6. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed.

Sec. 7. In the opinion of the General Assembly an emergency exists with regard to the matters provided for in this bill; and, therefore, this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved March 30, 1895.

APPROPRIATION—Historical Society.

Sec. 2. Said money shall be paid by the State Treasurer upon the warrant of the Auditor of State, issued upon vouchers of said society, attested by the signatures of the president and secretary of said society.

Sec. 3. In the opinion of the General Assembly an emergency exists; therefore, this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

MARBLE.

Section 1 of the act approved April 7th, 1893, relating to State Capitol (pages 71-72, Session Laws 1893) authorized the Board to change the material to be used in the construction of the interior of the building from hardwood to marble and iron.

Referring to marble work, the Board, November 27, 1893, instructed the Secretary to advertise for sixty days for proposals, as follows:

Sealed proposals will be received by the Secretary of the Board of Capitol Managers until 12 o'clock noon, mountain time, February 1st, 1894, for marble and tile work.

Drawings, specifications and details can be seen in the office of the Superintendent, Peter Gumry, at the Capitol building, Denver, Colorado.

Proposals must be submitted on blanks furnished by the Superintendent, the Board of Capitol Managers reserving the right to accept such proposals as they may deem for the best interest of the State, or to reject any and all propositions.

All bidders will be required to furnish a certified check, payable to the order of the Board of Capitol Managers, equal in amount to two and one-half (2½) per cent. of the bids submitted, which amount will be forfeited to the Board in the event of the failure or refusal of any successful bidder to enter into contract with sufficient sureties.

Payments for material furnished and labor performed will be made in cash, providing there are funds in the treasury to the credit of the Capitol building fund, otherwise in certificates of indebtedness, bearing interest at the rate of six (6) per cent. (See Session Laws of 1893, pages 71 to 74.)

All bids must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for State Capitol Building, Class —," and addressed to the Secretary of the Board of Capitol Managers, Postoffice Box 1242, or Room 252 Equitable Building, Denver, Colorado.

Colorado Marble (Yule Creek).

This bid subject to guarantee that owners of quarry will furnish marble as specified, to the satisfaction of the Board of Capitol Managers.

After reading the bids, the Board adjourned until February 15th, in order to have an opportunity to thoroughly examine the samples of marble and tile work accompanying the proposals.

At this meeting the Board agreed that Colorado marble only should be used, not from one quarry alone, but as many as would be able to furnish suitable material should be represented, in order to give that important industry of our State the greatest possible opportunity.

Among the proposals received, it will be noticed that only four were for Colorado marble, namely:

Proposal No. VII.—Davidson & Sons, Chicago, Ill. (No quarry mentioned, and not known as owning any in the State;

Proposal No. XI.—Wm. J. Grant, Denver. Supposed to be "Yule Creek" marble;

Proposal No. XIV.—The Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company. Marble from quarry at Beulah, Pueblo County; and Proposal No. XX.—Same company. Yule Creek marble, subject to guarantee that owner of said quarry would furnish marble, as specified, to the satisfaction of the Board.

This left but a small field for the Board to make selections from, as far as Colorado marble was concerned. It is true, several owners of other quarries had sent samples, with the information that they were, or soon would be, ready to furnish material, but none had complied with the terms of the advertisement or specifications in submitting proposals. In fact, their communications showed plainly that their quarries were not sufficiently opened to allow them to put in a bid as required. On the other hand, the Board was compelled to make immediate arrangements, at least, to provide marble for certain purposes, the most important of which was wainscoting and stalls for water closets throughout the entire building, in order not to delay the plumbers. The contract for this work was, therefore, let February 15th, 1894, to the Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company, as per section XII. of their Proposal No. 14, at $6,914.84, quality and color of marble subject to the approval of the Board.

Owing to the failure of the company to deliver any of the material contracted for, the Board, on August 31st, 1894, entered into an agreement with said company to temporarily furnish Tennessee instead of Colorado marble, the Board retaining the difference in price, with the understanding that, as soon as the contractors could furnish Colorado marble of sufficient size, the Tennessee marble should be removed and Colorado marble substituted. The Tennessee marble not having arrived in October, the work on the lavatories could no longer be delayed, and temporary wooden stalls had to be used. Since this was done, part of the Eastern material has arrived.

In order to complete the Governor's reception room with a marble base, the Board, April 10th, 1894, accepted the Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company's bid, as per Proposal No. 14, Section XIII., amounting to $953.94, and for border added, which had not been called for in original specifications, the sum agreed upon was $495, in all $1,448.94, the material to be exclusively Colorado marble, quality and color to be selected by the Superintendent. This work was completed to the satisfaction of the Board during October, 1894.

Another part of the marble work considered absolutely necessary was the tiling of the entire first floor, which, besides the corridors, included dome, vaults, lavatories and certain space in business offices of Secretary of State, Treasurer and Auditor. This work was also awarded to the Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company, April 10th, 1894, at $19,010.43, as per Proposal No. 14, Section II., of their bid, opened February 1, 1894, the material used to be all Colorado marble.

The Board regrets to state that the progress of this latter work has been most disappointing, the company up to this date having only covered space in the offices of the State officials mentioned, and is now at work on the lavatories.

When it became evident that the tiling of the first floor could not be completed in time for occupancy of the building by the Legislature and State officers, the Board, September 5th, 1894, instructed the Superintendent to proceed to cover all of the first floor corridors temporarily with cement, in the same manner as previously ordered for basement, second and third floors, as well as for all walls throughout the building, where marble wainscoting was intended to be used.

To say that the Board has been greatly disappointed with the progress of the marble work contracted for, expresses it but mildly. Considering the proposals received, in order to commence marble work and use exclusively Colorado material, there was no other alternative than to accept the proposition of the Denver Onyx and Marble Manufacturing Company, or reject all bids and delay the work longer than necessary. The quarries of this company had been more developed than any other, and it alone possessed machinery, at that time, for cutting and dressing the material, after being delivered in Denver in its crude state.

From investigation, reports and samples received and examined, the Board is fully convinced that there are many quarries in our State capable of furnishing an inexhaustable supply of marble of the finest quality, both as to texture and color, for any purpose, but the fact is demonstrated that only a few are sufficiently developed at present to contract for the delivery of material in large quantities, which is proven by the small number of bids received. On the other hand, the Board has received many advices during the summer, from different owners, that they were now ready to furnish marble, which shows that in some cases owners had commenced to open quarries. Of course, such propositions could not be considered after the time for receiving and opening bids had expired, as the law requires the Board to advertise for all material and labor exceeding the amount of $500.

DOME.

The exterior of the dome is completed, with the exception of the statuary to crown the same, for which the model has not as yet been selected. The bell of the dome is left uncovered, as the Board is yet undecided what material to use. The plastering in the interior is almost finished, and as soon as the stairs and balustrades are received they can be placed in position. All material for this work, as well as railings and bronze balustrades for north and south corridors, was contracted for with Lane Bridge and Iron Works, July 3d, 1894. To conceal the interior of the bell of the dome, a metal diaphragm will have to be placed over the well-hole.

LIGHTING.

The entire building is provided with gas, in addition to electric wiring, so that either may be used in any portion of the building. The installation of the electric light plant is what is known as the two multiple arc system, based on a pressure of one hundred volts, with a two per cent. loss. Every wire is placed in a separate brass tube throughout the building, and is so arranged that the wire can be readily drawn from the outlets through the junction boxes.

No provision having been made for dynamos and engine for providing light, arrangements have been made with The Denver Consolidated Electric Company to furnish same at meter rates.

HEATING AND VENTILATING.

This plant is practically completed and in running order. The powerful fans and air ducts have been thoroughly tested and found satisfactory.

PLUMBING.

This is nearly completed.

ELEVATORS.

July 20th, 1893, the Board, by advertisement, called for proposals for elevators, pumps and pressure tanks, which were opened August 31st, 1893, and read as follows:

Hale Elevator Company	$19,000 00
Crane Elevator Company	13,667 00

Both of which were rejected.

After re-advertising, the Board, November 28th, 1894, received the following bids:

The Mountain Electric Company, Denver, bid on Sprague-Pratt electric elevator, $21,500.

Crane Elevator Company, Chicago, Ill., nine proposals, averaging from $14,311 to $16,436.

Winslow Bros.' Elevator Company, Chicago, Ill., five proposals, averaging from $18,437 to $20,264.

The Board not having sufficient time to examine the different propositions, has not awarded the contract at the close of this report.

SEWER CONNECTION.

X It has always been claimed by the Board of Public Works that the Capitol grounds were included by Ordinance 117 in the Twentieth street sanitary sewer district, and therefore were assessed for its proportion of the cost of sewers in said district, which tax on one hundred and twenty (120) lots, the area of the grounds, the Board contended was illegal, as to the whole of the grounds, or any part thereof. Owing to this difference of opinion, the connection with the city sewer has been delayed until a stipulation between the Board of Public Works and this Board was effected in September, 1894, whereby it was mutually agreed that upon payment of $1,650, covering an area equal to thirty (30) lots, and embracing all the grounds upon which the Capitol and buildings pertinent thereto are situate, the Board of Public Works would issue a permit to the Board of Capitol Managers to connect the building with the sewer, the same to be used for drainage and other proper sewer purposes.

The question as to whether the Capitol grounds, or any part thereof, is subject to a sewer tax or not, is by this agreement left wholly unaffected and undetermined, and is to be referred to a court of competent jurisdiction for final determination.

A copy of the stipulation is on file in the office of the Board of Capitol Managers. X

CAPITOL BUILDING GROUNDS.

The work performed during the last two years has been principally grading, excavating and filling, where necessary, on the west front, and about the building where the grounds are no longer occupied by contractors.

The time has now arrived for laying out, ornamenting and beautifying the grounds.

As stated in the Fourth Biennial Report, the Board has four plans, obtained by advertisement, no one of which has been selected, as there was no competition, only one party responding to the call. Combining the suggestions presented by the several plans referred to, the Board has instructed the Superintendent to prepare a plan of walks, drives, water pipe system and drainage, which is now completed, and forms the basis for further improvements.

The first thing after finishing the grading, of which but little remains to be done, and laying out of walks and drives, is the locating of water and drainage pipes, for sprinklers and fountains, after which sodding and seeding can commence and trees and shrubbery be planted.

All walks and drives should be macadamized; also, the necessary stone steps for terraces built, together with a foundation for the bronze group, "The Closing Era," donated by the women of Denver to adorn the grounds, and now in charge of the Board.

In order to keep the walls of the water table course clean, and for the working of lawn mowers, a walk of suitable material, not less than four feet wide, should run entirely around the building, following all angles.

There should be provided, for special occasions, a system of lighting the drives and walks in the grounds.

SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the Board of Capitol Managers:

GENTLEMEN:—I present herewith a statement of the receipts and disbursements on account of the Capitol building for the fiscal years 1893 and 1894, covering all financial transactions from December 1st, 1892, to November 30th, 1894, inclusive.

All estimates and bills were duly allowed by the Board, and certified to the State Auditor, who drew a warrant on the State Treasurer for the amount of each voucher, and in favor of the owner thereof.

Your attention is respectfully called to the act of 1891, appropriating out of Capitol building fund five thousand ($5,000) dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, for the relief of certain laborers, who had performed work upon the Capitol building under W. D. Richardson, late contractor, and who had not been paid for their labor.

The Auditor, not having charged the amount as an additional appropriation, I would suggest that the next General Assembly be requested to authorize him to do so.

The Treasurer has not been able to restore the first year's interest paid on Capitol building bonds, and taken from Capitol building fund. The amount is $13,875, of which $2,625 was paid by Treasurer Brisbane upon a warrant issued by Auditor Schwanbeck, and which has been charged by Auditor to appropriation account.

The balance ($11,250) was paid by Treasurer Carlile without a warrant, and has not been charged by Auditor or me to appropriation.

These amounts have been charged to general building account.

Respectfully,

HERMAN LUEDERS,

DENVER, COLO., December 1, 1894.

Secretary.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury, being funds created by levy or otherwise, for the constructed [construction] of the State Capitol building, and from such other funds as make part of what is known and styled as the Capitol Building Fund, and not otherwise appropriated, the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, which said amount added to moneys heretofore appropriated for said Capitol building brings said appropriations to the total sum of two million dollars; that for the purpose of changing the material to be used in the construction of the interior of the State Capitol building from hardwood to marble and iron, and to finish the same in a suitable manner, in order that the interior thereof may correspond with the architectural design of the exterior, and with the character of the material used in the construction thereof, and to more thoroughly and completely finish said building, there is also appropriated in addition to the moneys herein and hereby and heretofore appropriated, the further sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars out of any moneys in the treasury, being funds created by levy or otherwise for the construction of the State Capitol building; which said sums so herein and hereby appropriated are to be used and expended in the completion of the erection of the State Capitol building; and such appropriations are to be in addition to the unexpended appropriations heretofore made for said purpose, and the limit of the total cost of the construction of said Capitol building is hereby increased, so as to permit said additional sums herein appropriated to be thus expended and applied. And it appearing that from the changes in the material employed in the construction of said building, and the changes of material heretofore made by acts of the Legislature, and rendered necessary, in order that said structure may be uniform in its character and of fitting material, that the increase above provided for in the amount to be expended in the erection of said building has become necessary; and it also appearing that, owing to the failure to realize the funds contemplated by former acts of the Legislature, that the time for completing said building, named in former acts, was insufficient, it is hereby further provided that the Board of Capitol Managers shall complete the said building by the first day of January, A. D. 1895, and as much sooner than such time as the character of work and their ability to realize the appropriations made therefor renders it possible for them to do.

SEC. 2. In view of the unavoidable delays that have necessarily resulted in delaying the completion of said building, owing to the changes in the character of material employed, and the failure to obtain the moneys necessary for the completion thereof within the times contemplated by former acts of the Legislature upon the subject, and in view of the necessity for the speedy completion of said building, and in order that the Board of Capitol Managers may be provided from time to time with the means necessary for the early completion of the State Capitol building for occupancy by the State officers, the Auditor of State is hereby authorized and directed to issue certificates of indebtedness for all claims duly audited and certified by the said Board of Capitol Managers for material furnished and labor performed in and about the erection of said building, and for the construction thereof, where there are no funds in the treasury at the time of the issuance thereof to meet the same; said certificates to be payable out of the Capitol building fund and the moneys appropriated for the erection and completion of said Capitol building. The faith and credit of the State of Colorado is hereby pledged for the payment of interest and principal of this indebtedness; and that the said certificates shall be presented to the State Treasurer, who shall thereupon countersign and endorse the same as bearing interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum from the date of the presentation to the date of the payment thereof; but in no event shall the certificates be in excess of the probable revenues accruing to the said Capitol building fund from the tax levied for the years 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895 and 1896, or in excess of the appropriations made for the completion of said building.

SEC. 3. On the tenth day of each and every month, if there be funds in the treasury to pay any certificates of indebtedness provided for in the foregoing section, the Auditor of State is hereby required and directed to give notice by advertisement in a newspaper, printed in the City of Denver, designating the certificates by number in the order of their presentation to the State Treasurer, and endorsed thereon, which the funds in the Treasury will pay. At the expiration of thirty days from the date of the last insertion, interest on the certificates of indebtedness so named as being payable shall cease.

SEC. 4. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed.

SEC. 5. In the opinion of the General Assembly, an emergency exists with regard to the matters provided for in this bill; and, therefore, this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 7, 1893.

AN ACT

MAKING AN APPROPRIATION OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR THE PURPOSE OF FURNISHING THE STATE CAPITOL BUILDING.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the treasury, being funds created by levy or otherwise, and from such other funds as may be made part of what is known and styled as the Capitol Building Fund, and not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars for the purpose of furnishing the State Capitol building of Colorado. And it is hereby provided that said sum, or so much thereof as may be necessary therefor, shall be expended by the Board of Capitol Managers of the State of Colorado for the purpose of furnishing said State Capitol building.

SEC. 2. Whereas, in the opinion of the General Assembly, an emergency exists; therefore, this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 7, 1893.

AN ACT

TO AUTHORIZE THE BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS TO DESIGNATE AND SET APART A ROOM IN THE NEW CAPITOL BUILDING FOR PERMANENT HEADQUARTERS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF COLORADO AND WYOMING GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, AND FOR OTHER PURPOSES.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. The Board of Capitol Managers are authorized and directed to set apart for the use of the headquarters of the Department of Colorado and Wyoming Grand Army of the Republic a suitable room for the safe keeping of books, papers, records and relics belonging to the Department of Colorado and Wyoming Grand Army of the Republic.

REPORT
OF THE
BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS
OF THE
STATE OF COLORADO.

DENVER, COLO., December 1, 1892.

To the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

In accordance with the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of the State of Colorado, entitled "An act to provide for the erection and completion of a State Capitol building, at the City of Denver, and creating a Board of Management and Supervision," approved April 1st, 1889, we herewith respectfully present the following report of our transactions for the years A. D. 1891 and 1892.

The election of Manager John L. Routt as Governor of Colorado, and the assumption by him of the duties of that office in January, 1891, created a vacancy in the membership of the Board, which was filled by the appointment of ex-Governor Job A. Cooper.

The following is a synopsis of the important business transacted by the Board outside of the routine affairs.

SUPERVISING ARCHITECT.

At a meeting held December 15th, 1890, the question arose as to the necessity for employing a supervising architect, the duties of such having been performed, since the discharge of E. E. Myers, late Supervising Architect, June, 1889, by Peter Gumry, Superintendent, thereby saving the State a large amount for commission, traveling expenses, etc.

The Board being in doubt about the matter, Mr. Charles J. Hughes, Jr., was requested to prepare a legal opinion, which was, in substance, as follows:

That by the terms of the contract with Geddis & Seerie, the Board was bound to have a superintendent, but was not bound to provide an architect; that the Board could put upon the Superintendent duties in addition to those put upon him by the provisions of the contract itself; that if the Board made changes, and the contractors consented to them, the approval of the architect was unnecessary; and that, so far as the legality of the action of the Board, under the contract, is concerned, they are not affected by the failure to provide an architect.

In view of the foregoing, the Board has not employed a supervising architect, but all the duties incident to this office have been performed by Mr. Peter Gumry, Superintendent, without additional compensation.

W. D. RICHARDSON LABOR RELIEF.

In accordance with an act of the last General Assembly, approved April 11, 1891, providing for the relief of certain laborers who had performed work on the Capitol building and in the granite quarries at Georgetown, for W. D. Richardson, during the year 1877, formerly contractor for the erection of the said Capitol building, and who had not been paid for their labor, on account of the failure of said Richardson to comply with his contract, and his insolvency, and appropriating $5,000 for the above purpose out of the Capitol building fund, and authorizing the Board of Capitol Managers to audit such claims, it was discovered that said work had been performed during the year 1887 and not, as the act stated, in 1877. The Attorney General having filed his opinion upon this question, to the effect that the presence of the date, 1877, in said act was a mistake, which should be corrected by construing the law to mean 1887, the Board, on October 3d, 1891, adopted the following regulations to govern the auditing of these claims:

That every person making claim should file with the Secretary of the Board a sworn claim, setting forth the name and residence, the character of work performed, the term when the same was performed, for whom the same was performed, the number of days he was engaged in said labor, the compensation per day he was to receive, the total amount of said claim, the amount he had received in payment thereon, if anything; and that he had not assigned or otherwise disposed of said claim, but was the present holder thereof. Or, if said claim be made by a person claiming as assignee from a laborer, the fact should be stated and the written assignment of the same should be filed with the claim. In addition to the sworn claim filed, claimants should file their time checks or other evidence of indebtedness issued to them on behalf of Richardson.

For claims allowed, claimants should receipt to the Board, giving their voucher for the same, and assigning and transferring to the Board their claims against W. D. Richardson for the amount of the allowance.

The following notice was published in the Denver newspapers for ten days, notifying parties to file their claims:

Any persons having claims for compensation as laborers upon the Capitol building at Denver and in the granite quarries at Georgetown, against W. D. Richardson, contractor, during the year 1887, may file a written claim, under oath, for the same with the Secretary of the Board of Capitol Managers, at any time within sixty days from the 5th day of October, A. D. 1891.

Requirements of proof can be found at the office of the Board, Room 44, Barclay Block.

By order of the Board.

HERMAN LUEDERS, Secretary.

There being nothing on record in this office to guide the Board as to the validity of the claims presented, it was a fortunate circumstance that through the courtesy of Messrs.

Thomas & Thomas, attorneys, they obtained a time book giving the names, services, etc., of employés, during September and October, 1887.

' Up to date, ninety-six claims have been examined, of which ninety-three were allowed and three were rejected. The latter are:

King & France, hauling material.....	$1,345 53
Albert Schulz, general superintendent.....	325 00
T. A. Jackson, clerk.....	150 00

As far as can be ascertained, there is a record of $800 worth of labor performed, for which no claimants have appeared, and a balance on hand, of the original appropriation, of $814.23.

It may be presumed that but few of the remaining claims will ever be presented, owing to the fact that the claimants have long since removed from the State.

E. E. MYERS,

LATE ARCHITECT OF THE CAPITOL BUILDING.

June 3d, 1891, the Board passed a resolution instructing the Secretary to notify Mr. Myers that the amount of $1,600 was at his disposal, as soon as he could show a satisfactory adjustment of all assignments and attachments against him, thereby relieving the State from all further liability in this matter.

This action was taken at the suggestion of the chairman, and with a view of arranging a settlement with Mr. Myers, owing to the numerous written requests received from him by the several members of the Board, but no reply was made.

August 30th, 1892, Mr. Charles Mills addressed the Board regarding his late father's claim against Mr. Myers, amounting to $1,737. He was informed that the Board would not hesitate to settle this matter, as far as the amount due E. E. Myers was concerned, namely, $1,600, in full of all demands against the State, providing he would conform with the terms of the above resolution.

The following communication was read by the Secretary,
October 5th, 1892:

DETROIT, MICH., September 20, 1892.

The Board of Capitol Managers of the State of Colorado.

GENTLEMEN—You will please take notice that a certain assignment made by me to William B. Mills, late of Denver, of my claim against the State of Colorado, under contract with yourselves, for the superintending of the building of the State capitol, was made by me at the request of said Mills, and merely for the purpose of securing him for services performed and to be performed by him as attorney in my behalf, and to facilitate him in the collection of said claim, and that said assignment was not intended as an absolute assignment of the whole amount of said claim.

You will, therefore, please make no settlement, with any person, of said claim without my consent in writing thereto.

Yours etc.,

E. E. MYERS.

CAPITOL BUILDING GROUNDS.

As soon as the use of the grounds by the contractors ceased to be necessary, the fence and houses were removed, and on April 6th, 1892, the Board entered into an agreement with Mr. Geo. H. Angell, C. E., to make a survey, taking elevations every ten feet each way, prepare a plat, estimate the amount of earth necessary to be removed, and establish proper grades. May 4th, Mr. Angell presented his report, estimating that in order to grade the grounds from west front to Broadway, 13,500 yards of earth would have to be moved.

On May 22d, the Board assembled to open proposals for grading the grounds, received in response to an advertisement published for ten days in the three Denver dailies, which were as follows:

No. 1. William Ford.....	$1,675 00
No. 2. G. W. Harriman	1,600 00
No. 3. J. A. Osner	1,275 00
No. 4. T. C. Scanlon	1,143 00
No. 5. John Kiely.....	1,505 00
No. 6. B. A. Harbour & Co.....	1,300 00
No. 7. J. P. McAdams	1,324 00
No. 8. Geddis & Seerie.....	1,260 00
No. 9. Wellet & Co.....	1,650 00

Mr. T. C. Scanlon being the lowest bidder, he was awarded the contract, for $1,143.

As soon as a room in the Capitol building can be prepared for the Superintendent's office, the building heretofore occupied for that purpose, on Colfax avenue, will be removed.

The Committee on Grounds is now engaged in finishing grading around the Capitol on Colfax avenue and Fourteenth avenue, and a space for a sidewalk around the entire grounds, 30 feet in width, will be left.

In order to obtain a proper grade for terracing and reducing the elevation of the ground, it was necessary to lower the west approach, or main entrance of the building, two feet below the former level.

To comply with the law, a regular system of water closets had to be constructed.

It is a matter of regret to the Board not to have been able to comply with the numerous requests of prominent citizens to beautify the grounds for the conclave. To do this would have required the expenditure of considerable money, which the Board was not justified in taking from the appropriation authorizing them to lay out, ornament, and beautify the grounds, as the improvement for the conclave could only have been of a temporary character, and the amount expended therefor wasted. Whatever plan to ornament the grounds may be finally adopted, the work performed so far would have necessarily to be done anyhow.

CONTRACTS.

The bid of the former firm was accepted.

TEMPORARY ENCLOSING THE BUILDING.

On August 30, 1892, the Board passed a resolution to temporarily close the doors and windows, as a protection to the building, to remain until the plastering was finished, and instructed the Secretary to advertise for ten days, for bids, in the Denver Republican, Colorado Sun, and Rocky Mountain News. Five proposals were received, namely:

Mr. Anderson being the lowest bidder, he was awarded the contract at the amount stated.

EXTERIOR CONSTRUCTION OF DOME.

August 30, 1892, the Superintendent submitted fifty-two detail drawings, showing the exterior finish of the dome, except the figure surmounting the same, which were examined and approved. The Secretary was authorized to prepare and submit a form of advertisement calling for proposals, classifying material and labor, as follows:

This advertisement was published for thirty days in the Denver Republican, Colorado Sun, Engineering Record (New York), and Engineering Publishing News Company (New York).

CAPITOL BUILDING BONDS.

The Board of Commissioners of the State Debt convened at the Governor's office, December 9th, 1891, in accordance with an act of the Eighth General Assembly, entitled "An act to provide for the creation of an additional bonded indebtedness by the State, to the amount of three hundred thousand dollars, to aid in the construction of the State Capitol building," approved March 26th, 1891. (P. 49, Session Laws of 1891.)

Present:

Hon. John L. Routt, Governor;

Hon. Edwin J. Eaton, Secretary of State;

Hon. John M. Henderson, Auditor of State.

December 28th, 1891, the Board met to consider the following proposals, received in response to advertisements published in the Denver Republican, Colorado Sun, Rocky Mountain News, Denver Times, and the Commercial and Financial Chronicle, of New York:

Bid No. 1—Blair & Co., offering $307,860 for the entire issue of the second series of Capitol Building bonds, subject, however, to the condition that these bonds must be a legal investment for the Savings Bank of New York State.

Bid No. 2—N. W. Harris, offering $133 premium for the entire issue.

Bid No. 3—H. Leopold, offering $303,750 for the entire issue.

Bid No. 4—McIntosh & Mygatt, offering $300,560 for the entire issue.

Bid No. 5—Geo. H. Taylor, offering $301,125 for the entire issue.

By unanimous vote of the Board, the bid of H. Leopold, at $303,750, was accepted.

The entire bonded indebtedness of the State of Colorado now consists of Capitol Building bonds, first and second series; total, six hundred thousand dollars.

INTEREST ON CAPITOL BUILDING BONDS.

In accordance with Section 7 of the acts of 1883 and 1889, providing for the creation of a bonded indebtedness by the State to the amount of $300,000 and $300,000, respectively, to aid in the construction of the State Capitol building, the State Treasurer was authorized and directed to apply any moneys at that time in his hands belonging to the Capitol building fund, for the payment of coupons representing the first year's interest accruing on the bonds to be issued under said acts, such moneys so used to be restored by him to the said Capitol building fund by transfer from the Interest fund as soon as a sufficient amount was received into the said Interest fund from the collection of interest tax, as provided by law.

During the last two years, there has been taken and applied by the State Treasurer, from the Capitol building fund, $13,875 in payment of the coupons representing the interest on first and second series up to the close of the present fiscal year. For this amount, the Secretary has no vouchers, as the State Treasurer has paid this sum from the Capitol building fund. It appears, however, that Auditor Schwanbeck issued his warrant, for the payment of part of the amount above mentioned, to Treasurer Brisbane, being $2,625, but no warrants were issued for the balance of interest paid during the term of Auditor Henderson and Treasurer Carlile.

The Auditor's balance of Capitol building fund should show a difference of appropriation unexpended of $11,250.

The Secretary has opened an account named "Capitol Building Interest," showing a debit of $13,875 to be repaid to the Capitol building fund as soon as the Treasurer has sufficient amount on hand collected for Interest fund.

CHANGES IN WORK, AND ADDITIONS.

As the granite and brick-work progressed, the Board saw itself confronted with the absolute necessity for making certain changes and additions. Owing to defects in the original plans, drawings and specifications, the Superintendent found himself embarrassed by obstacles which would not permit certain parts of the work to be carried out as designed by the architect, and which could only be overcome by adopting the following changes:

1. Alterations from straight lintels to semi-circle of window-heads under east portico.

The original designs, by the architect, of the approach under the east portico were for narrow steps, with door-heads semi-circles, and straight lintels for windows. In consequence of the widening of the steps, it became necessary to change the lintels of the windows to semi-circles, in order to harmonize with the door-heads.

2. Fluting pilaster caps.

On the scale-drawing furnished by the architect at the time the work was estimated, the pilaster caps were to be of plain finish. After the contract had been let, full detail drawings were furnished by the architect, showing the pilaster caps with fluted necks, which, after due deliberation, was concluded to be the proper style of finish.

3. Carving Corinthian caps.

The original plans furnished by Architect Myers called for plain caps for the twenty columns supporting the pediments over the entrances, finished in the same style as the pilaster caps. The perspective drawings of the elevation, likewise furnished by the architect, show these columns with Corinthian caps, which he undoubtedly considered the proper style of architecture. The Board therefore concluded that to enhance the exterior beauty of the building, this additional change should be made.

4. Adding four steps to main entrance at west front.

In view of the fact that the approach to the main entrance at the west front was lowered two feet (see capitol building grounds), it became necessary to add four steps with railings, and additional masonry.

5. Changing spandrels of all outside steps from rock-face to six-cut.

Although the original specifications, drawings and elevations called for rock-face, it was decided to change this work to six-cut, in order to harmonize with the exterior finish of the building.

6. Changing cut-stone work of dentil course in main cornice from sunk V bevel to sunk space.

The original drawings by Architect Myers, to a scale of $\frac{1}{2}$ inch and $1\frac{1}{2}$ inches to the foot, show a sunk V bevel, and upon these drawings and details Messrs. Geddis & Seerie based their calculations. After the contract had been awarded, the architect furnished a full-size detail drawing, showing the dentil course with a sunk space 4 inches by 5 inches by $10\frac{1}{2}$ inches, in place of the sunk V bevel, the latter being correct. It therefore became necessary to adopt this change as designed by the architect in the full-size detail drawings.

7. Additional cost for material and labor added to main cornice.

At the time the original plans were furnished by E. E. Myers, architect, his attention was called by the Superintendent to the fact that the dimension of stone to be placed in courses C and D of the main cornice was insufficient to balance itself without temporary support, until the cut stone and masonry above was placed in position, as shown by a sketch furnished by the Superintendent. Considering the risk and injury to the building which might have occurred had the work been carried out in this doubtful manner, the Board, upon the urgent recommendation of the Superintendent, decided to add sufficient material, thereby avoiding all chances of damage.

8. Changing material for floor and ceiling arches from brick to hollow-tile terra cotta level arches.

It was originally designed by the Architect to use brick for floor and ceiling arches, and upon this basis the contractors estimated the cost. Upon examination, it was deemed advisable to change the material from brick to terra cotta, and the contractors were instructed to calculate the difference in cost, which proved to be advantageous to the State, for the following reasons:

First—All wood furring and lath work would be avoided.

Second—The difference in the cost of plastering on lath work would be greater than the additional cost of substituting terra cotta for brick.

Third—All ceilings, being “straight arches” by using terra cotta, are preferable to decorators for ornamental work.

The Board, therefore, deemed it expedient to authorize the change.

PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

STATEMENT OF PROGRESS IN THE ERECTION OF THE CAPITOL BUILDING, FROM DECEMBER 1, 1890, TO NOVEMBER 30, 1892.

The cut-stone work throughout the building has been completed, standing as an everlasting monument to the resources of Colorado granite quarries. All the interior walls of brick and stone, supporting the massive trusses and the roof, are up and finished, their proportions impressing one with a sense of security.

The steel beams and girders, the brick and tile arches of the several floors of the structure are in place, ready to receive the furring and cementing preparatory to laying the floors.

A temporary flight of stairs, leading from the first floor to the third floor, has been built, for the convenience of the public and artisans.

The slate roof, skylights, copper gutters, and ventilators are practically completed. A few words with regard to the slate will not be amiss, as there are few buildings in the United States having slate equal in size, and it is doubtful if laid with more care and skill. The slates are fourteen inches wide by twenty-seven inches long, by three-eighths of an inch thick, held in place by two brass screws to each slate, the greater portion of which is bedded on cement.

The roof-drainage system has been completed, one-half of the water falling on the roof being carried into Colfax avenue and the other half into Fourteenth avenue, by means of vitrified-clay sewer pipe. The exterior window and door openings of the building have been temporarily closed, to prevent the action of the elements from damaging the floors; also for the protection of future artisan work.

The skeleton work of the dome is up to floor in bell of dome, at a height of one hundred and ninety feet and three inches above grade line of building. The contract for the remainder of the skeleton work has been let, as well as for the covering and windows of the entire dome, from roof line to top of lantern, which is to be surmounted by a statue, not yet selected.

The top of lantern will be two hundred and forty-four feet and six inches above grade line of building. The contract for covering of the dome includes the construction of a system of circular stairs and ladders, by means of which access to the floor of lantern is obtained, at a distance of two hundred and twenty-two feet above grade line of building.

From this lofty height, the grandeur of the view is beyond description. Suffice it to say, that over one hundred and fifty miles of the Rocky Mountain range, with its snowy peaks, can be seen at almost a glance, the valley and the beautiful city of Denver appearing like a huge panorama, once seen, never to be forgotten.

The main sewer system of the building has been extended to east side of Broadway.

The amount of material of various kinds used during the period of two years ending December 1, 1892, in the principal parts of the construction, is as follows:

- 110,882 cubic feet cut stone.
- 1,700,000 brick in floor arches.
- 6,817,886 brick in walls.
- 101,493 cubic feet of masonry in dome walls.
- 7,015 cubic feet stone backing.
- 6,390 pieces of stone beam bearings.
- 2,600 feet of drain pipe for roof drainage.
- 370 feet main sewer system.
- 493,000 pounds cast iron.
- 1,234,497 pounds steel beams, etc.
- 13,000 pounds of copper.
- 138,000 feet B. M. lumber.
- 50,700 square feet of slate.
- 1,763 square feet of skylight glass.
- 36,400 square feet of concrete on floor arches.

ESTIMATE OF FUNDS

REQUIRED FOR THE YEARS 1893 AND 1894, TO COMPLETE THE BUILDING.

According to the original plans of E. E. Myers, late architect, it was contemplated to finish the interior in wood, but this was at the time when the material for the construction of the building was to be sandstone. In view of the fact that granite has been used, the Board suggests that the adoption of wood for the interior finish of the building would be against all modern ideas of construction, and not at all in keeping with the edifice. So far, the building is absolutely fire-proof, but the use of combustible wood finish would not render it so; neither could it be considered durable or pleasing to the eye.

Referring to the wainscoting, the plans specify heavy paneled wood-work, which experience teaches is not desirable in this dry climate, nor reliable when used for such purposes. Changing said wood construction to marble would be more in harmony with the exterior finish of the building. Colorado marble quarries are now being rapidly developed, furnishing splendid quality of stone, and there can be no question but that the necessary quantity can be obtained here, thus further demonstrating the wonderful resources of our young State, in furnishing the splendid material for the erection of its chief public building.

The Board further desires to call your attention to the fact that the plans, as now drawn, call for the balustrades around the gallery of the House and Senate to be constructed entirely of wood. In the Board's opinion, a change to ornamental iron work would be far more safe and durable.

The plans also show the elevated floors throughout the building supported by a net work of wood construction, forming a veritable fire-trap. Changing this part of the construction to that of wrought iron, would make it fire-proof and more desirable.

As the interior finish of the doors and windows is exceedingly plain and entirely out of harmony with the exterior, a more elaborate design should be adopted in its place.

After carefully reviewing the different branches of artisan work required in the construction of the building, the Board finds that, to complete the work ready for occupancy, there will be required, as an additional appropriation, the amount of $400,000, to be distributed among the following branches:

- Marble and tile floors.
- Marble door sills and steps.
- Marble slabs for niches.
- Marble wainscoting.
- Carpenter work.
- Hardware.
- Wrought iron work.
- Cast iron work, including grand stairs.
- Statuary for dome.
- Vault doors.
- Elevators.
- Plastering and stucco work.
- Painting and graining.
- Glazing and glass.
- Plumbing, sewer, and water connections.
- Boilers, pumps, fans, heating and ventilation.
- Fan ducts, stacks and concrete work.
- Electric plant and wiring.
- Gas fitting.
- Stair work.
- Tile partitions.
- Gallery construction in house and senate.
- Galvanized iron work.
- Balustrades around grand stairs.
- Library and dome balconies.
- Elevated floors in house and gallery of senate.
- Lamp posts and connections.
- Not including shelving, racks and counters in offices, vaults and library.

The limit of the cost of the building, after the change from sandstone to granite had been decided upon, was to be $2,000,000. Of this amount, there has been appropriated $1,700,000, leaving a balance of unexpended appropriation of $300,000. Deducting therefrom amounts due contractors for unfinished work, retained percentage, and new contracts entered into but not yet commenced, estimated at $150,000, leaves $150,000 of the original amount appropriated unexpended.

The actual amount of cash now available, as per Secretary's report, is $78,922.91. To this may be added as cash receipts, provided for by law through the collection of Capitol building tax for the ensuing two years, the estimated amount of $225,000. This amount will be contingent upon the valuation of the taxable property, and the diligence with which the same will be collected.

In order to complete the work within a reasonable time, say in time for the occupancy of the building by the several departments within the next year, and for the Tenth General Assembly, if the necessary funds can be raised so that the work can be pushed as fast as possible; and to insure the prompt fulfillment of pending and future contracts, it will be necessary for the Legislature to pass such measures as will provide the Board with the necessary funds to meet every monied obligation to which they are bound.

The financial transactions of the Board are shown in the following report of the Secretary.

It is mutually understood, That this contract is made pursuant to an act of the Fifth General Assembly of the State of Colorado, entitled "An act to provide for the erection and completion of a State Capitol building at the City of Denver, and creating a Board of Management and Supervision," approved April 1, 1889, and that the provisions of said act control where the terms of this contract, if any, are in conflict therewith, and in all particulars in which this contract is silent.

ACTS

OF THE

EIGHTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

OF THE STATE OF COLORADO.

AN ACT

TO PROVIDE FOR THE CREATION OF AN ADDITIONAL BONDED INDEBTEDNESS BY THE STATE, TO THE AMOUNT OF THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, TO AID IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE STATE CAPITOL BUILDING.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. There shall be submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the State of Colorado, at the general election occurring in November, 1891, for their ratification or rejection, a proposition to create a bonded indebtedness of the State, to the amount of three hundred thousand dollars, the same to be additional to the indebtedness of three hundred thousand dollars heretofore authorized by the qualified electors, under an act approved February 11, 1883, the bonds representing such indebtedness to be due and payable in fifteen years from the date of issue, and to bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent. per annum, and not to be sold for less than their par value, the proceeds thereof to be used in the construction of the State Capitol building.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of State shall, at least thirty days prior to said general election, make out and cause to be delivered to the county clerk of each county in the State a notice, in writing, stating that at such general election the question of voting said bonded indebtedness will be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State; and the county clerk of each county shall thereupon give notice in writing of such election, and by causing the same to be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the county, and sending a copy of such notice by mail to the judges of election in each precinct, to be posted at the place of voting at least fifteen days before the date of said election.

SEC. 3. All persons voting on the question shall vote by separate ballot, which shall be deposited in a box to be used for that purpose only, on which ballot shall be printed the words, "For the creation of an additional bonded indebtedness of three hundred thousand dollars to aid in the erection of a State Capitol building;" or, "Against the creation of an additional bonded indebtedness of three hundred thousand dollars to aid in the erection of a State Capitol building." The vote so cast on the question of the creation of said bonded indebtedness shall be canvassed and the result determined in the same manner as provided by the laws of this State for the canvass and return of representatives in Congress.

SEC. 4. The board of commissioners of the State debt, as created by an act of the General Assembly, entitled "An act to provide for the creation of a bonded indebtedness on behalf of the State, to the amount of three hundred thousand dollars, to aid in the construction of a State Capitol building in the City of Denver, and for the submission of the question to a vote of the qualified electors of the State," approved February 11, 1883, shall have a like power and authority in respect to said additional bonded indebtedness as by said act was conferred upon said board in respect to the bonded indebtedness of three hundred thousand dollars, as created by said act and the ratification thereof by the qualified electors of the State of Colorado. If a majority of the votes lawfully cast shall be in favor of the creation of such indebtedness, then said board of commissioners shall proceed to carry out the provisions of this act by the issue of coupon bonds of the State of Colorado, as hereinafter set forth; the bonds issued shall be comprised in one series of three hundred bonds, numbered from number one to number three hundred, both numbers inclusive, to be of the denomination of one thousand dollars each, with interest at a rate to be determined by said board, but not to exceed four per cent. per annum, to be evidenced by coupons attached to said bonds, and to be paid semi-annually at the office of the State Treasurer, at the City of Denver, or at such bank or banking house in the City of New York, as said board may designate. The principal of said bonds shall be due and payable in fifteen years from date of issue, at the office of the State Treasurer. All the bonds issued under this act shall be registered in the office of the State Auditor, and his certificate of such registry and the seal of his office shall be affixed to each bond, which certificate and seal shall be evidence of their legal issue.

SEC. 5. The bonds issued under this act shall be known as "Capitol-Building Bonds, Second Series," and shall be signed by the Governor of the State, countersigned by the State Treasurer and attested by the Secretary of State, who shall affix the great seal of the State to each bond. They shall be numbered and registered in a book kept for that purpose by the State Treasurer, in the order in which they are issued. Each bond shall state upon its face the amount for which it is issued, to whom issued, for what purpose issued, the date of its issue and the title of this act, the text of which shall be printed on the reverse side of each bond.

SEC. 6. Whenever the bonds are issued, as provided in this act, it shall be the duty of the State board of equalization to levy and assess a special tax on all the taxable property in the State, sufficient in amount to discharge the interest accruing thereon, and payable half yearly; which tax, when collected, shall [be] paid into the State treasury to the credit of the interest fund. And, for the ultimate redemption of said bonds, there shall be levied annually for five years, after nine years from the date of their issue, such tax upon all the taxable property in the State as shall create a yearly fund equal to twenty per cent. of the whole amount of the bonds issued; which fund shall be called "The Capitol-Building Bond Sinking Fund," and all taxes for interest on and for the redemption of such bonds, shall be levied and collected as other State taxes, and shall be paid into the State treasury in cash only. The proceeds thereof shall be kept by the State Treasurer as special and distinct funds, under their respective heads, to be used in payment of interest on and for the redemption of such bonds only, or for their purchase, as hereinafter provided, and for no other purpose whatever: Provided, That whenever any surplus remains to the credit of the interest fund after the full payment of the interest maturing in any year, the said board of commissioners shall cause such surplus to be transferred to the credit of the "Capitol-Building Bond Sinking Fund." All moneys belonging to the said sinking fund may be invested by said board of commissioners in such of the Capitol-building bonds, issued by virtue of the act of the General Assembly, approved February, 1883, providing for the creation of a bonded indebtedness in behalf of the State, to the amount of three hundred thousand dollars, to aid in the construction of a Capitol building in the City of Denver, and of those issued under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, and also in any other bonds lawfully issued by this State, as may be obtainable, or in the registered bonds of the United States, as in the judgment of said board may best serve the interests of the State. The said board of commissioners of the State debt shall, whenever called upon, report to the General Assembly the condition of said sinking fund and the amount of the same, and how invested.

SEC. 7. For the payment of the coupons representing the first year's interest accruing on the bonds to be issued under this act, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to apply any moneys at that time in his hands belonging to the Capitol-building fund, such moneys so used to be restored by him to the said fund, by transfer from the interest fund, as soon as a sufficient amount is received into the said interest fund from the collection of interest tax, as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 8. When any of the bonds issued under this act are purchased or redeemed, it shall be the duty of said board of commissioners to cancel the same, so that they can be plainly identified, and cause the record of such cancellation to be made on the bond registry books of the State Treasurer and State Auditor.

SEC. 9. The said board of commissioners shall be authorized to prescribe the form of the bonds to be issued under this act, and of the coupons thereto; and when said issue is made, as hereinbefore provided, the board shall be authorized to dispose of the same for cash, not less than par, and deposit the proceeds thereof with the State Treasurer to the credit of the Capitol-building fund, to be used to aid in the erection of a Capitol building for the State of Colorado, in such manner as may be provided by the acts of the General Assembly.

SEC. 10. This act shall not be revised, amended or repealed until the total amount of the indebtedness herein provided for is fully paid and discharged.

Approved March 26, 1891.

AN ACT

TO TRANSFER AND APPROPRIATE THE FUNDS NOW TO THE CREDIT OF THE PUBLIC BUILDING INCOME FUND AND THE PUBLIC BUILDING LAND PERMANENT FUND TO THE CREDIT OF THE CAPITOL BUILDING FUND.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. The entire sum now standing to the credit of those certain funds known as and designated the public building income fund and the public building land permanent fund, together with such further sums of money as may, during the years 1891 and 1892, be paid in to the credit of said several funds, are hereby transferred and appropriated to the Capitol-building fund, for the purpose of aiding in the construction of the State Capitol building.

SEC. 2. In the opinion of [the] General Assembly an emergency exists; and therefore, this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 1, 1891.

AN ACT

FOR THE TRANSFER AND LOAN OF ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS FROM THE INTERNAL IMPROVEMENT PERMANENT FUND TO THE CAPITOL BUILDING FUND.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. There shall be transferred from the internal improvement permanent fund to the Capitol-building fund, for the use and benefit thereof, the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

SEC. 2. The State Treasurer is hereby required to make the transfer on the books of his office made, necessary in section one of this act, and in such a manner that the Capitol-building fund shall stand charged as a debtor to the internal improvement permanent fund as money loaned from that fund to Capitol-building fund, and the faith of this State is hereby pledged to repay to the internal improvement permanent fund the full amount so loaned, with interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per cent. per annum from the date of said transfer to the return thereof. The State Treasurer shall also, in writing, notify the State Auditor of such transfer, who shall also make the proper transfer and entry upon the books of his office.

SEC. 3. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to sell sufficient of the securities in his hands and belonging to the internal improvement permanent fund, the said securities to be sold at not less than par and the accrued interest thereon.

SEC. 4. Whereas in the opinion of the General Assembly an emergency exists; therefore, this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 6, 1891.

AN ACT

TO PROVIDE FOR THE RELIEF OF CERTAIN LABORERS WHO HAVE PERFORMED WORK UPON THE CAPITOL BUILDING OF THE STATE OF COLORADO AND HAVE NOT BEEN PAID THEREFOR.

WHEREAS, One W. D. Richardson, of the State of Illinois, was heretofore the contractor for the erection of the said Capitol building of the State of Colorado; and

WHEREAS, Said Richardson employed certain laborers upon the said Capitol building and certain laborers at the granite quarries near Georgetown, Colorado, in quarrying granite for use in said Capitol building during the year 1887; and

WHEREAS, Said laborers, on account of the failure of said Richardson to comply with his contract and his insolvency, have not been paid for their labor aforesaid. Now, therefore,

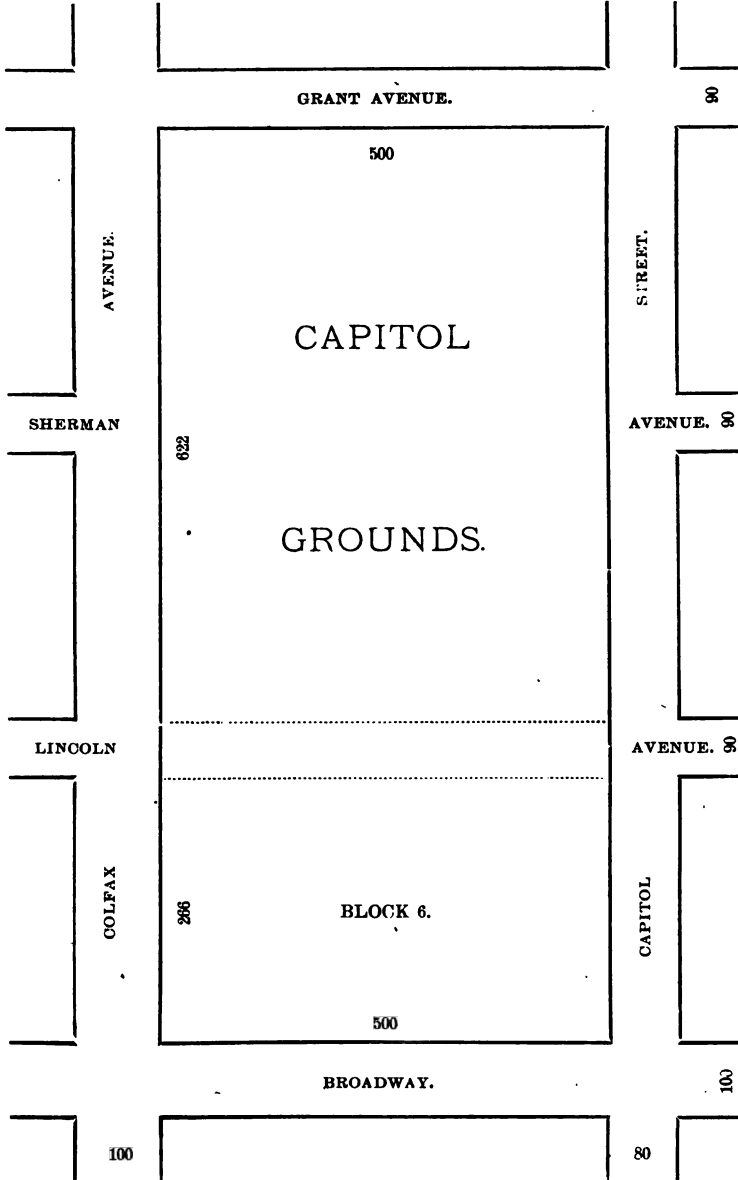

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. That the Board of Capitol Managers of the State of Colorado are hereby authorized, under such regulations as they may adopt, to audit the claims of laborers that have heretofore worked for W. D. Richardson, at Denver, Colorado, in the year of 1877, upon the Capitol building of said State of Colorado, and such laborers as may have worked in the granite quarries at Georgetown, Colorado, for said Richardson in said year, quarrying rock for said building, and to allow each of said laborers the just compensation that may be due to them from said Richardson for such labor, and remaining unpaid; and to pay to each of said laborers, out of the Capitol-building fund, the amount so found due, taking from each of them proper receipts and vouchers for the payment so made. That by such payments the said Board of Capitol Managers shall be subjected to the rights of the parties so paid, and are authorized to collect such sums from the said W. D. Richardson for and in behalf of the State of Colorado.

SEC. 2. There is hereby appropriated out of the Capitol-building fund five thousand ($5,000) dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purposes contemplated by section 1 hereof.

APPENDIX "H."

Description of the Colorado State Capitol.

The building will be of the Corinthian order of classic architecture—a style admirably adapted to public buildings of like character and magnitude.

The Corinthian order of architecture is unquestionably the most graceful production which the genius of Greek architects and builders ever evolved. It is simple, yet graceful, naturally suggesting solidity and permanence. It offers unrivaled facilities for light, and in all the varied requisites for a public building, it excels the numerous styles of architecture which have been devised in modern times, but which, for public edifices, are complete failures, and which will sustain no comparison with the architecture of those magnificent buildings of the past, the remains of which, in Greece and Rome, still excite the wonder and admiration of mankind.

The great temples of the most advanced nations of antiquity—Egypt, Greece and Rome—the edifices where the citizens were accustomed to meet for deliberations concerning their national affairs; the halls where justice was administered; the palaces, blazing with the splendors of royalty, and adorned with the most famous productions of the sculptor's and painter's art—all these were built in the classic style of architecture, founded upon one of the three great orders: Doric, Ionic or Corinthian, of which the Corinthian was the latest and most perfect and beautiful. Most of the noted buildings of antiquity have, through neglect or the ravages of war, drifted into ruin, but their fragments, which remain in their silent columns and friezes, suggest the ideas of majesty and permanence.

Had Greece been continuously peopled by a prosperous and flourishing race, the Pantheon might now be viewed as it stood in its grand proportions when first consecrated by the Athenians; and had the same been true of Egypt, the massive wonders of hundred-gated Thebes might still be seen in their grandeur, and the stately classic temples of Karnak and Luxor. In our advanced American civilization there need be no apprehension that the Capitol building of Colorado will not stand, a handsome and stately structure, the admiration of future ages.

It seems strange that elements so few, though admitting of a great variety of outline, should be capable of producing these exquisite forms of beauty, which will always be the admiration of the civilized world. Yet these features, so simple in their nature, require in their treatment the greatest skill to produce a building of true classic grandeur. Simplicity is peculiar to classic architecture, and is its grand characteristic.

The new Capitol will contain a sub-basement, a full basement, and first, second and third stories, constructed entirely of cut-stone, with surfaces smoothly dressed for all the exterior work above the grade line, and will be surmounted by an elegant dome. The entire workmanship of the four fronts and dome will be strictly Corinthian, having no unnecessary carving, but ornamented simply by the embellishments demanded by the Corinthian order, which, like its two classic sisters, relies for its grand effects upon correct proportions and properly treated details, rather than elaborate and excessive ornamentation. For beauty and utility combined, no other form of architecture can equal the Corinthian, and the value of this and its kindred orders—the Doric and Ionic—will be readily appreciated when the simple and evident fact is considered, that while all other forms of architecture have, within the past two thousand years, undergone modifications, entire changes and utter annihilation, these recognized models continue to exist, as when first designed, the accepted form for stately public buildings, such as the Capitol building for a great State, by right, should be.

The style of architecture for a public building should be suited to the building itself, and the purposes for which it is intended to be used. Where laws are to be enacted for the government of a great State, public records preserved, and accommodations provided for the executive and judiciary branches of the government, the character of the building should be such as would command respect for these high purposes; and the grotesque and fanciful styles of architecture, resorted to so extensively at the present day, should be carefully shunned as unbefitting to a structure where dignity of appearance is demanded by its uses.

The building will have no useless towers, minarets or turrets, which, while expensive, are of little or no value. They may serve to illustrate or enliven a badly proportioned design, or lead the eye away from violations of harmony, and thereby prove a momentary attraction to the uncultivated, but can never secure the approbation of the cultured student or connoisseur.

In the main pediment will be presented an allegorical group of statuary, representing the wealth, progress and substantial interests of the State of Colorado, and the various channels leading to their development.

VENTILATION.

This most important requisite to a public building has been fully and intelligently provided for. By use of powerful exhaust fans, the foul air will be constantly taken from every portion of the building, and forced directly into the smoke shaft. The vacuum thus produced will be at once supplied with an equal amount of fresh air, taken at a point one hundred and eighty feet above the ground, at the corners of the dome wall, where the air is never contaminated with dust or foul vapors. The air thus received by the use of supply fans is forced through the fresh air ducts to every part of the building, and properly warmed by contact with the direct radiators before its admission into the apartments and corridors.

HEATING.

The building will be heated by steam, generated by four steel boilers, which will be located in the sub-basement.

These boilers will also supply steam for the operation of the pumps in connection with the elevators, and for the operation of the ventilation of the building.

THE SUB-BASEMENT.

In the sub-basement will be located the boilers, engine, exhaust and supply fans, and ample room for the storage of fuel. The fuel room will be reached by an underground passage-way from the street, with suitable tracks, so that coal may be brought into the building by this system, thereby avoiding the nuisance of coal dust, which would result should other methods be adopted. Below the sub-basement floor, which will be concreted, will be placed all the foul-air ducts, the steam supply and return lines, together with the drainage and sewerage of the building.

THE BASEMENT.

The basement story will have a clear height of 15 feet, and all of the apartments will be well lighted. It will contain rooms for the Adjutant General, State Geologist and mineral cabinet, Commissioner and Inspector of Mines, Horticultural and Historical societies, storage and vault rooms for Secretary of State, janitor and engineer's living rooms, wash rooms, and water closets.

THE FIRST STORY.

On the first floor will be the apartments of the Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, State Auditor, State Treasurer, Railroad Commissioner, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Insurance Commissioner, and State Engineer. All the offices are provided with fireproof vaults, and wardrobe accommodations for most of them. The offices have been arranged and located with especial reference to their business connections with each other, and the convenience not only of the officers who will occupy them, but of those who will have public business transactions therein. The story will have a clear height of twenty-one feet, and will have spacious and well-lighted corridors, extending the entire length and breadth of the building, and crossing at the spacious rotunda in the center.

SECOND STORY.

Upon the second floor are located the Legislative halls, the Supreme Court room, consultation and private rooms of the judges, the State library, Librarian's apartments, Legislative postoffice, and rooms for Legislative officers. The Legislative halls and State library will occupy the height of the second and third stories, as more fully described below. The Representative hall will occupy the west front, being 63 feet in length by 52 feet in width, and having a height of 42 feet. Connected with it are the rooms of the Speaker and Clerk, lobbies, and appropriate cloak and toilet rooms. Private stairs will lead from the consultation rooms to the galleries, which will be on the line of the third story floor. The ceiling of the hall will be coffered and paneled, and the walls surrounding the room will have fluted pilasters with Ionic caps on the floor line, and the same with Corinthian caps on the line of the gallery, with stucco cornices on each line of caps. The Senate chamber is at the south end of the building, and will correspond in height and character of finish with the Representative hall. It will be 64 feet in length by 37 feet in width, and have in connection the rooms required for the officers and committees of the Senate, corresponding with those provided for the House.

The State library—with the Law library adjoining—is located at the east front of the building, also occupying the height of the second and third stories. The State library is 67 feet in length by 50 feet in width, each tier of alcoves being reached by circular iron-stairs from the office of the Librarian. The Law library, adjoining the State library, has a length of 48 feet and a breadth of 32 feet, with two consultation rooms for attorneys adjoining, and forming a direct connection with the Supreme Court room. The Supreme Court room is also located upon the second floor, and has adjoining it private and consultation rooms for the judges, and offices for the clerk and marshal. Connected with the judges' apartments is a fireproof vault, for the deposit of records and other valuable papers.

THE THIRD FLOOR.

The larger portion of this story is taken up by the galleries of the principal apartments already described upon the second floor. The remainder of the story is occupied by committee rooms, offices for engrossing and enrolling, which are admirably adapted to the purpose by the superior light afforded, and rooms for storage.

THE ROTUNDA.

The rotunda will be a magnificent feature of the building, and not only add greatly to its beauty, but will be of great utility also in furnishing an abundance of light to the halls and corridors. It will have a diameter of 45 feet, being open from the basement to the diaphragm of the dome, and having balconies surrounding it on a line with the several floors. The walls of the rotunda will be of a proper finish for fresco ornamentation, and may be suitably decorated at any time, and thereby made more attractive and interesting by representations of the men, or the industries or resources of the State, all of which have combined to place Colorado in the foremost rank of the sisterhood of States. In the walls of the rotunda, on the line of the several balconies, niches and recesses will be provided for the reception of appropriate statuary. Promenades will be provided around the exterior of the dome, and stairways lead from the attic floor to the lantern, affording to the sightseer an unequaled view of the surrounding country.

THE CORRIDORS.

The broad and ample corridors will add largely to the interior beauty of the building. Those of the main floor have beautiful tile floors. On either side of the rotunda rise the grand stairways, constructed entirely of iron.

SKYLIGHTS.

The Legislative halls, the Supreme Court room, the State and Law libraries and the stairways will all be lighted by beautiful stained-glass skylights, the portions of the roof directly over these skylights being of heavy hammered glass, so that an abundance of light is admitted in each place where it is required. The dome will also have beautiful windows of stained glass.

The building, when completed, will be the finest in the State of Colorado, and one of the finest capitol buildings in the country, of which every citizen of the State may be justly proud.

The following is a further description of the building, with number and sizes of rooms, together with drawings of the several floors, by R. C. Greiner, civil engineer, who laid off the foundations for the first contractor, W. D. Richardson:

To the BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS,
DENVER, COLO., November 7, 1887.

ENGINEER'S REVISED REPORT.

DENVER, COLO., December 7, 1887.

To the Board of Capitol Managers:

GENTLEMEN:—As requested, I have made a re-examination with Mr. Richardson of my estimate, as made in my report to this Board on November 7. Mr. Richardson makes the following claims and explanations, at variance with the assumed facts on which that report was based:

First—That the lower eight feet of the foundation walls, next above the footing stone, should be charged to 'Alteration Order No. 1,' from which no retention of 10 per cent. is made, and should not have been charged to the original contract, as was done in part.

Second—That the item numbered '9' on the schedule, viz: 5,993 feet of 'Pier Blocks,' was not, as I supposed, the footing blocks on which the piers were to rest, but are 'binders' let into the piers at intervals, to bind the rubble masonry, and that the two courses of stone on which the piers rest, as shown on the drawings, are two courses of regular 'footing stone,' at forty-five cents per foot.

Third—That the foundations of the dome were computed by him from the figures marked by the architect on the plans, and that these figures must govern, whether right or wrong, and that if changed to suit the necessities of construction, such change, if the quantity is thereby increased, must be considered as an 'extra' and be paid for on special estimate.

Fourth—That I was in error in charging back all of the eight-foot extension of the sixty-four iron columns in his bid for 'Alteration Order No. 1,' as eight feet of the fifty-two columns now on the ground had been charged to this account.

Fifth—I find I had included one layer of the footings of four 'L' piers (which join the inside walls) in the footings of the 'Interior Walls.' There is a difference in the rate payable for these footings.

I admit the reasonableness of these five claims, and will make short comment on each, in the order above given:

First—The extra work contemplated by 'Alteration Order No. 1' is undoubtedly beneath the work contemplated in the original contract.

It was only Mr. Richardson's own bills that caused this work to be charged, as it was charged in part, to the original contract.

A memorandum of the quantities underlying the original contract is appended.

Second—Mr. Richardson's statement is based on his own knowledge of the facts, and is adverse to his present interest, as the effect is to cause a charge for 4,851 square feet of footings at forty-five cents per foot = $2,182.95, against the cost of finishing the foundations, whilst the charge for rubble stone is reduced 5,993 cubic feet (which is the content of the 'binders'), amounting to $1,198.60; so the cost is enhanced $984.35.

Third—I think this claim is well taken, and the amount should be computed from the architect's figures.

Fourth—This claim is correct, as I find by Voucher 124 that the 'extra length' of the fifty-two iron columns is specifically named as the base of the payment of $676.00.

Fifth—As these four piers are incorporated in the interior walls, I included them, by error, in my measurement of these walls and their footings.

I append amended estimate of masonry in foundations, as per measurements of November 4, 1887, and computation of cost of finishing the foundations, in which the above five claims are allowed.

Yours respectfully,

DONALD W. CAMPBELL,
Civil Engineer.

CONTRACT FOR

THE WORKMANSHIP AND MATERIALS REQUIRED FOR COMPLETING THE FOUNDATION WALLS OF THE CAPITOL BUILDING OF THE STATE OF COLORADO, AT THE CITY OF DENVER, ACCORDING TO THE PLANS, ELEVATIONS AND DETAIL DRAWINGS FURNISHED BY E. E. MYERS, ARCHITECT, DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

CONTRACT.

This memorandum of agreement, made and entered into this 27th day of March, A. D. 1888, by and between the Board of Capitol Managers, created by an act of the Fifth General Assembly of the State of Colorado, entitled "An act to provide for the erection of a State Capitol Building at the city of Denver, and creating a Board of Management and Supervision, and appropriating funds therefor," approved April 1, 1885, party of the first part, and William Ford Geddis and David Duff Seerie, co-partners, under the firm name and style of Geddis & Seerie, of the city of Denver, and State of Colorado, parties of the second part:

Witnesseth, That the said parties of the second part, for and in consideration of the agreements herein-after mentioned, do, for themselves, their heirs, executors and administrators, covenant, promise and agree to and with the said party of the first part, that they will, in pursuance of and under the provisions of the act aforesaid, on or before the 1st day of August, A. D. 1888, furnish and supply all the materials required therefor, except the iron and steel, and in the very best workman-like manner, and according to the very best skill and art, will well and substantially erect, construct, build and deliver to the said party of the first part, free and discharged of all claims, liens and charges whatsoever, on the land in the city of Denver, donated by Henry C. Brown to the Territory of Colorado in the year 1868, the foundation walls of the Colorado State Capitol Building, from the point where the work was abandoned by W. D. Richardson, to the grade line of the outside walls, and to the surface of the basement floor level for the inside walls, and dome foundation walls, including the placing of the steel bearing and floor beams of the basement, floors and the iron columns to support the same, and the building of the stone piers, as shown in the plans, and the laying of the flagging of the sub-portico, and make such changes in the walls, so far as the same were constructed by W. D. Richardson, as will make them conform to the plans and specifications; all said materials to be furnished and work done according to the plans, specifications and detail drawings of Mr. E. E. Myers, architect; which said specifications (so far as the same relate to the work to be done under this contract) and blue print copies of said plans and detail drawings (so far as the same severally relate to the work to be done under this contract) have this day been signed by the parties hereto, and are hereto attached and made part and parcel of this contract, as though the same were at length herein set forth and described in every particular.

It is hereby further agreed, By and between the parties hereto, that upon estimates being made upon any material or artisan work, the said material and work shall become the property of the party of the first part; and when any material has been delivered on the grounds and accepted as suitable, although no payments have been made upon the same, said material shall become the property of the party of the first part.

Each month, during the construction of said foundation walls, there shall be furnished by the parties of the second part to the party of the first part, an accurate account, stating the work performed and material furnished during said month; and the party of the second part is hereby held liable in every particular for the entire accuracy of the same, and they shall, at all payments for work or material, receipt in full for all work performed and materials furnished to the date of each receipt, it being specially understood that the retained per cent. is retained on each estimate as additional security that the said parties of the second part shall and will perform each and every obligation required of them to complete said foundation walls in accordance with the terms of this contract; and in case of any failure of the said parties of the second part to perform all and singular the covenants, agreements or obligations herein, then the retained per cent. is hereby agreed upon by the parties hereto as a stipulated amount, or sum, as liquidated damages for, or on account of, any such failure. In addition to the said sum, or amount, the said parties of the second part shall be still further liable on their bond, to the full extent thereof, in case of the failure on the part of the parties of the second part to keep and perform the covenants, agreements or obligations contained in this contract.

It is also hereby understood and agreed, That the party of the first part shall have the right at all times during the progress of said work, with the approval of the architect, to make, or order to be made, such alterations, omissions and additions, or either, as in the opinion of the party of the first part may be proper, either in work or material; but any and all such orders for alterations, omissions and additions shall be made in writing, and a copy thereof delivered to the parties of the second part, and when so ordered, the reduction or increase in the price thereof, as the case may be, shall be determined in accordance with the schedule prices for said or similar work or material, at the time the changes are ordered or material furnished, or work done, and any such alterations, omissions or additions shall not be held, or construed to operate as a release of the liability of the parties of the second part, or of the sureties on the bond of said second parties.

And should any dispute arise as to the character or quality of the work executed or materials furnished, or as to the way and manner of the execution of any part of the work performed, a decision on each case shall be based only on the requirement that the work and materials shall be first-class in every respect, and the work performed in the very best and most substantial and workman-like manner, and that which may be considered as customary and usual in the erection of other buildings of a similar character shall in no wise enter into any consideration or decision whatever. In the specifications where words or phrases are used as, "As may be directed," or as "directed hereafter," or "proper to be used," or "suitable," or where words of a similar import or character are used, the construction as to what may constitute such propriety, suitability or direction as to the way and manner of performing the work, or quality or kinds of material furnished, shall be referred to the Board of Capitol Managers, in writing, for their decision; and all appeals or statements to said Board shall only be made in writing, setting forth the facts in particular; and no decision or statement from said Board shall be considered binding by either of the contracting parties at any time during the progress of said work, unless the same has been rendered in writing and certified to by the Secretary of the Board of Capitol Managers. The decision as aforesaid of said Board shall be considered as final, and to be accepted by the parties in all disputes that may be referred to them; and this contract has been entered into with the distinct understanding that this consideration shall be and is the essence upon which this contract has been agreed to by the parties hereto.

It is further agreed, By and between the parties hereto, that the parties of the second part shall not assign this contract without the written consent of the party of the first part; and in case the party of the first part should consent, in writing, to the assignment of this contract, such assignment shall not be construed to

OF THE
BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS
OF THE
STATE OF COLORADO.

DENVER, COLO., Dec. 1, 1890.

To the General Assembly of the State of Colorado :

We have the honor to respectfully present the following report of our transactions for the years A. D. 1889 and 1890, in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly of the State of Colorado, entitled "An Act to provide for the erection and completion of a State Capitol building, at the City of Denver, and creating a Board of Management and Supervision," approved April 1, 1889.

The Board met December 5, 1888, consisting of the following members :

Governor Alva Adams, Chairman ,
Dennis Sullivan,	E. S. Nettleton,
John L. Routt,	Alfred Butters,
M. Spangler,	Geo. W. Kassler, with Donald W. Campbell, Secretary .

On February 13, 1889, Mr. Kassler tendered his resignation as a member of the Board, which was accepted.

The Seventh General Assembly, by an act approved April 1, 1889, repealed the act of February 11, 1883, under which the Board had been created, and created a new Board, consisting of four members, to be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice of the Senate, which went into effect from and after its passage.

The new Board consisted of—

Governor Job A. Cooper, Chairman,
John L. Routt, Benjamin F. Crowell,
Otto Mears, Charles J. Hughes, Jr.,
with Donald W. Campbell as Secretary.

They held their first meeting April 5, 1889. Peter Gumry, Superintendent, Thomas Mullen, Assistant Superintendent, and Secretary Campbell were re-employed.

August 21, 1889, Secretary Campbell tendered his resignation, and Mr. Herman Lueders was elected in his place, who entered upon his duties September 4, 1889.

The following is a synopsis of the business performed by the Board.

DISPOSAL OF LANDS.

The real estate donated to the State to aid in the erection of a Capitol building, and under control of the Board, on December 1, 1888, consisted of Block 81, Brown, Smith and Porter's Addition to the City of Denver.

This parcel was offered for sale, for thirty days, in the three Denver dailies, in the following advertisement:

STATE OF COLORADO,
OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF CAPITOL MANAGERS, }
DENVER, January 10, 1890.

Sealed proposals are invited by the Board of Capitol Managers up to 12 m., February 10, 1890, for the purchase, in full or part, of the following described property, donated by the citizens of Denver for the erection of a State Capitol building, to-wit :

Lots 1 to 24, inclusive, in block 81, Brown, Smith & Porter's Addition to the City of Denver.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all propositions.

By order of the Board.

HERMAN LUEDERS, Secretary.

No bids having been received, the Board, on March 5, 1890, resolved to re-advertise the property as above, for thirty days longer in the three Denver dailies, and to add the following :

All bidders to furnish a certified check, payable to the order of the Board, equal in amount to 5 per cent. of the bid submitted.

Terms of payment : cash 10 per cent.; two months, 10 per cent.; three months, 20 per cent.; four months, 20 per cent.; five months, 20 per cent.; six months, 20 per cent. Deed to be delivered when total amount is paid.

In the event of the failure of any purchaser making prompt payment, amount paid to be forfeited by the Board to the State.

On April 9, the Secretary reported that five bids had been received, which were as follows :

No. 1. Geo. Wheeler—Lots 1-24.....	$18,000
No. 2. W. Stapleton— { Lots 10, 11 and 12.....	3,000
{ or lots 13, 14 and 15.....	3,000
No. 3. S. Leavick—Lots 1-24.....	24,160
No. 4. S. A. Josephi—Lots 1-24.....	32,000
No. 5. W. W. Dale—Lots 1-24.....	30,120 and of which Mr. Josephi's, being the highest bid, was accepted by the Board.

CHANGE OF MATERIAL FROM SANDSTONE TO GRANITE.

The Board of Capitol Managers, having been empowered and authorized by the Seventh General Assembly to make such changes in the use of the material as they might deem for the best interest of the State, concluded to erect the building of granite instead of sandstone, as first intended, and for this purpose instructed the Secretary, on April 6, 1889, to advertise in the Gunnison, Clear Creek and Chaffee county newspapers, and the three Denver dailies, requesting owners of granite quarries to notify the Board as to the location, extent and facilities for shipping from their quarries, and to furnish all other information which it was their interest to give.

On April 26, the Secretary reported that he had received notices from the following quarries: Monarch, near Monarch station, Chaffee county; Zugelder, Beaver Creek, Gunnison county; Western Granite, Malvern, Chaffee county; Buckhorn-Berry quarry, Arkins station, U. P.; Ross & Dewese quarry, Platte Canon, U. P.; Hamill quarry, Brownville; Poirson quarry, Silver Plume; Government Land, Platte Canon, U. P.; Long's Canon quarry, Las Animas county.

On May 7, the Board adopted the following resolution:

"That the contract of the Board with Geddis & Seerie, to supply the stone and stone-work, and brick and brick-work on the superstructure of the Capitol building, be referred to the Attorney General, with a request for his written opinion as to whether, under the terms of the contract, it is competent for the Board to change the material from Gunnison sandstone to granite, arranging with the present contractors, by private agreement, for the difference in price of the material, or whether, in his opinion, it is necessary for the Board to advertise for bids for the supply and construction of the granite-work. The Attorney General being authorized to employ such competent assistance as he may require, at reasonable compensation."

The Attorney General, May 13, 1889, replied as follows:

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
DENVER, COLORADO, May 13, 1889. }

To the Honorable, the Board of Capitol Managers:

GENTLEMEN:—On the 8th inst. I received from the Clerk of your Board a resolution, of which the following is a copy:

"Resolved, That the contract of the Board of Capitol Managers with Messrs. Geddis & Seerie, to supply the stone and stone-work, and brick and brick-work on the superstructure of the Capitol building, be referred to the Attorney General, with a request for his written opinion as to whether, under the terms of the contract, it is competent for the Board to change the material from Gunnison sandstone to granite, arranging with the present contractors, by private agreement, for the difference in price of the material, or whether, in his opinion, it is necessary for the Board to advertise for bids for the supply of the granite work.

"The Attorney General being authorized to employ such competent assistance as he may require, at reasonable compensation."

I have employed Mr. H. Riddell as assistant counsel in such matters as may be referred to me by the Board. Your Board, being created by special statute, is required to proceed, and has a right to proceed, in such manner as by law directed. It is at once the measure of your power and procedure, and it is only necessary that the Board should advertise for bids in such cases as the law directs. It is likewise the duty of the Board to erect the Capitol out of such material as the law directs. Hence, since the enactment of the law of April 6, 1889, the Board must erect the building out of granite.

Your reports to the Legislature having shown the existence of the contract with Geddis & Seerie, dated 5th June, 1888, the Legislature were called upon, not only to empower and direct the change of material out of which the Capitol should be built, but also to dispose of the question of existing contracts. Having these objects in view, by Section 2 of Act of April 6, 1889, it is provided that "the Board of Capitol Managers are authorized to make such changes in existing contracts as may be required by the proposed change of material, and to make such other and additional contracts as may be necessary to complete said building." Here is an express recognition of existing contracts, together with full power in the Board to adopt the same to the changed material. To advertise for bids because of the change of material would not only not be the natural and proper way to modify such contracts, but might even result in the vacation of them, when it was the clear intent to recognize them as valid and subsisting.

Possibly, too, it might have been the judgment of the Legislature that they could not set aside these contracts without violating, not only the written laws of the land, but likewise to do violence to every moral obligation to which States are peculiarly subjected in dealing with private citizens.

It is true that Section 6 of the Act approved April 1, 1889, provides that "all letting of the work exceeding in amount the sum of five hundred dollars shall be advertised in two daily newspapers of general circulation, for not less than ten days," but, following a familiar principle that all statutes regarding the same subject shall be so construed as to enable every part to be operative, Section 6 may be very easily construed to provide for the advertisement for "all such other and additional contracts as may be necessary to complete said building." Certainly the general language of Section 6 of the Act of April 1, 1889, should not prevail against the express and particular language of Section 2 of the Act of April 6, 1889. The dates of these respective acts also aid this construction. Besides, the only provision in the Geddis & Seerie contract regarding the quality of the stone, is the provision that it shall be from the Gunnison quarry, and this section provides that the quarry may be changed if not found satisfactory. While this provision was doubtless framed having in view a change to another quarry of the same general class, yet its language is broad enough to allow a change to any other quarry. This contract does not provide that the Board shall pay any additional costs incurred by a change of quarry, but it should be so construed as to allow the contractors additional expenses.

We are, therefore, of the opinion that it is in the power of the Board to arrange by private agreement for a change of the material from Gunnison sandstone to granite without advertising for bids.

We desire to suggest that should the Board effect a change of their contract with Geddis & Seerie in so material a matter as the change from sandstone to granite, they should require from them a new bond for the fulfillment of the contract, because, while the present contract provides that the Board may make "such alterations, omissions or additions, or either, as in the opinion of the party of the first part may be proper, either in work or material," and that such change should not release the sureties on the bond, we are of opinion that such "alterations, omissions or additions" do not, in this particular, refer to such radical changes as the one contemplated.

We are likewise of the opinion that it is competent for the Board, both under the contract and by virtue of the law, to cancel and re-let this entire contract if they should deem best, a legislative direction to change the material to this extent being "good cause," within the meaning of the contract and of the law.

Very respectfully,

S. W. JONES, Attorney General.

H. RIDDELL, of Counsel.

Messrs. Mears, Routt and Hughes, having been appointed a Committee to make a primary inspection of all the quarries of which the Board had information, reported May 6th that they had visited all quarries of which they had notice, and advised that the following quarries be visited by the full Board, viz.:

The Hamill quarry, the Western Granite quarry, the Gunnison quarry. These were subsequently inspected by the entire Board.

The contractors, Geddis & Seerie, having been requested to state at what price and within what time they could complete the walls of the building with the Gunnison and the Hamill quarry granite, the owners of these quarries were asked to inform the Board as to the cost of the stone and the time required to deliver the total quantity.

The Attorney-General was requested to report as to the rights and duties of the Board in the matter of selecting granite to build the superstructure of the Capitol, in view of Section 1 of the Act of the General Assembly, approved April 6, 1889, entitled "An Act relating to the construction of the State Capitol building, and appropriating funds therefor."

On May 29, Geddis & Seerie presented the following letter :

To the Honorable Board of Capitol Managers:

GENTLEMEN:—As requested, we herewith submit the following proposition :

Using Gunnison granite in place of sandstone, work rubbed in, present contract to be what is known as six-cut work in granite, we will agree to complete the building in two years from next July, if above-named stone is used, at an additional cost of $492,194.85. If what is known as the Brownsville quarry is used, we will agree to complete the same three years from next July, at an additional cost of $584,000.

Respectfully submitted,

GEDDIS & SEERIE.

The Attorney-General presented the following report :

DENVER, COLORADO, May 29, 1889.

The Honorable Board of Capitol Managers:

GENTLEMEN:—You submit to us a question involving the construction of Section 1 of the Act approved April 6, 1889, entitled "An Act relating to the construction of the State Capitol building, and appropriating funds therefor," and particularly this language in the Section, "Granite of equal quality, texture and crushing strength of the present base course of the said Capitol building."

The necessity for the construction of this language implies that possibly the Board may find it advisable to erect the Capitol out of stone from another quarry than the one from which the stone in the base course was taken. We answer the inquiry with reference to this possible action.

In our judgment, "the quality, texture and crushing strength" are designed merely to indicate and limit the general quality of the stone, and are not intended to have reference to any particular quality of the stone in the base course, nor does the word "equal" have reference to any mathematical precision. It means no more than if the word "like" were written in its place. Nor can it be supposed that the Legislature, in passing this Act, had before it any very close or scientific estimate of the exact qualities specified, but rather that they had in view the general qualities of the stone mentioned. It is permissible and demanded that legislatures, as well as courts and juries, shall use their common experience regarding the nature of any subject about which they are treating, and the Legislature must, therefore, have known that it is next to impossible to obtain granite of the identical qualities of the present base course without obtaining the stone from the same quarry as the one from which the base course was taken; and they must also have known that even in the same quarry the qualities of the stone may vary in different parts thereof, as being nearer the surface, more subject to the action of water, air and other modifying elements. Had it been intended that stone from identically the same quarry should be used, a more appropriate way to indicate such an intent would have been to specify, by name or location or other appropriate description, the exact quarry from which the stone must be taken, and not to have used a periphrasis to have accomplished the result of identifying the exact stone. The limitation of amount devoted to the purpose of erecting the building is also an indication that the Board has some discretion as to the exact stone out of which the Capitol shall be built. Because, no contract or definite arrangement having been made as to the cost of securing any special stone might entail such additional expenses, more than was contemplated, as would practically render the limit of cost in legislation thereabouts nugatory. We are, therefore, decidedly of the opinion that by this language the Legislature meant no more than that the granite should be of such efficient qualities as to answer the purpose for which it was intended, and that it should be of the general efficiency and quality of the present base course. It might very well happen that the granite might be slightly inferior in any one of the specific qualities mentioned, and superior in the other qualities mentioned, so that the general quality of the new granite would be superior to the granite of the base course, and amply sufficient for all purposes intended. So that, in our view, the Legislature meant no more by the language used than that quality out of which the building should be erected should be of good quality, and similar to the general qualities of the present base course. The Board will do its duty if, having in view the best interests of the State, economically and otherwise, it erects the Capitol out of granite of the general properties of the present base course, though such granite may differ from the base course, and in some particulars be even inferior ; provided the general properties are amply sufficient for the purpose.

Very respectfully,

S. W. JONES, Attorney General.

H. RIDDELL, of Counsel.

Mr. E. S. Nettleton, Civil Engineer, at the request of the Board, made tests for specific gravity and crushing strain on specimens of Silver Plume (Hamill quarry) and Zugelder (Gunnison County quarry) granite, showing the following results :

June 14, 1889, the Board resolved, that for the purpose of ascertaining the additional sum which should be charged by Geddis & Seerie, contractors, to the existing contract price, for changing from sandstone to granite, in the construction of the superstructure of the Colorado State Capitol building, three arbitrators be appointed as follows:

One by nomination of the Board of Capitol Managers, one by the contractors, Geddis & Seerie, and the third to be the Superintendent, Peter Gumry, who should determine, between the Board and contractors, what should be a fair and reasonable price to be paid said contractors, by the Board, for the substitution of granite, selected by the Board, for sandstone, as provided by the existing contract with Geddis & Seerie.

The arbitrators were to be furnished with all data in possession of the Superintendent and the contractors, and were to make careful examination of cost of cutting, prices of material, and every other matter necessary to a fair and equitable adjustment between the Board and the contractors, having in view the existing contract.

Upon the signature and acceptance, by Geddis & Seerie, of a certified copy of this resolution, the arbitrators were to have authority to report said adjustment, and they were instructed to make report of their action Thursday, June 20, 1889.

Mr. Frank E. Edbrooke, of Denver, was selected arbitrator on behalf of the Board of Capitol Managers, and Mr. William Martin on behalf of the contractors.

June 20, the Board received the award of the arbitration committee, which was as follows:

DENVER, June 19, 1890.

To the Honorable Board of Capitol Managers:

The report of your committee to examine and ascertain the cost of granite in place of sandstone for the erection of the Colorado State Capitol building, according to plans and specifications, is as follows:

1. Such cost has been based upon standard prices for such and similar work, in our best judgment.

2. The value of granite delivered on Capitol grounds, in such dimensions as required by the plans, has been calculated at a cost of one dollar per cubic foot.

Total cost of cut sandstone, as per present contract.....	$388,456.00
Total cost of granite, in place of sandstone.....	859,852.75
Extra cost of granite.....	471,396.75

Respectfully submitted,

F. E. EDBROOKE,

P. GUMRY,

WM. MARTIN.

The report presented to the Board and to Geddis & Seerie was approved and adopted as the basis upon which the contract was modified for the completion of the building, and a modified contract prepared accordingly.

June 26, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, After full and careful examination of the various granite quarries in the State of Colorado, having in view the quality and beauty of the stone, the cost of the same and the time in which it can be procured, and it having been ascertained that the quality is sufficient, the cost much less, and the time within which it can be procured much shorter in the case of the granite from what is known as the Zugelder Granite quarry, on Beaver Creek, about ten miles, by railroad, from the town of Gunnison, Gunnison county, Colorado;

Resolved, That the Zugelder-quarry granite be and is hereby selected as the granite to be used in the construction of the superstructure of the Colorado State Capitol building.

The contract with Geddis & Seerie for the construction of the building, in pursuance of the provisions of the contract and the Act of the Legislature, was modified by substituting Gunnison granite in lieu of sandstone, at an increased price of $471,396.75 in excess of the sum of $700,000, which was to be paid to them under the original contract for a sandstone superstructure, thereby making the total compensation one million one hundred and seventy-one thousand three hundred and ninety-six dollars and seventy-five cents for all stone and stone-work, and brick and brick-work in the building, according to the plans and specifications.

After the contract had been signed and the bond accepted, a large force was immediately put to work upon the quarry, and when the Board visited the place, on May 14, 1890, for a thorough inspection, it was found that the supply was almost inexhaustible.

SIX-CUT WORK ADOPTED TO FINISH BASEMENT STORY.

On August 21, 1889, the Board adopted a resolution to finish the face of the basement story with what is known as six-cut, patent axe-work, instead of rock-face work, as provided for in the plans as then approved, and directed the Superintendent to report to the Board, as soon as practicable, the cost of making such change, according to the prices agreed upon by the Committee of Experts appointed for that purpose, viz.: Messrs. Edbrooke, Martin and Gumry.

This Committee reported as follows :

DENVER, COLO., October 1, 1889.

To the Honorable Board of Capitol Managers:

GENTLEMEN:—We, the undersigned Committee, submit the following report of the difference in cost of cutting between rock-face work and six-cut, with square rustic, for the basement story of the Capitol building; rock-face for the steps not included.

By a careful examination we find it to be an additional cost of $24,800.

Respectfully, your Committee,

F. E. EDBROOKE,
WM. MARTIN,
P. GUMRY.

The reasons for the change in the cutting of the granite was that it would have been a difficult matter to get a suitable rock which would quarry so free as to make the proper kind of face; the material being of such large dimensions also, that rock-face was not the proper finish for the architectural style of the building.

The Board, having adopted the report of the Committee, instructed the contractors to change the work from rock-face to six-cut.

PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

STATEMENT OF PROGRESS IN THE ERECTION OF THE COLORADO STATE CAPITOL BUILDING FROM DECEMBER 1, 1888, TO NOVEMBER 30, 1890.

The north half of the exterior walls has been built to a height of 49' 4" from grade line. The south half, 34' 8" from grade line. All interior walls, the same height as the exterior, except the dome wall, which has been built to a height of 133' 9".

The amount of material of various kinds used in the principal parts of the construction is as follows :

58,507 cubic feet dome masonry.
142,985 cubic feet in basement story.
118,803 cubic feet cut-stone, granite.
1,000 pieces beams and girder bearings.
5,482,114 brick, laid in walls.
630,753 pounds of steel beams and girders.
126,355 pounds cast-iron columns.
65,600 pounds cast-iron conductor and soil pipes.
2,208 pounds cast-iron ventilators.

CAPITOL BUILDING GROUNDS.

By an Act of the Seventh General Assembly, the Board was authorized to lay out, ornament and beautify the grounds of the Capitol building, and the sum of twenty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as might be necessary, was appropriated out of the Capitol-building fund for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the requirements of the Act.

The Board, considering that the necessity for permanent improvements of the grounds was not so great as to call for undue haste, the building being far from completion, has done very little in this matter.

The space adjoining the west front of the building must be used for some time for the purpose of storing material and for other purposes in connection with the erection of the building. It is, therefore, impossible to estimate, at present, how much the embankment will have to be cut down, and the Board does not feel justified, for these and other reasons, in deciding upon a permanent plan.

A topographical plat of the grounds was made about a year ago and parties were invited, by advertisement for sixty days in the three Denver dailies, to furnish drawings and specifications for laying out, ornamenting and beautifying the grounds, for which the Board offered a compensation of $400 for the first choice and $100 for the second.

It is to be regretted that only one party responded to the advertisement, namely: Greiner & Schuetze, who furnished four plans. The Board paid the premium, but has not adopted any plan.

The Board also purchased 20,235 cubic yards of dirt for filling.

E. E. MYERS,

LATE ARCHITECT OF THE CAPITOL BUILDING.

February 6, 1889, the Board was notified of the assignment of the account of E. E. Myers, dated December 31, 1888.

On May 20, 1889, the chairman notified the Board that he had been served with two garnishee notices.

1. In the suit of the First National Bank of Springfield, Ill., vs. E. E. Myers, and in the suit of the Denver National Bank vs. E. E. Myers.

The Board having submitted to the Attorney-General an inquiry whether they had authority, under the law, to discharge E. E. Myers as supervising architect of the State Capitol, under date of June 6 received the following reply:

Section 4 of the Act approved April 1, 1885, under which said Myers was employed, provides that the "Board of Managers shall have full power to appoint or employ, and discharge at their discretion, an architect and a superintendent, whose duties shall be prescribed by the Board, and such other artisans, or laborers, that may be required under the prosecution of the work, and allow such compensation for such services as they shall deem just and reasonable."

By contract, dated April 2, 1886, it is provided that "this contract is made in pursuance of and under the provisions of a public law of the State of Colorado, which is hereby made the paramount agreement or contract in this matter, and made the controlling part of this agreement, wherein, in any respect, there might be any conflict or omission in this agreement." It is further provided by the contract that the Board of Capitol Managers "reserves the right, for good cause shown, to discharge the party of the second part and annul this contract," and providing the amount of compensation which shall be paid. Independent of the consideration whether this Board, as public functionaries, could, by contract, divest themselves of the power to discharge any employe under the provisions of Section 4, both the contract and the law have given to the Board ample power to discharge Myers. "The good cause" mentioned in the contract, is, in our judgment, identical with the "discretion" mentioned under the law, and means no more, in either case, than that the Board shall do for the State, under the discharge of their duties, what to them appears for the best interests of the State.

What compensation Myers shall be entitled to, under the various laws and the contract relating to the matter, is a separate question from your right to discharge him. We advise that you have the right to discharge him. Section 4, approved April 1, 1889, also empowers you to remove an employe.

S. W. JONES, Attorney General.
H. RIDDELL, of Counsel.

On June 3, 1889, the Board resolved that the services of E. E. Myers, Architect, were no longer required, and he was discharged, due notice being given him of this action of the Board.

On September 9, 1889, Mr. George W. Radford, of Detroit, Michigan, appeared before the Board, as attorney for E. E. Myers, late Architect, with a view of his client's reinstatement and a settlement of his claim. No action was taken, but the suggestion was offered that Mr. Radford submit a proposition, regarding E. E. Myers' claim, as a basis for the Board to act upon, which he agreed to do after conferring with his client.

The proposition submitted was, that should E. E. Myers be reinstated as Supervising Architect, he would make such changes in the plans as the Board might suggest and adopt such changes as had been made since the original plans were accepted, and superintend the building to completion for 2½ per cent. upon the first million dollars, according to his original contract, on account of which he had been paid $13,362.37; further, 1 per cent. upon the additional cost of the building above one million dollars, when completed, and his traveling expenses. If he was not reinstated, then his existing contract was to remain unchanged.

The Board refused the application of E. E. Myers for reinstatement as Supervising Architect of the building, and on November 6 instructed the Secretary to notify his attorney of their action.

CAST IRON COLUMNS.

On April 23, 1889, the Board published in the Denver Republican, Denver Times, Rocky Mountain News, Western Architect, Inland Architect, Chicago; and Engineering News, New York City, the following advertisement:

COLORADO STATE CAPITOL.

PROPOSALS FOR CAST-IRON COLUMNS FOR COLORADO STATE CAPITOL BUILDING.

Sealed proposals for furnishing 122 cast-iron columns, complete in place, will be received by the Secretary of the Board of Capitol Managers until 1 p. m., mountain time, on Monday, July 1, 1889, and then opened by the Board.

The columns are to be put in place in the building as required, and properly set according to the plans and specifications, which are to be seen in the office of the Superintendent, Peter Gumry, at the Capitol grounds, Denver, Colo. These columns will weigh, when complete, with bases, capitals, lugs, etc., about 210 tons, more or less, but bidders must make their own calculation.

All proposals must be accompanied by a small sample casting, showing the quality of material and workmanship that the bidder proposes to furnish, and with certified check, on a responsible bank, for the sum of $1,000 as a guaranty that the bidder will enter into contract to furnish and erect the columns at the prices bid, if the contract be awarded to him.

Proposals to be indorsed, "Proposals for Cast-Iron Columns," and addressed to the Secretary of the Board of Capitol Managers, P. O.

Box 2291, Denver, Colo., or delivered at the office of the Board, 44 Barclay block, 1755 Larimer street.

W. J. Godfrey & Co., being the lowest bidders, were awarded the contract, but were unable to supply the Superintendent as fast as the material was needed.

Owing to the inability of the contractors to furnish the columns, the contract has been assigned to the Colorado Iron Works, with the consent of W. J. Godfrey & Co., their bondsmen, and the Board.

duration. It was a gift of pure patriotism—an immortal legacy. And here, in memory of that priceless gift, in faint imitation of their example, we build this temple, a sanctuary to the rights of mankind, consecrate it to liberty and law and bestow it to our posterity. As the days and months pass, we will see rising in graceful columns and order the stately walls of Colorado's capitol. Upon the summit the queenly form of Liberty will overlook mountain and plain, silently pronouncing her benediction upon the sons and daughters of our State. But let us all bear in mind that beneath, and necessary for her support, are granite walls protecting righteous legislation. "No liberty without law." The Greeks held the Prytaneum sacred because within its walls were preserved the laws of Solon. Within the walls of this magnificent structure will be enacted and deposited the laws of our Solons, and here will be guarded all the institutions of American liberty granted us in 1776. As a sacred building we will bequeath it to our children and children's children.

Tradition and the relics and ruins of the Cliff Dwellers in certain portions of the State tell us that Colorado was inhabited in an unknown age by unknown tribes of men. Modern history abounds in stories of Spanish expeditions in America, and tells us of the first exploration of white men through this country, nearly 400 years ago. Vasquez Coronado, who commanded an expedition under Spanish auspices, in 1540 discovered what is now Colorado. The first Americans to tread Colorado soil were Lieutenant Zebulon Pike and party, who made an adventurous but fruitless tour of a portion of the State in 1806. Lieutenant Pike returned East disappointed, and reported it his opinion that the American people would be obliged to limit their extent in the West to the borders of the Missouri and the Mississippi, leaving the prairies, incapable of cultivation, to the wandering and uncivilized aborigines of the country. Fourteen years later another expedition, under Colonel S. H. Long, was sent out, and in 1842 occurred the celebrated exploration of Colonel John C. Fremont across the Rocky mountains. That portion of the State north of the Arkansas river and east of the mountains formed a portion of the Louisiana purchase from the French in 1803. The remainder was included in the Mexican cession of 1848. In the southern part of the State a few Mexicans and Spaniards had settled, and in the northern portion a few American traders, trappers and hunters were found. But there was no actual permanent abiding place of the white man, or record of his movements, with which to begin the history of Colorado, until 1857, when the great national financial crisis came and coincidentally the discoveries of immense wealth of gold and silver in the Rocky mountains started the tide of immigration to the West. By act of Congress Colorado was organized as a Territory February 28, 1861. Congress passed an enabling act March 3, 1875, authorizing the inhabitants of the Territory of Colorado to form a State government, and on the 1st day of August, 1876, the President of the United States issued his proclamation declaring the admission of the State of Colorado into the Union.

I need not here recall the many legislative measures in territorial times incident to the selection and final location of the State capital. The first General Assembly convened in Denver, September 9, 1861. The acts of that Assembly and those which followed carry the names of many brave and eminent pioneers whose wisdom and whose heroic deeds give lustre to the history of Colorado. This first Assembly located the capital at Colorado City, but the Territorial officers were not removed from Denver, and the session of 1862 convened at Colorado City and adjourned to Denver. The second Assembly relocated the capital at Golden, where the third Assembly convened, but three days thereafter adjourned to Denver. The fourth and sixth sessions were held at Golden, but only three days of the fifth were held there; the remainder at Denver. By act of the Seventh Assembly, in 1867, the capital was transferred to Denver. This act provided for the appointment of three commissioners to select the site for a Capitol building, and that the land selected should be conveyed to the Territory without charge. Joseph M. Marshall, of Boulder county, William M. Roworth, of Gilpin county, and Allen A. Bradford, of Pueblo county, were appointed commissioners. The site of ten acres, comprising blocks 27 and 28, in Henry C. Brown's addition to Denver, was chosen by the commissioners and donated by Mr. Henry C. Brown to the Territory of Colorado. And this is the beautiful and commanding ground, overlooking this fair young city of Denver, upon which this magnificent edifice, to be devoted to the future legislative and official uses of Colorado, is now being erected. To create a nucleus of a building fund, anticipating the generous appropriations which have now been made under the State government, certain liberal and public-spirited citizens donated lots and lands as follows: General Samuel E. and Mary E. Browne, one acre; Alfred H. Clements, sixteen lots; ex-Governor John Evans, twenty lots; Henry M. Porter, one block, and John W. Smith, one block. Legislative measures were adopted from time to time providing for the erection of a capitol building, but the question of the permanent location of the capital was undetermined, and for this and other considerations it was deemed wise to defer the work to a future and more promising time. Meanwhile, the State has suffered in the discomforts of inadequate and unsuitable quarters for the transaction of its business. The executive offices and other departments of the State government are now distributed mainly through the Barclay building, while a few of the offices are located in the building adjoining, which is used three months of each alternate year as the General Assembly halls. The aggregate rent paid per annum for these rooms is: For the Barclay building, $15,548, and for the assembly rooms, $6,437.50, making the total amount paid for rent of rooms, $21,985.50.

The first step toward the erection of the Capitol building, according to present designs, was taken in 1881, the question of permanent location having been settled in 1880, by vote of the people, in favor of Denver. But it was not until 1883 that the Legislature made its first appropriation ($150,000) for the construction of a wing to the building, a part of the present plan, the work to be under the control and supervision of a board of seven managers, the governor to be chairman, and the remaining six members to be—John L. Routt, Dennis Sullivan, George W. Kassler, Alfred Butters, E. S. Nettleton, and W. W. Webster. At the same session a bill to provide for the creation of a bonded indebtedness on behalf of the State, to the amount of $300,000, was passed and afterwards ratified by a vote of the people.

The Board of Managers, after a thorough examination of the subject, and being fully advised in the premises, decided that a State House for Colorado should not be built piecemeal, but as a whole, and that it could not be erected under existing laws. The block of ground adjoining the capitol and fronting on Broadway was purchased for $100,000. The Board selected the plans presented by E. E. Myers, of Detroit, Mich. Here begins the real history of construction. Interesting it may be, but the story of how these massive blocks of chiselled granite have come from the lofty heights of yonder Rocky mountains, and taken their places of exact symmetry and measurement in these massive walls, is reached through a long, tedious and perplexing detail of facts which need not be recited. The contract for the construction was originally let to W. D. Richardson, but was subsequently re-let to Geddis & Seerie, the present contractors. Fort Collins sandstone was selected for the foundation, and a white sandstone from Gunnison county for the superstructure. And thus the work started on its faltering way under the act of the Fifth General Assembly, which act continued the Board of Managers as originally constituted, and fixed the extreme limit of expenditure at $1,000,000. Later, Mr. Michael Spangler was elected a member of the Board of Managers in place of Mr. W. W. Webster, resigned and removed from the State.

By an Act of the last General Assembly it was provided that the Board of Capitol Managers should consist of five members, the Governor to be Chairman. John L. Routt, Otto Mears, Benjamin F. Crowell and Charles J. Hughes, Jr., were appointed by the Governor, and confirmed by the Senate, as members of the Board. It is provided in this Act that the building shall be constructed, instead of sandstone, originally chosen, of granite, brick and iron, and, as far as practicable, of Colorado productions. The limit of the cost was extended to $2,000,000, and the time of the completion of the building to January 1, 1898. At the same session a bill to provide for the creation of an additional bonded indebtedness on behalf of the State, to the amount of $250,000, was passed, which proposition was submitted to a vote of the people last November, and was defeated. Had these bonds been voted, the earlier completion of the Capitol building would have been assured. The annual interest upon these bonds would have been less than $10,000, while the annual amount paid by the State for rent is more than double this sum. The Board selected the granite from Gunnison county, and entered into a supplemental contract with Messrs. Geddis & Seerie for its use in the superstructure. Mr. Peter Gumry was retained as Superintendent, and Mr. Thomas Mullen as Assistant Superintendent. Under present provision, the work is progressing satisfactorily, with every prospect that, if no untoward event shall arise to suspend or hinder operations, the building will be completed within the time specified. What sum of money there has been expended on the building to date, and the sums that have been realized from taxes and from the sale of lots and lands, are questions natural to all citizens of the Commonwealth.

CAPITOL BUILDING BONDS.

In accordance with an Act of the Fourth General Assembly, entitled "An Act to provide for the creation of a bonded indebtedness, on behalf of the State, to the amount of three hundred thousand dollars, to aid in the erection of a State Capitol building in the City of Denver, and for the submission of the question to a vote of the qualified electors of the State," (Page 39 of the Session Laws of 1883, and Page 157, Chapter XIII, General Statutes, 1883,) the Board of Commissioners of the State Debt, created under said Act, convened at the Governor's office on December 13, 1889, there being present :

Hon. Job A. Cooper, Governor;

Hon. James Rice, Secretary of State;

Hon. W. H. Brisbane, State Treasurer;

Hon. L. B. Schwanbeck, State Auditor.

The following resolution was introduced by Auditor Schwanbeck :

WHEREAS, There was an Act passed by the Fourth General Assembly to provide for the erection of a bonded indebtedness, on behalf of the State, to the amount of $300,000, to aid in the erection of a Capitol building in the City of Denver, and for the submission of the question to a vote of the qualified electors of the State; and

WHEREAS, On Tuesday, November 6, 1883, at the first regular election following the passage of said Act, the question of said bonded indebtedness was ratified by the qualified electors of the State, as shown by the result of the canvass of the vote thereon; and

WHEREAS, The money to be derived from said bonded indebtedness will soon be necessary to carry on the construction of the Capitol building; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That for the purpose of raising the necessary money to carry on the construction of the Capitol building, there be issued, under and in accordance with the provisions of said Act, three hundred thousand dollars in Capitol-building bonds in one series, numbered from No. 1 to No. 300, both numbers inclusive, of the denomination of one thousand dollars each, and payable, fifteen years from the date of issue, at the office of the State Treasurer, in the City of Denver, Colorado, or at the Chemical National Bank of New York, at the option of the holder, with interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per centum, evidenced by coupons attached to the said bonds, payable semi-annually at the office of the State Treasurer, in the City of Denver, or at the Chemical National Bank, in the City of New York.

On motion of Secretary of State Rice, seconded by State Treasurer Brisbane, the resolution was unanimously adopted.

The State Treasurer stated to the Board, that when the bonds were issued he would purchase the entire $300,000 issue of Capitol-building bonds, at par, for investment in State funds in his hands at that time available.

On June 25, 1890, the Board of Commissioners of the State Debt unanimously adopted the following resolution:

WHEREAS, It is necessary to issue Capitol-building bonds to raise money to continue the construction of the Capitol building now in course of erection; therefore, be it

Resolved, That there be signed, sealed, executed and registered on July 1, 1890, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($150,000) in in Capitol-building bonds of the authorized issue of $300,000, in form as adopted by the Board, and that they be sold to the State Treasurer, at par, for investment in such State funds as are available for that purpose, and that the first six months' interest-coupons, falling due July 1, be detached and cancelled and turned over to the State Treasurer.

Of this issue, there have been placed to the credit of the Capitol-building fund $150,000.

The last General Assembly provided, by an Act, for the creation of an additional bonded indebtedness on behalf of the State, to aid in the erection of a Capitol building, to the amount of $250,000, which proposition was submitted to a vote of the qualified electors at the general election held November 5, 1889, and was defeated.

The State therefore is left to its existing resources for Capitol building purposes. The amounts available for the fiscal year commencing December 1, 1890, will be as follows:

Cash in Treasury.....	$ 58,869.06
Capitol-building bonds.....	150,000.00
Taxes due (estimated).....	90,000.00

APPENDIX "A."

MODIFIED CONTRACT FOR THE WORKMANSHIP AND MATERIALS REQUIRED FOR THE STATE CAPITOL BUILDING OF THE STATE OF COLORADO—CHANGE FROM SAND-STONE TO GRANITE

This memorandum of agreement, Made and entered into this 26th day of June, A. D. 1889, by and between the Board of Capitol Managers of the State of Colorado, party of the first part, and William Ford Geddis and David Duff Seerie, of the City of Denver and State of Colorado, parties of the second part:

Witnesseth, That whereas the above mentioned parties of the first and second part did, upon the fifth day of June, A. D. 1888, enter into an agreement in writing whereby said second parties obligated themselves to build the Colorado State Capitol building, at the City of Denver, Colorado, and for the consideration and according to the plans and specifications, and according to the conditions in said agreement specifically set out, which said agreement appears, in printed form, on pages 65 to 72, inclusive, of the Third Biennial Report of the Board of Capitol Managers to the General Assembly of the State of Colorado.

And whereas, Said contract and agreement provided that the superstructure of said Capitol building shall be built of stone from the Gunnison quarry, in Gunnison county, Colorado, thereby meaning that the superstructure of said Capitol building shall be built of sandstone;

And whereas, By an act of the Seventh General Assembly, entitled "An act to provide for the erection and completion of said Capitol building, at the City of Denver, and creating a Board of Management and Supervision," approved April 1st, 1889, and by a further act of said Assembly, entitled "An act relating to the construction of the State Capitol building, and appropriating funds therefor," approved April 6th, 1889, the said Board of Capitol Managers are directed to erect said superstructure of said Capitol building of granite instead of sandstone;

And whereas, The said act last above mentioned authorizes the Board of Capitol Managers to "make such changes in existing contracts as may be required by the proposed change of material;"

And whereas, The said Board of Capitol Managers have ordered and directed that said superstructure of said Capitol building shall be built of granite from the Zugelder quarry, on the Beaver creek, and about ten miles from the town of Gunnison, in Gunnison county, Colorado;

And whereas, It is agreed by and between the parties hereto that said contract shall be, and hereby is, modified to the extent that the material to be used in the erection of said superstructure of said Capitol building shall be the said granite above mentioned, in the place and stead of the sandstone mentioned therein;

And whereas, It has been ascertained by the said Board of Capitol Managers that the actual additional cost, at regular and fair prices, of completing said superstructure of said Capitol building out of said granite, instead of the sandstone mentioned in said contract, dated the fifth day of June, A. D. 1888, is the sum of $471,396.75;

Now, therefore, In consideration of the premises, and of the further consideration of the sum of four hundred and seventy-one thousand three hundred and ninety-six dollars and seventy-five cents, which said sum the first party agrees to pay the second parties, in addition to the consideration provided for in the contract of June 5th, 1888, and at such times and under such conditions and restrictions as are provided in the said contract of June 5th, 1888, it is agreed by and between the parties hereto that Geddis & Seerie, parties of the second part, shall and will complete and finish the superstructure of the said State Capitol building out of granite from the Zugelder quarry, situate on the Beaver creek, about ten miles from the Town of Gunnison, in Gunnison county, Colorado, using said granite in lieu and place of sandstone wherever by said contract, or by any specification, writing or other paper made part thereof, or referred to therein, the said parties of the second part were allowed or required to use sandstone.

It is further expressly understood and agreed by and between the parties hereto, That the sole object and intent of this agreement is to modify said contract, dated June 5th, 1888, to the extent only of substituting said above-described granite for the sandstone mentioned in said contract, and of paying the contractors the reasonable increased cost arising by reason of said substitution, but that said contract shall be and remain in full force and effect in every other particular, specification, condition and provision, and said contract, with all its said particulars, specifications, conditions and provisions, is here made a part of this agreement the same as it were fully set forth herein, except to the extent of the modification aforesaid.

It is further stipulated and agreed by and between the parties hereto, That this contract shall not take effect or be in force until the parties of the second part shall give a good and sufficient bond, with security, to be approved by the party of the first part, in the sum of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000).

Conditioned, That the said parties of the second part will fully complete and perform all the obligations of this agreement, and of the agreement made a part hereof; said bond to run to the People of the State of Colorado.

Sealed with our seals and dated this 28th day of June, 1889.

The conditions of the above obligation are such, That whereas the above bounden William Ford Geddis and David Duff Seerie did, on the fifth day of June, A. And whereas, The said contract, dated June 5, 1888, was, by the said Board of Capitol Managers and by the said Geddis and Seerie, on the 26th day of June, 1889, modified by the execution of another and additional contract, whereby the contract dated June 5, 1888, was changed in the particular that the sandstone mentioned therein was not to be used, but that granite was to be substituted in lieu and stead thereof, in erecting the superstructure of said Capitol building; and whereby the said Geddis and Seerie were to receive from the Board of Capitol Managers additional compensation for said change of material; and whereby it was provided that all other provisions of said contract, dated June 5, 1888, were to remain in full force and effect and be a part of said additional contract; all which matters and things fully appear in said contract, dated the 26th day of June, 1889.

Now, therefore, If the above bounden, William Ford Geddis and David Duff Seerie, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, or any of them, shall well and truly perform, fulfill and keep each and all of the covenants and agreements specified and contained in said certain contract, dated the 5th day of June, 1888, as aforesaid, between parties aforesaid, as well as those contained and specified in certain plans and specifications, signed and executed as aforesaid, and mentioned and made a part of said contract, and each and all of them, as said contract has been changed and modified by said contract dated the 26th day of June, 1889, by and between the parties aforesaid; and if the above bounden, William Ford Geddis and David Duff Seerie, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, or any of them, shall well and truly perform, fulfill and keep each and all of the covenants and agreements specified and contained in said certain contract dated the 26th day of June, 1889; and if the said William Ford Geddis and David Duff Seerie, their heirs, executors, administrators and assigns, or any of them, shall well and truly keep and perform each and every obligation, covenant and agreement which ought to be performed, fulfilled and kept, according to the true intent and meaning of said contracts and each of them, then the above obligation shall be void; otherwise to remain in full force and effect.

And it is expressly understood and agreed:

5th. That in all and every other particular and detail, said material shall be furnished according to the printed plans and specifications of E. E. Myers for said Capitol building, and this day signed by the respective parties hereto, wherein in any particular said plans and specifications relate to such material, or to the general obligations of contractors; it being understood that the beams to be furnished hereunder shall be as near the said plans and specifications as are now rolled in American mills.

First party agrees to pay the party of the second part, for said material so to be furnished as aforesaid, the sum of thirty-two thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight dollars ($32,878).

Payments of said sum shall be made monthly, upon the estimate of the Superintendent of the work on said Capitol building, of the amount of said material on hand.

The said party of the first part shall reserve each month ten per centum of the amount due, according to the aforesaid estimate, until the entire completion of this contract. Should it be necessary or expedient, for any reason, to increase or use more of the quantity of said material than is provided for in this contract, then and in that case said second party shall furnish such material at and for the price of four dollars and seventy-nine cents ($4.79) per hundred weight, and according to the terms and conditions as to the manner and time of delivery, as herein provided.

In witness whereof, The parties have hereto set their proper hands and seals, in duplicate, the day and year first above mentioned.

ACTS
OF THE
SEVENTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE STATE OF COLORADO,
RELATING TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF A CAPITOL BUILDING.

AN ACT

TO PROVIDE FOR THE CREATION OF AN ADDITIONAL BONDED INDEBTEDNESS BY THE STATE, TO THE AMOUNT OF TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS, TO AID IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE STATE CAPITOL BUILDING.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. There shall be submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of the State of Colorado, at the general election occurring in November, 1899, for their ratification, a proposition to create a bonded indebtedness of the State, to the amount of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, the same to be additional to the indebtedness of three hundred thousand dollars heretofore authorized by the qualified electors, under an act approved February 11, 1883; the bonds representing such indebtedness to be due and payable in fifteen years from the date of issue, and to bear interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent. per annum, and not to be sold for less than their par value, the proceeds thereof to be used in the construction of the State Capitol building.

SEC. 2. The Secretary of State shall, at least thirty days prior to said general election, make out and cause to be delivered to the county clerk of each county in the State a notice, in writing, stating that at such general election the question of voting said bonded indebtedness will be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State; and the county clerk of each county shall thereupon give notice in writing of such election, and by causing the same to be published in a newspaper having general circulation in the county, and sending a copy of such notice by mail to the judges of election in each precinct, to be posted at the place of voting at least fifteen days before the date of said election.

SEC. 3. All persons voting on the question shall vote by separate ballot, which shall be deposited in a box to be used for that purpose only, on which ballot shall be printed the words, "For the creation of an additional bonded indebtedness of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars to aid in the erection of a State Capitol building;" or, "Against the creation of an additional bonded indebtedness of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars to aid in the erection of a State Capitol building." The vote so cast on the question of the creation of said bonded indebtedness shall be canvassed and the result determined in the same manner as provided by the laws of this State for the canvass and return of representatives in Congress.

SEC. 4. The board of commissioners of the State debt, as created by an act of the General Assembly, entitled "An act to provide for the creation of a bonded indebtedness on behalf of the State, to the amount of three hundred thousand dollars, to aid in the construction of a State Capitol building in the City of Denver, and for the submission of the question to a vote of the qualified electors of the State," approved February 11, 1883, shall have a like power and authority in respect to said additional bonded indebtedness as by said act was conferred upon said board in respect to the bonded indebtedness of three hundred thousand dollars, as created by said act and the ratification thereof by the qualified electors of the State of Colorado. If a majority of the votes lawfully cast shall be in favor of the creation of such indebtedness, then said board of commissioners shall proceed to carry out the provisions of this act by the issue of coupon bonds of the State of Colorado, as hereinafter set forth; the bonds issued shall be comprised in one series of two hundred and fifty bonds, numbered from number one to number two hundred and fifty, both numbers inclusive, to be of the denomination of one thousand dollars each, with interest at a rate to be determined by said board, but not to exceed six per cent. per annum, to be evidenced by coupons attached to said bonds, and to be paid semi-annually at the office of the State Treasurer, at the city of Denver, or at such bank or banking house in the City of New York as said board may designate. The principal of said bonds shall be due and payable in fifteen years from date of issue at the office of the State Treasurer. All the bonds issued under this act shall be registered in the office of the State Auditor, and his certificate of such registry and the seal of his office shall be affixed to each bond, which certificate and seal shall be evidence of their legal issue.

SEC. 5. The bonds issued under this act shall be known as "Capitol-Building Bonds, Second Series," and shall be signed by the Governor of the State, countersigned by the State Treasurer and attested by the Secretary of State, who shall affix the great seal of the State to each bond. They shall be numbered and registered in a book kept for that purpose by the State Treasurer, in the order in which they are issued. Each bond shall state upon its face the amount for which it is issued, to whom issued, for what purpose issued, the date of its issue and the title of this act, the text of which shall be printed on the reverse side of each bond.

SEC. 6. Whenever the bonds are issued, as provided in this act, it shall be the duty of the State board of equalization to levy and assess a special tax on all the taxable property in the State, sufficient in amount to discharge the interest accruing thereon and payable half yearly; which tax, when collected, shall [be] paid into the State treasury to the credit of the interest fund. And for the ultimate redemption of said bonds, there shall be levied annually for five years, after nine years from the date of their issue, such tax upon all the taxable property in the State as shall create a yearly fund equal to twenty per cent. of the whole amount of the bonds issued; which fund shall be called "The Capitol-Building Bond Sinking Fund," and all taxes for interest on and for the redemption of such bonds shall be levied and collected as other State taxes, and shall be paid into the State treasury in cash only. The proceeds thereof shall be kept by the State Treasurer as special and distinct funds under their respective heads, to be used in paying of interest on and for the redemption of such bonds only, or for their purchase as hereinafter provided, and for no other purpose whatever: Provided, That whenever any surplus remains to the credit of the interest fund after the full payment of the interest maturing in any year, the said board of commissioners shall cause such surplus to be transferred to the credit of the "Capitol-Building Bond Sinking Fund." All moneys belonging to the said sinking fund may be invested by said board of commissioners in such of the Capitol-building bonds issued by virtue of the act of the General Assembly, approved February 11, 1883, providing for the creation of a bonded indebtedness in behalf of the State, to the amount of three hundred thousand dollars, to aid in the construction of a Capitol building in the City of Denver, and of those issued under and by virtue of the provisions of this act, and also in any other bonds lawfully issued by this State as may be obtainable, or in the registered bonds of the United States, as in the judgment of said board may best serve the interest of the State. The said board of commissioners of the State debt shall, whenever called upon, report to the General Assembly the condition of said sinking fund and the amount of the same, and how invested.

SEC. 7. For the payment of the coupons representing the first year's interest accruing on the bonds to be issued under this act, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to apply any moneys at that time in his hands belonging to the Capitol-building fund, such moneys so used to be restored by him to the said fund, by transfer from the interest fund as soon as a sufficient amount is received into the said interest fund from the collection of interest tax, as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 8. When any of the bonds issued under this act are purchased or redeemed, it shall be the duty of said board of commissioners to cancel the same, so that they can be plainly identified, and cause the record of such cancellation to be made on the bond registry books of the State Treasurer and State Auditor.

SEC. 9. The said board of commissioners shall be authorized to prescribe the form of the bonds to be issued under this act, and of the coupons thereto; and when said issue is made as hereinbefore provided, the board shall be authorized to dispose of the same for cash, and deposit the proceeds thereof with the State Treasurer to the credit of the Capitol-building fund, to be used in aid of the erection of a Capitol building for the State of Colorado, in such manner as may be provided by the acts of the General Assembly.

SEC. 10. This act shall not be revised, amended or repealed until the total amount of the indebtedness herein provided for is fully paid and discharged.

Approved April 8, 1889.

AN ACT

TO PROVIDE FOR THE ERECTION AND COMPLETION OF A STATE CAPITOL BUILDING AT THE CITY OF DENVER, AND CREATING A BOARD OF MANAGEMENT AND SUPERVISION.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. That for the purpose of completing a State Capitol building for the State of Colorado, at the City of Denver, in said State, there is hereby established a Board of Capitol Managers, to direct and supervise the construction of the same. The said board shall consist of five members. The Governor of the State shall be a member and the chairman of said board, and the Governor shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, on or before April 1, 1889, to appoint four (4) members of said board, whose term of office shall be until the entire completion and furnishing of said Capitol building and the full acceptance of the same by the State of Colorado. Said board shall discharge the duties created and imposed upon it by this act. Each member of said board shall receive a salary of twenty-five, hundred (2,500) dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses, not exceeding one hundred dollars in any one year for each member, to be paid monthly out of the Capitol-building fund; the Governor shall not be entitled to any compensation except traveling expenses. The Governor shall have power to fill all vacancies that shall arise in said board until the next session of the General Assembly thereafter, when any appointments to fill vacancies shall be made by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. A majority of said board shall constitute a quorum and be empowered to act in all matters pertaining to the duties of said board. Each of said managers shall give a bond, to be approved by the Governor, in a sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of such duties as may be imposed upon him by law. The Governor shall not give bond by reason of being a member of such board. Said bond shall be deposited with the Secretary of State. The members of said board and their successors shall constitute a body corporate, under the name and style of "The Board of Capitol Managers," with the right of suing and being sued, and of making and using a common seal, and of altering the same at pleasure. They shall have full powers of entering upon all lands leased, donated or purchased for the purpose of erecting and completing a State Capitol building.

SEC. 2. It shall be unlawful for any of the said managers to be connected, either directly or indirectly, in any manner whatsoever, with any contract, or part thereof, for the erection of said Capitol building, or for any work connected therewith, or for the furnishing of any supplies or material therefor, so as to receive any benefit therefrom or the promise of any benefit therefrom, either by way of commission, rebate, bonus, division of profits or otherwise; and any one of said managers who shall violate this provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars, and shall forfeit his right to and be removed from his place in said board. It shall be unlawful for said Board of Capitol Managers to employ any person in the supervision or superintendence of the building of said Capitol, or of any work connected therewith, who may or shall become in any manner connected directly or indirectly with any contract for the erection of said Capitol building, or for the furnishing of any supplies or material therefor; and the said board of managers are hereby charged with the rigid enforcement of this provision of this act.

SEC. 3. The board shall have authority to appoint a Secretary, and remove him at pleasure; they shall allow him such compensation as they shall deem reasonable and just for the services rendered, not exceeding two thousand dollars per annum. The Secretary, before entering upon his duties, shall take and subscribe an oath, before a judge of a court of record, to faithfully perform the duties of his office, and shall also execute a bond, with sufficient sureties, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of the same. He shall keep a record of the proceedings of the board; shall make a record of all contracts and obligations; shall furnish each contractor with a copy of his contract, marked "approved," by order of the board (day and date), and no contract shall be valid until thus endorsed; he shall certify to all vouchers ordered by the board; shall keep a set of books, so as to show the financial condition of the board; shall make yearly statements of the cost of building, and a complete list of vouchers, and for what purpose and to whom paid, which reports the board shall transmit to the General Assembly at its regular session. All contracts for any purpose connected with the building shall be regularly passed upon by the board in session, and shall be recorded by the Secretary in a book kept for that purpose, and a copy shall be made out and certified to by the Secretary and delivered to the other party to the contract; and until such delivery, no contract shall be valid or binding on either party; and the Secretary shall retain in proper files, all vouchers, statements of accounts, and other papers of value or importance to the board, the contractors, or the State. The Secretary shall perform such other duties as may be required of him by the board.

SEC. 4. The board of managers shall have full power to appoint or employ and discharge, at their discretion, an architect and a superintendent and all other employees whose duties shall be prescribed by the board, and such other artisans or laborers that may be required in the prosecution of the work of building and furnishing said Capitol building; and shall allow such compensation for such services as they shall deem just and reasonable; but no such person or persons appointed or employed shall have any interest whatsoever in any contract on or about said Capitol building, directly or indirectly. The board shall also have full power, and it shall be its duty, to require of all superintendents, contractors, material men and persons employed, good and sufficient bonds of undoubted sufficiency and solvency, conditioned for the faithful performance of all duties delegated and contracts made for the construction of said building and for the complete furnishing thereof.

SEC. 5. All labor, material, transportation or construction required by provisions of this act shall be done and furnished by contract. The board is authorized to contract for the construction and completion of the entire building by a contractor, who may undertake the whole work, or the said board may divide the work into appropriate classes, and make separate contracts as to either of them, as may be for the best interest of the State. All lettings of the work exceeding in amount the sum of five hundred dollars shall be advertised in two daily newspapers of general circulation for not less than ten days. In all contracts the interest of the State shall be protected by proper bonds, to be determined by said board. Each of the sureties shall be bona fide residents of Colorado: Provided, That no such bonds shall be in a sum less than one-quarter of the contract price. All contracts with the builders, architects, engineers, superintendents or material men shall reserve the right of the board, for good cause shown, to annul the contract, and the board shall make no allowance for damages, only for expenses incurred and for labor performed. Such a per cent., not less than ten, as in the judgment of the board shall deem proper, shall be reserved from payments on monthly estimates on work contracted, until such work shall have been completed, inspected, and accepted. All material contracted for shall be of the best quality, and the directions, plans and specifications of the work shall be executed by skilled and reputable architects, contractors, artists, mechanics, and laborers.

SEC. 6. The Board of Capitol Managers so appointed shall have and hereby is given power and authority, where the kind of material to be used in the construction of the Capitol building is not specifically fixed by law, to make such changes in the use of the material as it may deem for the best interests of the State: Provided, That the total cost for the erection, completion and furnishing of said Capitol building, including steam heating apparatus and all other fixtures, shall in no event exceed the sum of two million dollars, it being understood that it is the object of this act to restrict the aggregate and entire cost of the Capitol building and the furnishing of the same to this sum; and the Board of Capitol Managers appointed in compliance with the provisions of this act shall have this object in view, and all contracts awarded and plans accepted shall be awarded and accepted only after the board shall be satisfied that the cost of the building when completed and furnished shall not exceed this amount.

SEC. 7. It shall be the duty of said Board of Capitol Managers, pending the construction of said building, to submit to the next General Assembly a full statement of all contracts made by it in and about said Capitol building, and a full statement of all moneys spent by it since the creation of this board; and it shall, at such regular session of the General Assembly, until the completion and furnishing of said building, furnish to the said General Assembly a detailed report of the acts and doings of said Board of Capitol Managers.

SEC. 8. The said Capitol building shall be built of granite, stone, brick and iron, as far as practicable, and all the materials used in the construction and furnishing of the same shall be those found and procured in the State of Colorado, provided the same can be procured in said State as cheap as material of like quality in other localities. Said Capitol building shall contain all of the chambers, rooms, corridors, halls, safes, vaults and other apartments as provided in the plans already adopted for the construction of a Capitol building, and may contain such other rooms, corridors, vaults and chambers as said Board of Capitol Commissioners may deem necessary and for the best interest of the State, which can be provided for without materially altering the plans already adopted for the construction of a Capitol building. Said building shall also have the most improved methods of heating, draining, and ventilation. The hall of the House of Representatives and the Senate chamber of said building shall each be furnished with Safford's yea and nay machine.

SEC. 9. Said Board of Capitol Managers shall divide the cost of labor and expenditure for the erection, completion and furnishing of said Capitol building, so that there shall not be expended in any one year an amount in excess of the appropriation for that year; and the entire construction and furnishing of said Capitol building shall be completed by the first day of January, A. D. 1893.

SEC. 10. That all disbursements of the fund known as the "Capitol-building fund," for the construction of the Capitol building, shall be made by said board of managers in regular sessions for all labor performed, work done or material furnished, by a close examination of the bills presented for services rendered, and if found correct, they shall audit the same and issue a voucher certifying that the services have been rendered and the owner thereof entitled to a warrant on the treasury for the amount therein named. Upon the presentation of said voucher to the Auditor of State, he shall draw his warrant on the State treasury for the amount stated, and to the order of the person named in said voucher: Provided, always, That no voucher shall be issued to exceed the amount appropriated for each year. All vouchers issued shall be recorded in a book kept for that purpose.

SEC. 11. The word "person," wherever used in this act, shall be treated as meaning corporation, partnership or association, as well as natural person, and both the word "person" and the word "contractor" shall be held to mean the plural as well as the singular number.

SEC. 12. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and an act entitled "An Act to provide for the erection of a State Capitol building at the City of Denver and creating a board of management and supervision, and appropriating funds therefor," approved April 1, 1885, are hereby repealed: Provided, always, The repeal of said act or acts shall in no manner affect any cause of action or liability, either in favor of or against the Board of Capitol Managers to be appointed, or in favor of or against any individual, company or corporation, which may have accrued, or may hereafter accrue, by reason of any contract, bond or other agreement made under said acts hereby repealed, but all said causes of action may be prosecuted by or against the Board of Capitol Managers appointed under this act as the successors in office of said former Board of Capitol Managers, in the same manner and with the same effect as if said acts had not been repealed.

SEC. 13. Inasmuch as the progress in the construction of said Capitol building has necessarily and unavoidably been much delayed, in the opinion of the General Assembly an emergency exists, and this act shall be in force from and after its passage.
Approved April 1, 1889.

AN ACT

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. That for the purpose of changing the material to be used in the construction of the State Capitol building from sandstone to granite, of equal quality, texture and crushing strength of the present base course of the said Capitol building, to properly cut and finish the granite in a suitable manner, in order that the exterior of said Capitol building may correspond with the architectural design thereof, and to change the material to be used in the woodwork of said Capitol building from soft wood to hard wood, and to more thoroughly and completely finish said Capitol building, the maximum limit of cost of said building is hereby increased to two million dollars: Provided, The Board of Capitol Managers are unable to complete and finish said Capitol building, as herein provided, for less cost; and the time within which said building is to be completed is extended to January 1, A. D. 1893.

SEC. 2. The Board of Capitol Managers are authorized to make such changes in existing contracts as may be required by the proposed change of material, and to make such other and additional contracts as may be necessary to complete said building: Provided, That the total cost of said building when fully complete shall not exceed the sum of two million dollars.

SEC. 3. That the sum of five hundred thousand dollars for the year 1889 and the further sum of four hundred thousand dollars for the year 1890 are hereby appropriated out of any funds created by levy or otherwise, for the construction of the State Capitol building, and from such other funds as may become part of what is known and styled the Capitol-building fund; said appropriations to be in addition to the unexpended appropriations heretofore made.

SEC. 4. In the opinion of the General Assembly an emergency exists; therefore this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 6, 1889.

AN ACT

TO TRANSFER AND APPROPRIATE THE FUNDS NOW TO THE CREDIT OF THE PUBLIC BUILDING INCOME FUND AND THE PUBLIC BUILDING LAND PERMANENT FUND TO THE CREDIT OF THE CAPITOL BUILDING FUND.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Colorado:

SECTION 1. The entire sum now standing to the credit of those certain funds known as and designated the public building income fund and the public building land permanent fund, together with such further sums of money as may, during the years 1889 and 1890, be paid in to the credit of said several funds, are hereby transferred and appropriated to the Capitol-building fund for the purpose of aiding in the construction of the State Capitol building.
